Andrew Carnegie Gives More Millions to the City of Pittsburgh.

IRONMASTER LOOSENS HIS PURSE STRINGS AGAIN

Endowment of the Institute Increased $1,000,000, While a Similar Amount Goes to the Maintenance Fund of New Polytechnic School--Approves Committee's Work.

THE SITE ADJOINING SCHENLEY PARK IS CHOSEN

Andrew Carnegie gave an additional $2,000,000 to Pittsburgh yesterday. One-half of this amount goes to the endowment fund of the Carnegie institute. The rest will be used as an additional endowment of the new polytechnical school.

This announcement was made shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute. The board adopted plans for the building of the new school. It will be erected after the style of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The discussion of a site for the school waxed warm among the members of the board. Before the close of the meeting a resolution was offered and adopted selecting the plot of ground in Forbes street extending from the boulevard drive of Schenley park to Bouquet street.

Toward the close of his conference with the board of trustees yesterday evening Mr. Carnegie made his announcement of an additional $1,000,000 for the endowment fund of the institute and of $1,000,000 for the endowment of the polytechnical school.

The members of the board of directors arose in their seats and cheered the great ironmaster to the echo. Then a tiger was proposed by John Caldwell, a member of the board, and each member responded. The meeting was finally brought to a close with three hearty cheers for Mr. Carnegie.

After the meeting Col. Samuel Harden Church, on behalf of the newspaper men, asked Mr. Carnegie to make a statement.

The steel king turned in the doorway and said: "It is not a sermon you want, I hope?" When assured not he said:

"This is my first visit to Pittsburgh in a new capacity. I have looked forward to it with positive dread, but now since the ice has been broken my visit here has been one of the happiest I have ever made. I am fully reconciled to my retirement and now have nothing to do with the making of smoke in Pittsburgh. I always feel the deepest interest in Pittsburgh, and I want the technical school and institute to go right ahead."

DISCUSSED PLANS FOR THE POLYTECHNICAL SCHOOL.

Following his conference of yesterday with the committee on plan and scope of the new polytechnical school Mr. Carnegie met the board of trustees in the board rooms of the Carnegie Steel Company in the Carnegie building. The conference lasted nearly three hours. At the meeting there were 32 of the 36 members present.

Addresses were made by Recorder Adam M. Brown and Director of Public Works Edward M. Bigelow and several others.

Mr. Carnegie suggested the polytechnical school in a letter to the institute trustees last November. He asked the board to appoint a committee to look after the matter, and also asked that the following men be taken into this committee as experts:

Prof. Robert H. Thurston, director of the Sibley College of Engineering, Cornell university.

Prof. Victor C. Alderson, dean of the Armour institute, Chicago.

Prof. Thomas Gray of the Rose Polytechnic institute, Terre Haute, Ind.

Prof. J. B. Johnson, dean of the engineering department of the University of Wisconsin.

Committee Went Slow.

The committee spent much time in perfecting plans and finally submitted their report to the board, and later to Mr. Carnegie. They recommended an appropriation of $5,000,000 to build and equip the building and $1,000,000 as an endowment.

When the plans were presented to Mr. Carnegie and he had considered them at length he expressed himself as much pleased with everything but the site. He said that the new school buildings should locate in close proximity to the Carnegie institute.

Mr. Carnegie stated at the meeting that he would erect the polytechnical school regardless of cost, and equip it if the city furnishes the site. The site, as selected, is owned by Mrs. Mary Schenley, with the exception of the Oakland Methodist Episcopal church. The property has been held under option by the city for some time. "The city has money enough in bank to pay for the site," said Col. Samuel Harden Church, after the meeting yesterday, "and I believe the deal will be closed without delay." The plan to secure a site of 60 acres was not thought to be a practical one for the city. Recorder Brown and Director Bigelow argued against it, as did also Mr. Carnegie. The two city officials gave Mr. Carnegie every assurance that the city would meet all his requirements regarding the new school.

The committee of plan and scope, consisting of William McConway, chairman; W. A. Magee, William L. Scaife and Prof. John A. Brashear were retained and the matter of the site was referred to the committee on municipal relations, which is composed of Robert Pitcairn, chairman; John B. Jackson and A. W. Mellon.

Students at the new school of technology will be charged a tuition fee. This was definitely decided upon yesterday. The committee of plan and scope in their report recommended that a fee of between $200 and $300 be charged each student each year. While no definite fee has yet been fixed, it is thought these figures are nearly correct.

Mr. Carnegie called attention to the fact that the acreage of the great Pratt institute of Brooklyn was only three and one-half acres, while the Armour institute of Chicago occupied one-half an acre. "If the students want a playground," said Mr. Carnegie, "if the site is selected on the proposed ground of the Schenley estate, they can have the whole 400 acres of Schenley park to roam and romp in."

Mr. Carnegie will erect from one to twenty buildings for the school, as the committee of plan and scope may deem necessary. The equipment will be lavish, and is expected alone to cost over $1,000,000. In all Mr. Carnegie has given about $9,700,000 to Pittsburgh. When the new school is completed his gifts will reach almost $15,000,000. The Carnegie library in Schenley park cost him $820,000 and the branch libraries $300,000. He has given $3,600,000 for an addition to the library buildings, to be erected as soon as the city furnishes the site.

"The property for the new polytechnical school will be easily obtained," said Director of Public Works Edward M. Bigelow at his home last night. "Mr. Carnegie and I have spent much time looking over the property since his visit to the city and on Monday he became more convinced than ever that the site near the park was the right one. The city had an option on this property some time ago, but I am not sure whether it has expired or not. The property should not cost over $360,000, but Mrs. Schenley at one time asked $500,000 for it."

The extra endowment of $1,000,000 will make a total income for the new school of $100,000 yearly, and as the tuitions received will almost be self-sustaining to the school the remainder of the money will be constantly expended for new equipment and additions.

At the conclusion of the meeting yesterday afternoon the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, That the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute for themselves and on behalf of the people of Pittsburgh desire to express their sincere gratitude to Mr. Andrew Carnegie for these additional proofs of his unlimited generosity toward the city of Pittsburgh."

At a meeting of the Hilltop board of trade last night it was decided to appeal to Andrew Carnegie before his departure from the city for a branch library in the Thirty-first ward. A committee of the board that met with a number of citizens made a report, and the outcome was that it was decided to prepare an appeal for a library and present the same to Mr. John A. Brashear, with the request that he lay the matter before Mr. Carnegie.

MR. CARNEGIE'S GIFTS TO PITTSBURGH.

Philanthropist Has Given Nearly $15,000,000 to Institutions He Has Established in This City.

Carnegie institute	$820,000
Branch libraries	300,000
Addition to Carnegie institute	3,600,000
Endowment fund for Polytechnical school and Carnegie institute	4,000,000
Estimated cost of Polytechnical school and equipment	6,000,000
Total	$14,720,000

These are but a few of the many millions Mr. Carnegie has given for similar purposes. Some time ago he presented $5,000,000 to the universities of Scotland and he has also given $5,500,000 to establish a series of Carnegie libraries in New York.

To the city of Allegheny Mr. Carnegie gave a handsome library, and similar institutions to Homestead, Braddock, Duquesne and Carnegie, and many other American cities.

His donations of church organs are almost countless.

FIRE ALMOST WIPES OUT A SMALL TOWN

Property Valued at $300,000 Is Destroyed by Flames at Thomas, W. Va.

MANY PEOPLE HOMELESS

(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

THOMAS, W. VA., Nov. 12.—Eighty buildings, including the business section of the town and 62 residences, were burned to the ground in three hours this morning. The loss will be $300,000, with about $60,000 insurance, mainly on the business houses.

One hundred families were rendered homeless and the Methodist Episcopal church, one of the few buildings to escape the flames, was thrown open to shelter as many as it would accommodate. For hours women and children, scantily clad, stood watching their burning homes, while the rain beat down on them. While the fire was at its height, thieves went to work. One of the boldest pretended to be a postoffice inspector. From the ashes of the postoffice he secured the safe, and in the presence of a crowd forced it open, took everything of value in it and disappeared.

The fire started in the Leisgerber hotel, either by rats igniting matches or by a lamp exploding. Before it was discovered the flames had made great headway, and there being no water in the town tanks, little could be done to fight the fire, which was aided by a strong wind from the west. To the east of the hotel the ground rises sharply, and the frame dwellings on the slope were consumed so rapidly that the inmates had barely time to escape. Some tried to save a few of their effects, but they could not carry them far enough away to be out of reach of the flames. In the business section the buildings burned more slowly.

In addition to the residences and hotel these buildings were destroyed: Mock's restaurant, McIntyre's broker office, Schilansky's saloon, Joseph Schilansky's store, James Tesla's store, a boarding house, Charles Patsey's fruit stand, Cattriell's saloon, George Schatz's furniture store, Wright's barber shop, McIntyre's opera house, in which was also W. A. Jones' store and the postoffice; J. W. Duncan's residence and undertaking rooms, a restaurant, council chamber and lockup, town pump station and water tank, McGaughlin & Sapp's pool room, Rubenstein's saloon, Record office, Thomas & Ferris' store, Dr. W. Werness' office and residence and a number of other smaller concerns.

Tonight hundreds of persons have left for other towns to seek shelter from the weather, which is becoming inclement.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The Clarksburg woolen mills burned tonight at 8 o'clock. The fire originated in the engine room either by natural gas or spontaneous combustion. The stock room, filled with manufactured goods, and the wool room were saved by heroic effort. The wind blew a gale, and houses hundreds of yards distant caught. The mills were established in 1871, and has been improved with the latest modern machinery. They gave employment to 60 men the year around, and were owned by Richard T. Lowndes. Estimated loss, $75,000; reported insurance, $20,000.

DICKINSON IS NOT TRUSTED BY BRIGANDS

Negotiations for the Release of Miss Stone Are Progressing Very Slowly.

CAPTORS ARE RELIGIOUS

(Special Cable to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

SOFIA, Nov. 12.—Now that Consul General Dickinson has finally opened negotiations with the brigands the Bulgarian government is much more anxious to escape responsibility and to protect the Macedonian committee than to rescue Miss Stone. The brigands have already given Dickinson notice that negotiations must be concluded and the ransom paid in Turkish territory where the outrage occurred. By this subterfuge they expect to keep the Bulgarian government out of the record and protect it from liability.

The bandits do not trust Dickinson, and he has no confidence in them. The bandits fear not only that he will refuse to pay them, but will have them arrested when they appear for the money. If they surrender their hostage first it will be necessary for him to find some intermediary in whom the bandits have confidence, which is easy enough. Pastor Popoff of the Protestant church of Sofia has the confidence of every native of Bansko, the town from which Miss Stone started the morning she was captured. He is personally known to everybody in the region. He was educated at the Fredonia Hamilton college and the Auburn Theological seminary, and is well known in the United States. The government of Sofia trusts him. Dickinson could not find a better man. If he should send Popoff to Turkey with $25,000 in gold there would be no doubt of Miss Stone's release. The brigands evidently are trying to bolster up their reputation for honesty with him. One of the leading Bulgarian merchants in Sofia today sought a gentleman supposed to be in the confidence of the American consul general. After admitting the familiar character and customs of the brigands, he said:

"Miss Stone's captors are honorable men who keep their word. While on the road they abstain from wine and keep the appointed fasts of the church. They never harm prisoners except when betrayed and deceived. They treat them with kindness and respect and even stand respectfully in their presence. When liberated Miss Stone will tell how kind and respectful her captors were. True brigands are always honest men."

This is the universal testimony, and it is also certain that Miss Stone's captors are not ordinary desperadoes, but men of standing in the community and of influence in Macedonian affairs.

MONROEISM TO BE ENFORCED

The President's Message Will Warn European Powers to Stay Out of West Indian and Isthmian Waters.

NO ALIEN COALING STATIONS WILL BE PERMITTED THERE

Caribbean Sea Must Be Considered an American Lake, and the Route of the Coming Isthmian Canal Strategically United States Territory—Our Rights There Independent of the Monroe Doctrine--Police Control Necessary.

BY WALTER WELLMAN.
(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)
(Chicago Record-Herald Special.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—No European encroachment upon the soil of America, either by direct acquisition or by the purchase of coaling stations, is to be one of the keynotes of President Roosevelt's message to congress. The president will have something to say about the Monroe doctrine and he will speak in no uncertain words. He intends to reaffirm the vital principle of Monroeism and to apply it to modern conditions.

In the president's opinion, a consistent enforcement of the Monroe doctrine requires the United States to object to the establishment of foreign naval stations in the special sphere of American interests and influence—namely, the West Indies, the Caribbean sea and the isthmus of Panama.

On account of the acquisition by the United States of Porto Rico, our suzerainty over Cuba, our contemplated purchase of the Danish islands in the West Indies and the moral certainty that sooner or later the United States will dig an isthmian canal, the interests of the United States assume paramountcy over those of all other powers in that region. The West Indies and the isthmus are, in other words, a zone of American special interest, and the Caribbean is an American sea.

Responsibility on the Isthmus.

To safeguard the rights of the United States in this region, with an ultimate view to protection of the canal, is a purpose near to the heart of President Roosevelt. Hence, his reaffirmation of the Monroe doctrine and hence his desire so to state his position that foreign governments may read between the lines and understand that naval stations are not to be had within striking distance of the proposed canal without incurring the displeasure of the United States.

The United States is undertaking a great responsibility in the isthmus. It proposes to construct a canal costing at least $200,000,000, and perhaps $300,000,000. It undertakes to keep that waterway open to the ships of all nations on equal terms in times of peace. In war times it naturally will have to defend the canal as a part of its coast line, as a central feature of its scheme of national defense. Hence it would be foolishly short-sighted for the United States to permit other great powers to secure a strong foothold in the immediate neighborhood of the canal. It is not the intention of the United States to permit such footholds to be secured.

The policy which the president is about to declare means nothing that can reasonably be construed as an unfriendly disposition toward any foreign power. His language, while of unmistakable significance, will be carefully chosen with a view to avoiding giving offense.

Independent of Monroe Doctrine.

Even if there were no such thing as a Monroe doctrine in existence, still the United States would be justified, according to the usages of nations, in adopting just such measures of self-protection. This is true because the interests of the United States in the isthmus and the adjacent lands and waters are almost infinitely superior to those of other powers.

Whatever may be said about lower South America, which, in comparison with this field of special interest nearer our shores, may be regarded almost as a negligible quantity, the isthmus is about to become virtually a part of the coast line of the United States. The United States does not purpose to seize territory there unless such seizure should become necessary for its protection or for properly carrying out its great purposes; but it cannot, in justice to itself or the great international trusteeship which it is undertaking, permit European powers to entrench themselves therein.

Doubtless the president's utterances on this question will rouse fierce criticism in some parts of Europe—not in England, but on the continent. Such criticism appears when Col. Roosevelt at Minneapolis, a few days before fate called him to the presidency, declared:

"The United States must not shrink from playing its part among the great nations. We cannot avoid hereafter having duties to do in the face of other nations. We do not intend to sanction any policy of aggression by one American commonwealth at the expense of any other, nor any policy of commercial discrimination against any foreign power whatsoever. Commercially, all we wish is a fair field and no favor; but if we are wise, we shall strenuously insist that under no pretext whatever shall there be any territorial aggrandizement on American soil by any European power, and this no matter what form such territorial aggrandizement may take."

In some parts of Europe there has been a similar outburst of feeling about the utterances of Senator Lodge at Boston last Saturday in a like vein.

Must Be No Confusion of Ideas.

If a contest must come over the Monroe doctrine, as it is likely to come during the next generation, the United States should have the advantage of knowing on its side just what the doctrine is and precisely what is its scope and applicability. It also wants to be in the right, and insofar as it takes its stand upon the obvious paramountcy of its interests in the West Indies, the Caribbean sea and the isthmus, it must in the end be acknowledged to be wholly within its rights. It is believed, therefore, that while at first there may be some discontent in the press, and, perhaps, in the public mind of Germany and perhaps other continental countries, this feeling may not extend to the governments themselves, and probably will not be challenged in any way.

The isthmian canal commission will report in favor of the acquisition of absolute control by the United States of a strip of territory across the isthmus about 12 miles wide. It is understood that this strip can be had along either the Nicaragua or Panama route. In the case of the former, and perhaps both, it will be necessary to take a lease of the ground instead of sovereignty, as the constitution of Costa Rica forbids the alienation of any part of the territory of that nation; but a perpetual lease would serve the purposes of the United States quite as well.

Absolute police control is the principal desideratum, in the opinion of members of the commission. They say that within a year after congress authorizes a canal there will be 15,000 negro workmen scattered along the route. It is believed most of these men will be brought from Jamaica. As they will not leave their homes without taking their families with them, the new population of the canal district will quickly run up to 40,000 or 50,000 souls. It is obvious that the police and sanitary regulations of this region must be within the control of the United States. Whether or not the United States will ultimately find it necessary openly to annex the isthmus or any part of it is, of course, a question which only the future can determine.

CRACKER FIRMS ORGANIZE

George A Ward of Pittsburgh Elected Treasurer of the New Association.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 12.—At the afternoon session of the independent cracker bakers a permanent organization was effected in opposition to the National Biscuit Company, under the name of "The Biscuit and Cracker Manufacturers' Association of the United States."

The following officers were elected: H. B. Grubbs of St. Louis, president; first vice president, J. G. Young, Boston; second vice president, Harry Fox of Chicago; third vice president, Edmund Graves, Washington; fourth vice president, T. G. Robinson, Cleveland; secretary, J. W. Callahan, New York; treasurer, George A. Ward, Pittsburgh.

The president, secretary, treasurer and vice presidents are to form the executive committee. The first regular convention—this one being considered a preliminary meeting—will be held in Philadelphia early in February at the call of the president.

Secretary Callahan after the convention adjourned said: "Fifty firms, among them the prominent firms of the country, paid the initiation fee at this meeting and are now enrolled as members."

ST. PAUL DEAL RUMORED.

A Chicago Story Says Union Pacific Has Secured Control, But It Is Denied in New York.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The Daily News today says that the Union Pacific will control the St. Paul, saying the news was imparted by one closely related to the Harriman syndicate. Negotiations looking to the end indicated, it is said, have been concluded, and the Harriman party will take charge of the St. Paul line some time before next January. It is understood that the Union Pacific agreed to pay $200 a share for a majority of the common issue of the St. Paul Company.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Persons interested in the Union Pacific emphatically deny the story of a purchase of the control of the St. Paul. The object of the purchase, according to the report in circulation in Wall street, was to protect the property in the great railroad deal by the Hill-Harriman syndicate. Official statements are made by Kuhn, Loeb and Morgan banking interests, representing the two railroad syndicates, that in the scheme agreed to the rights of the St. Paul road have been COMPULSORY VOTING.

Old Penn and Michigan University Debaters Will Discuss the Proposition.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—The debating committee of the University of Pennsylvania has proposed as a subject for the fourth annual debate with the University of Michigan the following question:

Resolved, "That the system of compulsory voting should be adopted in the United States."

The University of Michigan will have the choice of sides. The debate will be held in Philadelphia on March 7, 1902.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE.

Superintendent of Brick Works Has a Narrow Escape.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—An attempt was made to assassinate H. W. Whitsel, superintendent of Kier Brothers brick works, at Calira, last night. Just after dark he started from the railroad station to his home, half a mile distant. He had not gone far when a bullet whistled past his head. It was followed by another that struck the ground at his feet.

Some time ago the superintendent announced that persons holding anarchistic views would not be employed at the works. Officer James Muffley says a couple of the men in the locality have expressed themselves as favoring anarchy, and have been heard to swear vengeance on those who oppose their views.

THREE WOMEN LEAP FROM FIFTH STORY.

Caught in Burning Building at Cleveland—One Was Fatally Injured.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 12.—A fire that started in the shoe store of N. O. Stone & Co., 46 and 48 Euclid avenue, late this afternoon, caused a loss of $75,000 to that firm. Insurance about 80 per cent of that sum. The jewelry firm of Arnstein Brothers & Mier, on the second floor, lost $40,000, insurance not stated. The upper stories were occupied by physicians, photographers and other tenants. A corset factory owned by Miss Graham, employing about twenty girls, was on the fifth floor.

When the fire broke out all the girls made a rush for the fire escapes and ladders. The fire spread so rapidly that they could not use the fire escapes and a number of the girls were rescued by firemen on ladders, while three of the women, including Miss Graham, jumped from the fifth story into a net held by the firemen below.

When taken to the hospital, Miss Graham was found to have been fatally hurt, her side having been crushed in, spine fractured and an arm broken. She died at the hospital to-night. Other occupants of the building injured were Miss Jeannette Stratton, who jumped from the second-story and sustained a broken hip. She will recover. Kate Mulcahy jumped from the third story, received spinal injuries and a broken leg, not serious. Several other persons were run over or trampled upon by the crowds, but no serious injuries resulted.

Dr. Dowd, dentist, and Chestnutt Brothers, photographers, were other tenants, and their loss is total, the entire building being a mass of wreckage. Lieutenant Granger of Company No. 27, Farrell English of Company No. 2, and Superintendent of Machinery Reikert were incapacitated by reason of injuries received.

CONCERTED ACTION AGAINST RAGTIME.

CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 12.—A call was sent out tonight from the Chicago Federation of Musicians asking for the united effort of all musicians in the United States to make a fight on music of the ragtime variety. The local union declares rag time compositions as "immoral, obscene, degrading and unworthy of production."

FAMOUS LADY CAREW IS DEAD IN ENGLAND

She Danced at the Ball in Brussels the Night Before Fateful Waterloo.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Lady Catherine Jane Carew, grandmother of the present Baron Carew, died yesterday at Woodstown, Waterford, aged 104.

She was a guest at the famous Brussels ball on the evening of the battle of Waterloo, and was a noted beauty at the court of Louis Philippe.

Philadelphian for New Portfolio.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The commercial interests of Philadelphia are strongly in favor of the creation of a department of commerce and industry, with a cabinet officer at its head, and already a Philadelphian has been suggested as well adapted for the new secretaryship of commerce, John H. Converse, well known as a manufacturer and philanthropist.

FINE BLOODED SPAN FOR MRS. ROOSEVELT

General and Admiral Have the Proud Distinction of Being Purchased by the President.

BALTIMORE, MD., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Two handsome cherry bays were purchased by President Roosevelt from Moses Moses, the horse dealer of this city. The animals are magnificent specimens of horseflesh. They stand 16 hands high, weigh 2,350 pounds, and are 5-year-olds. The horses are closely matched in every particular, and there is not a white hair to be found in their glossy coats. They are trotting bred horses, and their pedigree runs in a fine line of blooded stock.

General and Admiral, as the horses have been christened by the chief executive, were sired by Abdallah Belmont, by Lakeland Abdallah (351), by Hambletonian (10), by Red Wichie, Jr., by Red Archie.

The negotiations for the horses were carried through by Arthur G. Hurley of North Adams, Mass., foreman of the White House stables in Washington. Mr. Hurley came to this city last Saturday and inspected the animals. He was much pleased with them. He returned to Washington and described to the president the appearance of the horses and their pedigrees, and entered into the minutest details.

Today Dr. C. E. Brown, veterinary surgeon of the quartermasters' department, U. S. A., came over from Washington and made an examination of the horses, which he pronounced sound and healthy in every respect. On receipt of the information President Roosevelt instructed Mr. Hurley to purchase the animals and convey them at once to Washington. It was impossible to ascertain the exact sum paid for the team by the president, but it is known that the figures approximate $2,000. The team was purchased by the president for his wife, who takes a keen delight in driving behind a pair of blooded horses.

DE WITTE ASKS REASON.

Cannot Comprehend Why Protective Tariffs Don't Protect Russian Producers.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 12.—The persistent complaints of the iron workers and coal miners in regard to the difficulty experienced in disposing of their products and the consequent restrictions in the output, while imports of these products are increasing, are so inexplicable that the finance minister, M. de Witte, has invited the mining congress, in session at Kharkoff, to explain the matter. During the course of a telegram to the congress M. de Witte points out that the imports for the current year to October 1 amounted to 6,621,000 poods of cast iron and cast steel; 3,883,000 poods of machinery, and 184,122,000 poods of coal. "In view," telegraphs the minister, "of the very high duties imposed for the protection of home industries, I ask the congress to explain how the home producers can complain of a lack of market in the face of such considerable imports of products which might be supplied by Russian industry?"

London Aero Club Born in a Balloon Thousands of Feet Above the Surface of the Earth.

(Special Cable to Pittsburgh Gazette.)
(Copyright, 1901, by New York Herald Co.)

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Aero club of the United Kingdom is the latest addition to the world of aerial science. As the name implies, it is intended to be similar in character to its French namesake. It already boasts of a membership of about 150 and bids fair to double that number before the year is out.

The inception of the Aero club was out of the ordinary. Late in September C. S. Rolls, Frank Butler and his daughter, Miss Vera Butler, made a balloon ascent from the Crystal palace under the pilotage of Stanley Spencer, the aeronaut. When at a height of 4,000 feet from the earth the idea occurred simultaneously, both to Mr. Butler and to Mr. Rolls, that it would be a good thing if a club could be formed on the lines of the Automobile club, of which both gentlemen are active members, the object of such a club being to promote aerial sport.

To Miss Butler was given the honor of christening the club in embryo, which she did as the balloon rose another 1,000 feet skyward. The Aero Club of the United Kingdom (Limited) was the formal title bestowed by the fair godmother in midair.

CORPSE GIVEN A THIRD NAME

Louisville Police Refresh Soldier Rathbun's Bad Memory.

NEW CONFESSION IS THEN FORTHCOMING

Admits All Accusations Are True Except That of Murder.

MOTIVE REMAINS THE SAME ALL THROUGH

Wanted a Corpse to Aid in Collecting Insurance and His Companion Accommodated Him by Dying at the Proper Time and Place.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 12.—Newell C. Rathbun, who, according to the police, has confessed that he planned to defraud an insurance company out of $4,000 by pretending that a corpse shipped to Little Rock, Ark., was his own dead body, today admitted, according to the authorities, that the man who accompanied him to the hotel in Jeffersonville, Ind., and was found dead the next day, was Charles Goodman, who is said to have come from Evansville, Ind.

Chief of Detectives Sullivan and Chief Applegate and Coroner Coots of Jeffersonville, interviewed Rathbun today. Rathbun listened as one by one the circumstances which the police regard as proofs of his guilt were laid before him by Chief Sullivan. According to the officers Rathbun suddenly sprang up and walking hastily to a window, looked out for a few minutes. Then, turning like an animal at bay, he faced the crowd of men in the room and asked in a shaking voice:

"What is the punishment for offenses of this kind in Indiana? Does the death penalty exist there?"

"Never mind about the penalty, Rathbun," said Capt. Sullivan, "what we are interested in is the name of the dead man."

For a moment Rathbun looked at the group of faces before him and then said: "You are on the right track. Goodman is the name of the dead man. I met him in front of the Salvation Army hotel and determined to keep him drunk for several days and then fix him."

When questioned further, Rathbun denied having given Goodman laudanum and said he would have made use of chloroform. He then refused to go back to Indiana without requisition papers.

Col. John D. Rodman, United States recruiting officer here, notified Chief Sullivan today that no requisition will be necessary for the return of Rathbun to Jeffersonville, Ind. He says that Rathbun is now a government prisoner charged with desertion, and as soon as he can communicate with Washington he will have the prisoner taken over. The Jeffersonville authorities will make claim for the custody of Rathbun on a charge of murder.

Just before he was taken back to jail Rathbun made the following statement to Chief of Detectives Sullivan:

"I admit everything except that I killed Goodman. I meant to kill him, and kept him drunk for the purpose, but he died of alcoholism and I was not forced to make way with him. Mystery about the accomplice named Blanchard was fictitious. I acted alone and without a confederate."

Blanchard was, according to the story Rathbun told yesterday, a corporal whom Rathbun became acquainted with at Plattsburg, N. Y. It is said that Goodman, who was of a roving nature, came to this city on October 29 and put up at the Salvation Army hotel. He repeatedly told the clerk, J. C. Pelton, that he did not have any money, and did not know how he would get out of the city. Mr. Pelton says that about noon last Wednesday Goodman entered the hotel and remarked that he had "just met an easy mark" who had given him a quarter. "I have an engagement with him tonight, and he is going to show me how to make some money," continued Goodman.

Shortly before 7 o'clock Pelton says he saw Goodman meet a man answering Rathbun's description in front of the hotel. Detective Donahue followed the clue and found that the two men who answer the descriptions of Rathbun and Goodman appeared in the Falls City hotel at Jeffersonville about 8 o'clock.

Rathbun registered for both and they were assigned to different rooms. In about half an hour they appeared in the office and the hotel clerk says that the man whom Rathbun had said was Ten Eyck had changed his attire. The two left the hotel saying they would return.

According to Pelton's story Goodman returned to the Salvation Army hotel shortly after 9 o'clock with a new coat and vest on and also a collar and necktie. Goodman told Pelton to check him off as he was going to spend the night in Indiana with his friends. Goodman then went out and has not been seen at the hotel since.

The Jeffersonville coroner today identified a pair of trousers found in Rathbun's grip as being of a suit the coat and vest of which were on the corpse found at the Falls City hotel.

The Louisville police are not sure that the prisoner's name is Rathbun. It is believed his home is in Detroit. The next step in the case will be to attempt to settle Rathbun's identity, to discover the cause of Goodman's death and whether any arrests yet remain to be made in the case.

TALKED ON RECORDERSHIP.

Important Meeting of Republican Leaders at Penrose's Home. Flinn Not Visible.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—An important conference, the subject of which was the Pittsburgh recordership, was held tonight at the home of Senator Boies Penrose. Among those present were the senator, Insurance Commissioner I. W. Durham, Attorney General John P. Elkin and Select Councilman James P. McNichols, Mr. Durham's right-hand man in local politics. No cards were received and the telephone was out of commission.

Attorney General Elkin reached Philadelphia at 7 o'clock. He was immediately joined at the Hotel Walton by Senator Penrose and Commissioner Durham. They went to the Union league for dinner, and from there to the house of Senator Penrose. It was reported from Pittsburgh that Senator Flinn was here, but he could not be found. Rumor had him at the conference.

When Attorney General Elkin returned to his hotel he positively denied that Flinn, Brown or anyone except Penrose and Durham were at the conference. He declined to express any opinion on the Pittsburgh situation.

RYAN IS AFRAID HE MAY MURDER

NEW CASTLE MAN LOCKED UP AT HIS OWN REQUEST.

Seized By An Overwhelming Desire to Kill, Which He Is Trying to Fight Off—Feels That He Might Slaughter His Family If Allowed to Be At Large—Lawrence County Authorities Puzzled By the Case.

(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 12.—Dennis Ryan is the strangest prisoner ever confined in the Lawrence county jail. He applied to Sheriff James H. Brown and asked to be placed behind the bars, as he was afraid he would murder someone if he was allowed at large. The sheriff accommodated him and he is now in solitary confinement.

Ryan stated to the sheriff that he was going insane from worry, and he feared that he would go home and kill some of his family. Ryan is a middle-aged man, and has resided in this city all his life. He has never been troubled by any mental hallucination before. Ryan does not hesitate to talk, and explains to visitors that he does not wish to have the crime of murder upon his soul, which he feels sure would be the case if he was permitted to be at large. He says he has been seized by an overwhelming desire to kill, and combated the inclination as long as he was able. When it began to overpower him he decided to go to the court house and ask the sheriff, whom he had known from boyhood, to lock him up.

Ryan has not set any length of time as to his stay in the jail, but he will be allowed to remain there until he feels that he can safely have his freedom without attempting to commit murder.

BLEVINS MYSTERY REVIVED.

Action of New Castle Councils in Increasing Reward Causes Comment.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The action of councils last night in reviving the Blevins murder case by taking steps to offer another reward for the apprehension of the murderers is causing much comment. John H. Miller, president of common council, introduced a resolution providing that the city donate $5,000 as a reward for the arrest of the murderers, provided the county commissioners offer a similar amount. The next day after the murder, which occurred Saturday, January 7, 1898, both the commissioners and councils conferred together and offered a reward of $4,000. The commissioners have not decided whether they will again join the city authorities in this matter or not, but public opinion is so strong to have the crime ferreted out that they will likely be forced to follow the lead of the councils.

Today Attorney E. N. Baer, in behalf of ex-City Solicitor W. H. Burns and the bondsmen of the latter, Robert A. McKinney, J. T. Ketler and A. McKinney, filed an answer to the suit recently brought against them to compel the payment of $523 96 of an alleged shortage in the account of Burns with Blevins during the former's term of office from May 2, 1892, to May, 1894. They deny that Burns was short and attribute the shortage found against him to poor bookkeeping on the part of Blevins, which was calculated to deceive as to the true standing of the account.

MANY FAIL TO PASS.

Less Than One-Third of Applicants for Pharmacists and Assistants' Certificates Succeed.

HARRISBURG, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The results of the fall examinations of the state board of pharmacy, held at Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, were made public today by Dr. Charles T. George, secretary of the board. The hundred and eight applicants presented themselves for examination at Philadelphia, and 125 at Pittsburgh. Of this number 133 applied for registered qualified assistant certificates and 200 for registered pharmacists' certificates. Only 37 were successful in passing the examination as registered pharmacists, and 63 as registered qualified assistant pharmacists. Among the successful applicants were:

Registered pharmacists—Charles O. Wherry, Apollo; J. Elmer Macon, Latrobe; Charles J. Fink, Ada, O.; Joseph F. Chapman, East Liverpool, O.; Lewis D. Piper, Coal Center; C. G. Spence, McKees Rocks; W. J. Maybury, Jeannette; Edward E. Boericke, Chicago; Miss Maud L. Minnick, Allegheny; J. T. Catlin, H. K. Hughes, Pittsburgh.

Registered qualified assistant pharmacists—Irwin A. Moore, Greensburg; H. T. Ray, Wilkinsburg; Charles S. Haupt, Blairsville; D. Earl Woods, Franklin; Leon Douglas, McDonald; Howard R. Lytle, Wilmerding; W. E. Kerr, Scottdale; Ethel M. Condick, Brockwayville; Gustav A. Creutzer, McKeesport; O. A. Shrock, Leetonia; James T. Pellerson, Steubenville, O.; F. A. Childs, Allegheny; J. S. Mead, Robert Culhane, Harry Dodgson, John S. Cameron, William P. Kells, Edward C. McAdams, L. A. Weaver, Albert Itel, Samuel S. Lauck, Pittsburgh.

The next meeting of the board for the examination of applications for registration will be held in the Girls' Commercial high school, Philadelphia, Saturday, January 18.

WILL ENLARGE FOUNDRY PLANT

FISCHER FOUNDRY AND MACHINE COMPANY NEED MORE ROOM.

Propose to Build New Grinding and Polishing Machinery for Plate Glass Manufacture That Is Said to Greatly Reduce the Cost of Production—Capitalization of the Company May Be Greatly Increased.

The Fischer Foundry and Machine Company, one of the pioneer producers of rolling mill and plate glass factory machinery of this city, is planning extensive enlargements in operations, which, with the present investment, will aggregate property assets of $500,000. George L. Fischer, the founder of the business and who till recently has been the proprietor, may retire permanently. The company has just been incorporated under the laws of Pennsylvania with a capitalization of $200,000 and, at a meeting to be held soon for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization under the new charter, it is planned to increase this capitalization to $350,000 and possibly $500,000.

At this meeting to organize Fred F., H. B., George L., Jr., and Albert Fischer will be elected as the board of directors. Fred F. Fischer will probably be elected president and H. B. Fischer, secretary, holding the same offices as in the present organization. George L. Fischer, Sr., is now treasurer of the company, which for some time has been doing business as the Fischer Foundry and Machine Company, and at the organization meeting he may relinquish this office. Tentative plans to catch up with the scope of the growing business of the company include the erection of a new plant on as large or a larger scale than the present one at Twenty-first and Mary streets, South Side. Otherwise, the present plant will be further improved and the capitalization made $350,000.

The company has just entered the market with new grinding and polishing machinery for plate glass factories, which bids fair to open a new epoch of advancement in the plate glass industry. The new plate glass machinery is to be manufactured after patents secured on the inventions of Fred F. Fischer, president of the company. It is held that the new glass machine will reduce the cost of plate glass manufacture fully five cents a foot. Largely on account of the promising scope of the business in the new plate glass machinery are the plans for a new plant being considered.

In 1887 the business of the Fischer Company was established by George L. Fischer and Peter Wenzel as Fischer, Wenzel & Co. Mr. Wenzel died some years ago and the senior member of the company continued the business with the younger men of his family. The foundry and machine plant of the company now covers about two acres of ground, bounded by Twentieth, Mary and Twenty-first streets. In the past six months the buildings and their equipment have been improved to the extent of about $75,000. The property as it now stands represents an investment of more than the $200,000 named in the new articles of incorporation.

The company now has contracts closed which will engage its operations till the first of next April. The contract for the rolling mill equipment of the new tube mill plant of the Sharon Steel Company has just been placed with the Fischer Company. This will amount to $100,000. Important contracts that are now being fulfilled include rolling mill equipment for the new plate mill plant of the Cambria Steel Company at Johnstown, Pa., and for the new plant of the Republic Iron and Steel Company at Youngstown, O.

It was reported yesterday that the property of the Fischer Company had been optioned for extensions of the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad. President Fischer said that the report is without foundation, the plans being to retain this plant, which has only recently been improved to the extent mentioned before and further improvements are to be made there or a new plant erected elsewhere. The present plant employs about 200 men.

NEW WIRELESS VENTURE.

Will Try to Place Baltimore and Washington in Connection.

BALTIMORE, MD., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The Atlantic Wireless Telegraph and Telephone Company has started in business here. It has begun by establishing a wireless telegraphic station between here and Washington. Acting for the company, William E. Woodall & Co., shipbuilders, today erected an air mast 150 feet high at the station. A similar mast was shipped to Washington direct.

The company was incorporated last May with A. B. Davis of Philadelphia as president. As soon as the stations are completed the company will make several interesting tests in communicating with Washington. The new company claims to have overcome the objections to the Marconi system by combining the best features of the Picard, Collings and Shoemaker systems, based upon the system patented by Prof. Dolbear of Tufts college.

GEN. MERRIAM TO RETIRE.

Next to Wade, He Is the Ranking Brigadier General.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—Brig. Gen. Henry C. Merriam will be retired tomorrow on account of age.

Next to Gen. Wade, Gen. Merriam is the ranking brigadier general in the army. He served throughout the civil war in the volunteers, having entered the service as captain of the Twentieth Maine infantry in 1862. He was a major general of volunteers during the Spanish war. His most conspicuous service in later years was in command of the troops during the Couer d'Alene labor riots.

CONVICTS TOOK TO THE TIMBER

SHERIFF COOK AVENGED ON HIS CAPTORS

Two of the Trio Taken Had Held Him Prisrner at Farmhouse on Sunday—Hunt for Leavenworth Mutineers Still Under Way.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 12.—Three more of the 26 fugitive convicts from Fort Leavenworth prison were captured at Bazar, near Cottonwood Falls, Kan., late today by penitentiary guards after a fight in which one of the convicts was shot. The captured men are Gilbert Mullins, white; Fred Robinson, mulatto, and Sol Southerland, Indian. Southerland was wounded today, but not seriously. He was also shot while making his escape from the prison last week. None of the guards were injured today. Only nine of the escaped convicts are yet to be taken and the whole country is on the lookout.

Two men supposed to be convicts stole a horse and buggy from a man near Crosson and robbed him of what money he had, but finally abandoned the vehicle after being pursued some distance. Lawrence Lewis was returned to the penitentiary in irons today, and is in the hospital in a critical condition from his wounds. Frank Thompson, when brought in, was found to be only slightly wounded. When the latter recovers a 25-pound ball will be chained to his ankle as punishment.

Work on the new cell house, stopped at the time of the outbreak, was resumed today. Oberlin M. Carter, former captain of engineers, serving a five years' sentence, is busy preparing plans for some of the new buildings.

TOPEKA, KAS., Nov. 12.—Two of the convicts captured near Cottonwood Falls this evening, Gilbert Mullins and Sol Southerland, are those who captured Sheriff Cook near here last Sunday. The other, Fred Robinson, had joined them, it is thought, after the capture of Thompson in Council Grove last night.

The battle in which the convicts were taken today was brief but exciting. Captain Trelford and a company of prison guards were searching for the three convicts. Finally, when nearing a strip of timber, the officers saw the runaways and, moving around under the shelter of a small hill, the guards managed to get in front of the convicts before they had reached the timber. Captain Trelford called upon them to surrender. They did not answer but broke into a run. The guards then opened fire but without effect. The convicts could not return the fire, having no ammunition. After a brief chase, in which a number of shots were fired, Southerland was wounded and then the others surrendered. Mullins is still suffering from a wound in the leg as a result of the fight with Sheriff Cook and could not do much running.

MRS. NATION ON TRIAL.

The Kansas Saloon Smasher Made Court Room Lively at Wheeling.

WHEELING, W. VA., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, who has been awaiting her trial in the criminal court for an infraction of the laws of the city by inciting a riot when she appeared here to lecture in September, appeared before Judge Hugus this morning accompanied by her counsel, Colonel W. W. Arnett and her companion, Mrs. Allen, of Wheeling. The court room was filled. A gray-haired bench warmer strode past her with a large briar pipe in his mouth and as he puffed volumes of Side Hill Navy in her nostrils she snatched it from his mouth and cast it upon the floor with the exclamation, "I'll teach you how to desecrate the halls of justice with such tools of the devil."

The case was called and the city introduced several policemen and saloonkeepers who testified that Mrs. Nation conducted herself "in a loud and boisterous manner, thereby interfering with the peace and dignity of the city" and it was for that reason that she was arrested.

One policeman was stopped short in his testimony by Mrs. Nation, who said: "You lie." The court pounded with his gavel and the crowd yelled. Mrs. Nation and the crowd yelled.

At the afternoon session the city continued with witnesses and it was quite late before the defense was able to introduce any witnesses. Mrs. Nation went on the stand in her own defense and for an hour the court, jury and spectators were treated to a "Nation" lecture free of charge. She vehemently attacked the grog shops, maligned the city's police department, and disported herself to the merriment of all present. The case went to the jury this evening but as they were unable to agree upon a verdict they were returned to their quarters and enjoined by Judge Hugus to be ready for a report by tomorrow morning.

ACCEPTS THE CALL.

The Rev. Henry B. Hummel Will Be the Pastor of the Park Avenue Presbyterian Church.

In spite of the bad weather there was a good attendance at the regular meeting of the Pittsburgh Presbytery which opened in the First Presbyterian church in Wood street, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Little of importance, however, was done.

A formal call was extended to the Rev. Henry B. Hummel, former pastor of the Latrobe Presbyterian church, by the congregation of Park Avenue Presbyterian church, of which the Rev. George W. Chalfant was pastor. The Rev. Mr. Hummel accepted the call and T. E. Orr, an elder of the church, representing the Park Avenue church, recommended that he be installed Tuesday evening, November 26, Moderator George W. Montgomery presiding, and to propose ten questions; the Rev. W. L. McEwan to preach the sermon; the Rev. H. T. McClelland, D. D., to charge the pastor, and the Rev. A. D. Carlisle to charge the people.

The afternoon session which opened at 2 o'clock was presided over by Rev. U. S. Bartz in the absence of the moderator. The Presbytery was in session only 30 minutes. Treasurer William C. Lilley reported that the aggregate needs of the Presbytery for the coming year would be $1,975, an average of 8½ cents per communicant.

The next meeting of the Presbytery will be held in the Forty-third street church, Rev. U. S. Greves pastor, on Tuesday, December 10.

The Angelus Orchestral Piano Player

William Hazlitt, the English essayist, was once moved to write of the impressive singing of a choir in an English country church: "Fancy caught the sound, and Faith mounted on it to the skies."

What would he have said had he lived to hear the Angelus Orchestral Piano Player? This is the only piano player which reproduces the exquisite effects of pipe organs and of complete orchestras. And, considered purely as a piano player, it is without an equal.

The Angelus plays any piano, and any person can operate it without any experience whatever.

A LETTER FROM CAPTAIN KIDD

Interesting Document Unearthed Among Family Heirlooms in Boston.

IT GIVES POINTS ABOUT HIDDEN TREASURE

Probably Written After the Capture of the Celebrated Pirate Chief. Before Being Carried to England He Wanted to See His Friend.

(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

BOSTON, MASS., Nov. 12.—A letter which, from evidence contained in it, is believed to be genuine by those to whom it has become an heirloom, bearing the signature of the famous pirate chief, Capt. Kidd, was made public today. The letter is the property of Edward Field, clerk of the municipal court of Providence, and historian, a descendant of the Warner family, which was among the first to settle in what is now the town of Warwick. It was found among family papers. Apparently the communication was written after the capture of Capt. Kidd. It is dated Boston, 1700, and it says in part:

"I fear we are in a bad situation. We are taken for pirates, and you must come to Boston as soon as you get this. There is no one I can depend upon. You must come as soon as you get it, or I may not see you before I am carried to England.

"If I do not see you I will tell you where my money is, for we have plenty of that, if it will do any good. It is * * * is buried on * * * island in Boston harbor on the * * * island in two chests containing from £15,000 to £20,000 in money, jewels and diamonds.

"They are buried about four feet deep, with a flat stone on them, and a pile of stone nearby. There is no one that knows where it is but me now living, as Dick Jones and I hid it when part of my men were in Boston and the rest asleep one night. It is about * * * up the hillside.

"I want to see you before we are carried to old England, if possible. If not, you must get all the witnesses in my favor and the best of counsel to help you. I want you to see Col Slaughter and John Nichols and James Bogart and Capt. Bouson and Edward Leach, and all that can do me any good. Say nothing to them about the money or that I have wrote to you. You know my old friends in New York and who will help me. That Moore case is the worst part of my scrape.

"I think my interest with Lord Belmont and my two commissions and some French papers I had with me, and my men running away to the pirates to Calfero, and other things, are in my favor. They think I have money buried down at Plymouth or down that way somewhere. They don't think it is so near to Boston, but they shan't have my money and life, too.

"Don't fail to come to me as soon as you get this. If I am gone to England be there as soon as possible. Secure the money and diamonds before you come, as money will do a great deal for us. It will buy a great many people, and all the poor ones I want in my favor."

The letter contains much more matter and refers to many incidents which have been found to be historically correct. The words which would tell exactly where the treasure was buried, are omitted, and their places are taken by crosses. It is considered likely that along with the letter went another writing in which was given the key to the omitted portions.

LASHED IN THE RIGGING.

Shipwrecked Seamen Spend Terrible Night and Are Finally Rescued.

VINEYARD HAVEN, MASS., Nov. 12.—The schooner Douglass Haynes of Bath, Me., Capt. Blaisdell, from Port Johnson for Hallowell, Me., with a cargo of coal, is sunk between Shovelful and Pollock Rip shoals with her three masts projecting out of water. Capt. Blaisdell and his crew of four men were rescued by the schooner Luther T. Garretson and landed here this afternoon after having suffered terribly from exposure.

Capt. Blaisdell states that when on Nantucket shoals on the morning of the 10th inst he encountered a violent gale and anchored. The vessel rode out the gale all right until late in the afternoon when the heavy sea caused her to leak badly. Soon the decks were awash and all hands climbed into the rigging. Thirty minutes after they had secured themselves in the rigging the vessel went to the bottom.

Yesterday morning the men were sighted by the schooner Luther T. Garretson. The gale had at this time moderated somewhat and the Garretson boat rescued the half-frozen seamen.

RAIN AIDS FIREMEN.

Almost $250,000 Worth of Property Destroyed By Stubborn Blaze at Boston.

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—A little under a quarter of a million was the loss by an all-day fire which started in the seven-story granite building, corner of Broad and Franklin streets, occupied by the Murphy Varnish Company. A steady rain tonight helped the fire department. The fire proved unusually stubborn because of the nature of the stock. Varnish tanks exploded during the morning and blazing fluid ran in all directions on the surface of the water. About 25,000 gallons of varnish were burned.

The Murphy Varnish Company was the chief sufferer, the other tenants being Brooks, Bonnelle & Co., paper dealers and box makers; Hasting-Dixon, press; Melnroe Bros., engravers, and A. E. Martin & Co., printers.

The building was owned by Mayor Hart and being an old one was insured for only $40,000. The tenants' actual losses have not been made up. The insurance is small.

WILL DISCUSS TRUSTS.

General Assembly of Knights of Labor Meets at Indianapolis—Committees Appointed.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 12.—The twenty-fifth annual general assembly of the Knights of Labor opened today in Masonic Temple. Delegates were present from nearly every state in the Union and Canada. At the first session the report of the credentials committee, consisting of Arthur McConnell, Pensacola; I. D. Saunderson, Toronto, and Mr. Yurick of Pittsburgh, was read and adopted. John W. Hays of Washington, read the minutes of the last meeting.

At the afternoon session general committees were appointed by General Master Workman Simon Burns and the reports of the officers were read. The assembly will continue through the remainder of the week. The Chinese exclusion act and trusts will be considered, and it is announced that the frequency with which the courts grant injunctions against organized labor during strikes will receive attention.

The meetings are closed to all but the members of the order.

BOILED WATER FOR SOLDIERS

English Physician Explains Invention for Cooking Germs Out of the Fluid and Cooling It Again in 17 Minutes—Trained Corps to Manage It.

(Special Cable to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

LONDON, Nov. 12.—By the exclusive drinking of boiled water in war time and the sanitary education of soldiers in peace, Dr. Leigh Canney proposes to abolish typhoid, dysentery and cholera in future campaigns.

The king's physician, Sir William Broadbent, presided at a meeting of the Royal United Service institution this afternoon, when Dr. Canney unfolded his preventive plans. He has invented a cylindrical copper boiler holding 50 pints of heated petroleum for boiling and cooling water in 17 minutes, while consuming three-quarters of a pint of petroleum. The weight of the apparatus is 38 pounds. He proposes the formation of a trained water corps for the exclusive service of furnishing troops with approved water and urges as a second essential the instruction of soldiers in time of peace of the dangers of polluted water to the tradition that it is dishonorable and criminal to drink unapproved water. Discussing the South African situation, the doctor said:

"Debates in parliament reveal a total disregard of the scientific work done in 25 years by the commission sent to the cape to inquire if our men were comfortable with their typhoid fever, as if the object of war, medically, were only to see how many thousands could be comfortably treated. Although typhoid and cholera are preventable during the war by the various methods of medical science, the number of soldiers sent home invalided by these diseases is six times greater than by wounds. Without preventive steps, typhoid is practically certain in every war, producing disaster, and frequently actually destroying a conquering army."

Dr. Conan Doyle said: "The real obstacle to the success of Dr. Canney's plan is the hopelessness of inducing a thirsty soldier to examine water before drinking and to reject it if bad. By the time such an educational feat has been accomplished nations will no longer engage in war."

HURRYING THE BRITISH.

Promptness of Americans Pointed Out As Worthy of Emulation in Old England.

CAPE TOWN, Nov. 12.—Dr. J. W. Smart, commissioner of public work of Cape Colony, in the course of his recent letter to the papers here dealing with the mission of Mr. Elliott, general manager of the Cape government railways, portions of which have already been cabled, asserted that of the 124 engines for the construction of which government sanction has been given during the last two years, 62 have been ordered from British firms and 38 from American. The contracts for the remaining 24 have not yet been placed. It is hoped that the time of delivery and the prices will enable these 24 to be ordered in Great Britain.

Mr. Elliott also declared that the Cape government had offered as much as £100 premium per month per locomotive for delivery within the contract time. As an instance of quick American delivery he mentioned the fact that four engines bought in April, 1900, which were built for the Netherlands Company were awaiting shipment and actually delivered at Cape Town during the following month.

ONE MORE REVOLUTION.

Gen. Pietri Adds Another to the List of Castro's Troubles.

(Special Cable to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)
(Copyright, 1901, by New York Herald.)

PORT OF SPAIN, TRINIDAD, Nov. 12.—Gen. Juan Pietri has raised another revolt against President Castro's government in Venezuela. The uprising is at Carabobo. Gen. Pietri has been joined by several distinguished Venezuelans.

The resignation of Senor Velutini, the Venezuelan minister of the interior, is anticipated as the result of President Castro's reply to the pan-American congress in reference to difficulties between Venezuela and Colombia.

Senor Murello Valbuena, who rose against Castro at Turmero and was captured, has been liberated.

ANARCHISTS DISPERSED.

London Police Refuse to Allow Glorification of Haymarket Murderers.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—An anarchist meeting to "commemorate the legal murder of the Chicago anarchists" which had been called for to-night, was prohibited by the police, who were stationed at the various entrances to the hall in Clerkenwell, London, and sent away hundreds that came to attend the proceedings.

Prince Krapotkine, Malatesta and Louise Michel were among the promoters.

Zelaya Re-Elected President.

MANAGUA, NICARAGUA, Nov. 12.—The Nicaraguan presidential election has passed off peacefully. Gen. Santos J. Zelaya has been re-elected president by a large vote.

MINERS WILL CONFER.

Call Has Been Issued for a Joint Convention to Be Held at Freeport Tomorrow.

Officers of the Pittsburgh district organization of the United Mine Workers of America yesterday issued a call for a joint convention Thursday in Town hall, Freeport, Pa., of the miners and operators of the plants along the West Penn and Allegheny Valley railroads. The object is to formulate a wage agreement.

The miners at a score or more of plants are thoroughly organized but the operators of some of the larger properties have thus far refused to participate in any scale negotiations. At a convention of the miners of this field three months ago the men wanted to declare a strike at once but the conservative policy of the district organization prevailed and it was decided to give the operators another opportunity to attend a joint wage conference. The call of the district organization, signed by President Patrick Dolan, Vice President Uriah Bellington and Secretary-Treasurer William Dodds urges all in interest to participate in the convention as of much importance to all concerned.

William Abrahams, member of the British parliament from Cardiff, South Wales, conferred with the Pittsburgh district officials of the miners yesterday on a plan to form an international alliance of miners. He says that conditions here are used as an argument by the foreign producers against bettering wage conditions of their men. He also said that an alliance of the miners of Great Britain, Germany, France, Belgium and Austria-Hungary is nearing completion. The miners' district officials promised to present the matter to the next annual convention of the general organization of the miners in January and to recommend that a committee be sent abroad to look into the mining conditions.

Boers on the War Path.

Special Cable to The Pittsburgh Gazette.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—A Boer veldt cornet, who is in Brussels on a mysterious mission, declares that 17,000 Boers are still on the warpath with great quantities of ammunition hidden in Zoutpansberg and in the southeastern part of Bechuanaland. The latter district is unhealthful for Europeans, too. The cornet also asserts that England will be unable to daunt the Boers and the English army will have to leave South Africa as it left America; defeated.

MAY TAX PUBLISHERS OUT OF THE CAPITAL

Paris Excited by a Proposition to Force Books to Lift City Deficit.

(Special Cable to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

PARIS, Nov. 12.—Paris publishers are up in arms on a proposition introduced into the municipal council this afternoon to increase the city's income through a tax of 20 centimes a volume on all new books put on sale after January 1, no matter where printed or originally published.

Edmund le Pelletier, who proposed the bill in council, told The Gazette correspondent that "the revenues of the capital city must be increased. Several expedients already have failed. The reading public is usually composed of prosperous citizens, who, therefore, as a class, ought to supply the deficit in the municipal budget. Probably the bill will be passed at the next meeting of council."

The chief publishing firms in Paris propose to fight to the last ditch, pleading that the publishing trade will be ruined if the bill is passed. M. Stock said to The Gazette correspondent tonight:

"If the bill is passed, we will move the entire works to the provinces. The tax, therefore, will fall upon the small dealers, who will have to abandon business, since the book trade is failing disastrously in Paris of late years. Such a tax never before was suggested in a civilized community."

According to one of the best known publishers, "the buying public in Paris has been already fleeced to the last extreme. One step further and the printing press will have to stop."

TARIFFS ARE OVERCOME.

German Manufacturer Says Nothing Can Stop American Competition in Europe.

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—The Vossische Zeitung publishes a letter from Essen asserting that the Rhine and Westphalian coal and iron producers now manifest a growing concern at the efforts of the United States to extend exports of coal and iron products to the continent.

A prominent manufacturer is described as "expressing a belief that the United States in 10 or 15 years will supply all Mediterranean countries, including Austria, with coal and iron."

Even tariffs, in the opinion of the manufacturer referred to, will not be sufficient to prevent the flooding of European markets with American products.

LEARNED SOMETHING.

After Inspecting American Cities a Delegate Suggests Imitation By London of Transit Systems.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—At yesterday's meeting of the London county council a proposal was unanimously adopted to ask the consent of parliament to the construction of subways and a shallow tramway from the Victoria Embankment under New street to Holborn, connecting a little further north with surface trams.

In the course of the session the delegates who recently visited the United States described the systems in Boston and New York, J. William Bonn declaring his conviction that what had been done in those American cities could be done in London and efforts should be made before subterranean London was handed over to foreign control.

TEN PERSONS PERISH.

Fine Block in Odessa, Russia, Destroyed With Many Casualties.

ODESSA, RUSSIA, Nov. 13.—The Mandelevitch buildings, one of the finest blocks in Odessa, which include a fashionable arcade of shops, has been destroyed by fire.

Ten person perished and 35 others were injured. The damage is estimated at 1,000,000 roubles.

Aged Diplomat Retires.

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—Emperor William has acceded to the oft-repeated request of Count Paul von Hatzfeldt-Wildenburg, the German Ambassador to Great Britain, that he be allowed to retire from the diplomatic service on the ground of ill health.

LEAGUERS AT SEWICKLEY.

Annual Convention of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Epworth League Held—Officers Elected.

Pittsburgh conference Epworth Leaguers held their annual convention yesterday in Sewickley. It was an all-day meeting, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning, and continuing until 10 at night. Bad weather interfered somewhat with the attendance, but there was a good turnout nevertheless. About 200 delegates, representing societies from the five districts of the conference, were in attendance.

In the morning J. A. Rosenthal, president of the Sewickley chapter, conveyed to the vistors the greetings of that chapter. C. T. Beggs of Pittsburgh, president of the society in the conference, responded. Then followed the roll call, registration of delegates, reports of officers and a discussion on "The Disappointments and Delights of the Year's Work."

At the afternoon session, among other business that was transacted, it was decided to have a two days' session at future annual meetings instead of only one, as has been the custom. It was decidd to hold the next convention at Leechburg.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, Charles T. Beggs of Pittsburgh; secretary, Harry Hummer of Pittsburgh; treasurer, Miss Bessie Brooks of Beaver; Junior League superintendent, Miss Agnes Millen of Apollo; superintendent of forward movement, R. E. Miles; vice presidents, first, Charles Yahres; second, Will Sailer; third, Rev. Charles L. Smith; fourth, William Bradshaw; fifth, O. J. Gross. S. E. Taylor, secretary of the Epworth League work of Chicago, then addressed the meeting on "The League a Missionary Force." Dr. A. B. Leonard, missionary secretary of the Methodist Episcopal church, gave a able address on missions. The Rev. M. H. Lechliter followed with a talk on "Bible Study in the League." At the evening session the Rev. W. W. Youngson of Crafton, had charge of a testimony meeting, which was followed by a brief talk on 'Personal Evangelistic Work" by S. Earl Taylor. The address of the evening was given by the Rev. Dr. E. J. Knox, which was listened to by a large crowd of people.

Struck Gas at Charleroi.

CHARLEROI, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The W. H. Hamilton Glass Company, local bottle manufacturers, has been rewarded in its efforts to secure gas, a well of 600 pounds rock pressure having been brought in yesterday in the lower part of town. This is the first well of any account struck in Charleroi. The well is on the property owned by the glass company.

STORM RAGES OVER ENGLAND

North of Britain and Ireland Suffer from Heavy Floods—Suburbs of Dublin Deluged and Railway Accidents Numerous—The Irish Channel Lashed by Heavy Gale.

(Special Cable to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A tremendous storm with torrents of rain is sweeping the north of Britain and Ireland. There have been serious floods in Yorkshire. Several of the suburbs of Dublin are flooded and elsewhere in Ireland great damage has been done by floods. Several fatal accidents have occurred and railway communication is delayed. In some parts of the country the rain has continued for 36 hours. In the Manchester district, although there has been considerable damage, the floods have been rather welcomed than otherwise, as the mills had long suffered from the unusual drought.

The gale is still raging unabated tonight along the coast. Reports continually arrive of shipping casualties, especially on the Northumberland coast, where the storm is extremely violent.

Three vessels were driven ashore tonight at the entrance to the Tyne. Four small vessels have been wrecked in the vicinity of Sunderland and another has been wrecked off Hartlepool. Altogether nine persons were drowned in these disasters. The lighthouse on the Sunderland pier has been washed away.

The gale in the Irish channel is the severest known for many years. Five vessels have been wrecked in Kingstown harbor, which is strewn with wreckage.

The mail boat Nord, which yesterday started from Dover for Calais at 11:30 last night ran down the lightship of the works of the New Dover pier. The crew of the lightship were drowned.

5:15 a. m.—It is reported in Dover that sixteen persons went down with the lightship. The Nord has gone ashore at the Foreland, but her passengers are said to be safe.

CANNOT LIVE TOGETHER.

Sullen Temper and High Spirit Separate Grand Duke and Duchess of Hesse.

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—There appears to be foundation for the renewed reports that a divorce of the grand duke and grand duchess of Hesse is impending. Incompatibility of temper long existing appears to have reached the point where a separation is inevitable.

They are both grandchildren of the late Queen Victoria who, with the czar and an extraordinary assemblage of other sovereigns, was present at the wedding, which took place at Coburg, April 19, 1894. The grand duchess is regarded as one of the most beautiful princesses of Europe. She and the grand duke were estranged during the first year of their marriage. She left him and went to stay with her elder sister, the crown princess of Roumania. Queen Victoria invited her and her husband to visit England and managed to restore a semblance of peace; but that soon disappeared. The grand duke is supposed to be a man of sullen quarrelsome temper while the grand duchess is high spirited.

WOOD VISITS SANTIAGO.

Gov. Gen. of Cuba Well Pleased With Progress of Improvements.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Nov. 12.—Gov. Gen. Wood and Mrs. Wood, Collector Bliss, Capt. Slocum, Maj. Kean and several ladies arrived here this morning on the government yacht Kanawha. Gen. Wood has expressed himself as greatly pleased with the appearance of the city, and the recent improvements. In the course of the afternoon he inspected the troops at Morro barracks. He will remain in the district for several days looking over the military posts and examining the public works.

STORM IN WEST INDIES.

Portions of Island of Jamaica Are Isolated by Heavy Weather.

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, Nov. 12.—The northern and eastern portions of the island are cut off from Kingston by heavy weather. Rivers have overflowed their banks and are doing considerable damage to the railroad line to Port Antonio and the north side towns.

The extent of the damage is not known owing to the interruption of telegraphic communication. No loss of life is reported. The American mails which arrived by the steamer Admiral Dewey, remain at Port Antonio.

SALISBURY CARELESS.

London Truth Hints That Premier's Mind Is Impaired.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Referring to Lord Salisbury's speech last Saturday night at the Guild hall, Truth says:

"The careless composition of the speech of the premier, which contained some singular obscure sentences, has revived the talk of his impending retirement and has given cause for believing at least that he no longer takes an earnest interest in political life."

M'QUAIDE'S HANDS FULL.

Detective Has a Lively Time in Arresting Two Men in the West End.

Detective Thomas A. McQuaide had an exciting adventure, early last evening, while running down three suspected pickpockets. After half an hour struggling and forcing one man at the point of a revolver, he landed two in West End police station. The third is still at large. For several weeks past West End residents, especially those traveling on street cars, complain that they have been robbed frequently. A few nights ago a man was held up on the Point bridge and robbed of $40. Detectives McQuaide and Elmore have been at work on the case for a few days. McQuaide worked the West Carson street end, leaving the other to Elmore. About 7 o'clock McQuaide saw the men coming together and recognized one as a pickpocket who had done time. He pulled him back and when his partners saw this they ran at breakneck speed. McQuaide marched his prisoner after them with a gun at his back. The others were captured.

McQuaide says the first man he caught was Dennis O'Keefe of Chicao, who was arrested last Christmas. The other man gave his name as Fred Smith of Peoria, Ill.

Tired Out

That's nothing. Every one is tired at times. The trouble is you can't get rested. It's your impure blood that makes the disturbance. Try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Your doctor will tell you what is in it, and why it will help you so promptly.

"I suffered terribly for 12 years. The doctors said my blood was all turning to water. At last I tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and was soon in the best of health again."

See that Spot!

You dont, but your friends do

Why don't you have it covered It can be done. The trouble is not chronic, but functional. It is caused by a weakened condition of the hair follicle, due to a microbe that feeds upon and destroys the delicate mucous membrane with which it is lined.

The hair-root, deprived of its nourishment, gradually becomes weakened, shrivels up and the hair easily falls from its collapsed follicle.

This very common condition—known as premature baldness—is overcome by the use of Cranitonic Hair and Scalp Food, the only safe and scientific cure for all hair and scalp diseases. It strikes at once at the seat of the disorder, destroys the microbe that causes it and assists in feeding the weakened hair-follicle back to health.

Cranitonic Hair and Scalp Food is not greasy or sticky, and contains no disagreeable or dangerous sediments. It is clear, pure as crystal, and delightful to use. Its odor is pleasant—yet not pungent. The important thing is—it grows hair.

For Sale by Druggists at $1.00 the bottle, or sent, expressage prepaid, upon receipt of price by the Cranitonic Hair Food Co.

SPECIAL NOTICE—If you have a thinly-covered spot like that shown above you are becoming prematurely bald. Don't wait until your case becomes chronic. Write the Cranitonic Hair and Scalp Institute, 526 West Broadway, New York City, and send a small sample of your hair combings; state in your letter if you have dandruff, falling hair or itching scalp, when our physicians will make a microscopic examination of the hair, mail you a report upon its condition and prescribe curative treatment free of charge.

To all who send hair we will mail free a 48-page illustrated book, entitled "Hair Cure;" also a sample of the Cranitonic products.

Contagious Diseases—Four cases of typhoid fever, five of scarlet fever and five of diphtheria were reported to the bureau of health.

Thieves At Work—The house of J. A. Williams of Mifflin street, Homestead, was entered Monday night by thieves. They got $25 belonging to J. R. Tuell, and $35 belonging to Miss Sara Williams.

Death of a Suicide—Myrtle King, aged 20 years, of No. 23 Ross street, died at the Homeopathic hospital at 4:40 o'clock yesterday morning, after taking two ounces of carbolic acid with suicidal intent.

Swindlers at Braddock—Several Braddock merchants have been swindled out of small sums recently by two men. The game worked by them was a simple one, but seemed to work until several cases reported to the police put a stop to the game.

Lost a Pocketbook—The Hon. James H. Hopkins, a former member of congress from Pittsburgh, reported to the police yesterday that he had lost a pocketbook containing $50 and some valuable papers. Mr. Hopkins is a guest at the Lincoln.

Scottish Rite Reunion—The forty-ninth annual reunion of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite Masons in the valley of Pittsburgh opened yesterday in Freemasons' hall, Fifth avenue, and will continue in session until Friday.

Took Defeat Gracefully—The Revolver teams of the Fourteenth and Eighteenth regiments met at the Hotel Weiss, in Smithfield street, last night and enjoyed a dinner as the result of a revolver match lost by the team of the Eighteenth a few weeks ago.

More Foot Bridges—The public works committee of Allegheny councils at its meeting last night referred the resolution locating two foot bridges across the Ft. Wayne tracks from California avenue to Preble and Cass avenues to the director of public works.

Mourner Arrested—H. F. Campbell of 1915 Fifth avenue, was arrested at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon in McKeesport by Officer John S. Moore, in the same room where his daughter, Mrs. Mary Hover, lay dead. The charge brought against him was disorderly conduct.

Returned to Councils—The ordinance widening that portion of Stockton avenue east of Federal street to Union avenue was returned to Allegheny councils with a negative recommendation by the survey committee last night, as was the ordinance widening the roadway through the park from Sherman avenue to Marion avenue.

Witnesses Scarce—At the final session of the police investigation of the Homestead police department last night, Burgess Miller's witnesses against Captain John Cavanaugh and Chief West Noble did not appear. Both of the accused men denied the charges against them. A decision in the case will be given later.

Scalded by Hot Water—Robert Weir, a stone contractor of McKeesport, is confined to his bed suffering from severe burns received in a peculiar manner. Mr. Weir was afflicted with rheumatism and he went to bed with a hot water bottle. The bottle burst and the scalding water poured over Mr. Weir's limbs.

Made a Good Haul—A satchel containing $300 and four checks was stolen from the saloon of Duval & Sweeney, 2226 Beaver avenue, Allegheny, near midnight Monday. Three of the checks were drawn on the American Iron and Steel Company and the fourth on an Ohio bank, made payable to Leonard Detlin. The police are working on the case.

Victim May Die—Frank Boyle, a workman in the Homewood steel plant, is held without bail to await the result of injuries alleged to have been inflicted by him on John Slanick. It is alleged that Boyle and Slanick had a quarrel and that Boyle struck him on the head with a coupling pin, fracturing his skull. Slanick is in the Mercy hospital in a serious condition.

Steel Plant Bought—Albert F. Baumgarten of this city, who some time ago reorganized the Potomac Steel Company of Cumberland, Md., and subsequently withdrew from that company, has purchased the abandoned plant of the Crucible Steel Company of America at Cumberland, Md. One plan of the new owner is to equip the plant for the production of sheets.

Smith to Be Sued—Action will begin today against William H. Smith, delinquent tax collector of McKeesport, on a charge of conspiracy to defraud. The suit will be brought by Attorney R. H. Jackson at the instance of John C. Devanny of McKeesport. Who or how many others will be included in the action is not yet definitely decided.

Central Council Formed—Thomas H. Flynn, organizer of the American Federation of Labor, yesterday returned from Uniontown, Pa., where he formed a central council of all federation unions of that vicinity. He has gone to further organize blast furnace workers of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys in anticipation of the convention of their new organization at Youngstown, O., November 25.

Signals Misunderstood—The inquest before Coroner Jesse M. McGeary yesterday into the deaths of Robert L. Allison and Robert Whitten, who were killed in the wreck in the Try street yards of the Panhandle railroad on November 5, was postponed until Friday, November 29. The evidence given yesterday tends to show that the wreck was caused through a misunderstanding in signals.

Death From Starvation—Deputy Coroner Charles Bender held an inquest at Oakmont yesterday into the death of Sarah E. Buchanan, who was found dead on the river bank there last Sunday morning. The brother of the dead woman, who lives at No. 715 Ivy street, testified that his sister was demented and wandered away from home. The jury found that death was caused by starvation and exposure.

Decided to Separate—Martin Powers, an employe of the Lake Erie boiler works, McKees Rocks, was given a hearing yesterday before Alderman Samuel Abernathey of Allegheny, on a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife, Olive Powers. She claims he beat her until she could stand it no longer. Both parties finally decided to sign papers of separation and the assault and battery charge was withdrawn.

In Need of Stoves—The Association for the Improvement of the Poor appeals for stoves for the Children's Temporary Home, No. 2016 Fifth avenue. Stoves are needed for five rooms and one hall. The Oakland office at No. 325 Atwood street is in need of a large stove for one of the rooms. The winter brings heavy demands on the association and help given promptly by the donations mentioned will be highly appreciated.

Gift for the Museum—The Carnegie museum has received from Humphreys, Stewart & Co. one of the finest specimens of crystallized galena ever found. The galena is in the form of a bunch of crystals, each about two inches in size, and isometric. As a rule, according to Dr. Holland, the crystals are much smaller and a bunch of 20 like the present specimen contains is rare. The mineral comes from a Joplin (Mo.) mine and was obtained in 1892. It has been placed on exhibition.

An Unfortunate Visit—John Mitinger, who is wanted on a charge of horse stealing, was arrested by Squire Williams of Etna on Monday night. Mitinger was sued about a year ago before Squire Williams for stealing a horse in Saxonburg, Butler county, but got away and had been working on the lakes. He came to Allegheny yesterday from Ashtabula to visit a sister and some of the neighbors notified Squire Williams of his presence. Mitinger is about 45 years old and is said to have served two terms for horse stealing.

Library Opens Soon—McKeesport's Carnegie library is rapidly nearing completion and is expected to be ready for use within another month. The first money paid by the city for the support of the library is to be handed over this week. T. C. Jones, treasurer of the library commission, has made a requisition on City Controller R. H. Hitchens for $3,000, the amount of the annual appropriation for the library. Books are already being purchased and every arrangement is being made to have the building open not later than January 1.

Deaths of the Week—There were 144 deaths in the city last week as against 82 the same week a year ago. Pneumonia caused 33, diphtheria 10, typhoid fever seven, scarlet fever four, consumption 11, railway injuries 9 and other violent causes 7. The coroner held inquests into 21 deaths. Twenty-three were infants under 1 year, 31 between 1 and 10 years and 8 between 70 and 100 years of age. Eighteen died in hospitals and 40 were of foreign birth. During the week there were reported 57 cases of typhoid fever, 27 of scarlet fever, 36 of diphtheria and one of smallpox.

Annual Meeting Held—The annual meeting of the congregation of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church was held last evening. The church records show 737 members, and a good percentage of this number were present. The election resulted in the retention of all the old church officers, with H. K. Porter again superintendent of the Bible school. After the meeting W. Henry Swallow, who was assistant pastor of the church for eight years, was ordained. The Rev. J. S. Hutson of Allegheny offered the ordaining prayer. The Rev. R. F. Delancy of Mt. Washington spoke on the relation of pastor and people, and the Rev. Dr. Lemuel Call Barnes, pastor of the church, extended the hand of fellowship.

Constable Beaten—Constable James Boland of Alderman John A. Martin's office was badly beaten while trying to make an arrest at 906 Carson street yesterday. Henry and Christ Albrecht, who were at that address, were arrested later by Constable Patrick McInerny, charged with aggravated assault and battery. Constable James Glenn of Alderman Downey's office charged a family by the name of Franz, living at 906 Carson street, with removing goods on which he had levied and Boland went to the house to make the arrest. He says that when he reached the second floor of the house occupied by the Franz family the two Albrechts and a third man attacked him, dragging him down stairs and beating him.

POOR CHRISTIANS.

Unwise Feeding Makes Them.

Some people thought he was a funny old man when he spoke at the campmeeting on the subject of "Lord Give Us Sense." One of the first requisites for living a peaceful, upright, honest and religious life is food of the kind that can be easily digested and that furnishes the rebuilding material for good healthy brain and nerve centers.

It is absolutely out of the question for a person to be peaceful, capable and right minded when the brain is underfed, and the nerves wrecked from lack of rebuilding elements they have a right to expect from good food.

A person fed on meat, bacon, ham, fried cakes, hot biscuits, sticky and poorly cooked starchy oat meal and wheat, may possibly have strong digestion enough to handle these things and be a happy, healthy individual; but 90 people in 100 have not, and the result is irritable, poorly nourished, nervous bodies, foul breath, and a general condition that prevents one from being happy and contented. It is practically impossible for such persons to be good Christians.

The religion of common sense and good food is the first religion that a man or woman should cultivate, for that condition makes possible thoughts of a higher nature and a better grade.

There is a world of wisdom in the saying of Ruskin, "We may be sure we are not serving the Lord if we are not happy ourselves." All should try to build up a steady set of nerves and get rid of dyspepsia, constipation, fluttering heart, weak nervous conditions, and a train of terrors that come from bad digestion and poor food. They should quit coffee absolutely. Take for breakfast a little cooked or raw fruit, a saucer of Grape-Nuts Food and a cup of Postum Coffee. No meat or grease. You will have a clean, healthy stomach for dinner and at that meal have some meat and vegetables that you can digest. Let your supper be the same as your breakfast.

You probably don't need medicine, but you need the kind of food that contains elements that rebuild the soft gray matter in the brain and nerve centers throughout the body.

It is "Up to you" reader to put yourself right and make of yourself a happy, cheerful individual, capable, and showing forth the charm of life rather than its terrors and distresses.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR AWAIT A DECISION

Master Workman Parsons and Secretary Burleigh Not Here.

The general assembly of the old organization of the Knights of Labor, or the Parsons faction, as it is called, is holding its annual meeting in Kauffeld hall, Carson street, South Side, while the Burns-Hayes faction is holding its annual meeting in Indianapolis. Master Workman John N. Parsons, Secretary E. E. Burleigh and the general executive board, are not at the Pittsburg meeting on the advice of Attorney Padgett Forrest of Washington, D. C., who represents this faction in the pending litigation in the supreme court of the District of Columbia. The attorney advised that inasmuch as the court has issued a temporary injunction against the general officers acting for the Knights of Labor that they should not be present at the meeting. A letter to this effect was read and referred to a committee. This committee is expected today to report in favor of promptly winding up the affairs of the meeting, which is being held largely as a formality in view of the pending litigation.

The contention in the Knights of Labor has, as its chief impetus, the factional contest of the window glass workers. Joseph G. Armstrong of the new union of Window Glass Workers said yesterday that Burns is working as he is because, under Parsons, the Burns organization could not control the policy of the Knights of Labor. John Phillips, Jr., secretary of the new union of the Window Glass workers, declared yesterday that the claims of the opposition that there has been a split in his organization by members rejoining the Burns assembly is untrue.

It is persistently reported that the present price agreement between the two big companies will not be renewed when it expires next month. The result would be an open market tending to heavy price-cutting, and it is said that on this account the organized jobbers will not place their contemplated order for probably 1,000,000 boxes at the conference of all in interest at Chicago next Tuesday.

DOCTOR AND PATIENT

Are Equally Gratified With Pe-ru-na for Winter Diseases.

Mrs. Carrie James, Woodward avenue, Memphis, Tenn., writes:

"I gladly recommend Peruna for I have found by experience that it is the best medicine to cure a cold or influenza; in fact, any throat or lung trouble. I have experienced immediate relief if I took a few doses after catching cold, and endorse it heartily." MRS. CARRIE JAMES.

Secret Health—Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O., Interviewed on the subject of Winter Diseaes,

He said the first thing is to keep the feet warm and dry somehow, no matter how, but be sure to keep the feet both warm and dry. Next, keep the chest warm seven days every week, four weeks every month; exercise freely in the open air; sleep in a well ventilated room and take Peruna before each meal.

These rules followed will secure to each individual an absolute guarantee against disease, in spite of slush and mud, rain and sleet, wind and damp, and sudden changes in the temperature.

Peruna has no equal. It cleanses, strengthens, soothes, purifies, invigorates, regulates and restores.

Pe-ru-na Cured Catarrh of the Lungs After Doctors Failed.

Mrs. J. Kempf, 875 Park avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"Last winter I had a very severe cold which settled on my lungs. I went to the doctor for some time, but none of his medicine did me any good. Having read some testimonials to the value of Peruna I decided to try it, at the same time writing Dr. Hartman for advice. I took five bottles of Peruna according to his directions, and am now as well as ever, and all the symptoms of catarrh are gone. I cannot praise Peruna enough, and hope all sufferers will take Peruna without further delay." MRS. J. KEMPF.

Mrs. M. R. Hall, 41 Arch street, Providence, R. I., Vice President W. C. T. U., charter member The Rebeccas, Honorary Member The Maccabees, writes:

"The question of medicine is of little interest to those who are well, but when you are sick and unable to assume your usual duties the question of right medicine becomes most important.

"For catarrhal conditions usually brought on by colds, I know by actual experience that there is nothing in the entire materia medica which will perform a cure so thoroughly as Peruna. I consider it a very superior winter medicine, efficacious in all the different troubles which usually follow cold and inclement weather." MRS. M. R. HALL.

Mrs. Carrie Bode, Lebanon, Oregon, writes:

"I am today the wonder of Lebanon. I was the most miserable and sick person on earth, and everyone gave me up to die, as my case was similar to consumption. After a severe spell of pneumonia I tried all kinds of doctors and medicines without any benefit until I took Peruna, and after using seven bottles I am again sound and well. I am sure that Peruna saved my life." MRS. CARRIE BODE.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

millinery art

demands a high order of talent in order to appeal successfully to the discriminating tastes of American women.

We have made it our business to assemble under one control, people who have the necessary talent—brains competent to create and fingers trained to effective execution—each showing an individuality which adds immeasurably to the sum total of our Millinery attainment.

During the current season we have almost every day doubled the business of former years, which, it appeals to us, goes to show that we are right on Millinery.

We have abandoned the old idea of a succession of Openings, and now consider every day an Opening Day, since whatever is produced or received is immediately put on sale, so you are sure at all times of finding here something new and interesting.

Today we call attention to new Flower Toques, and New Fur trim'd Toques.

The main purpose of this Millinery Store, in order to conform with the rest of the establishment, is to have and sell fine, choice, becoming, artistic Millinery, at prices so much lower than any other store will approach, for equal merit, as will make an impression upon you favorable to this department, and this store, that nothing will remove.

We invite attention to the collection of fine Dressy Hats at and between $5.00 and $10.00.

PITTSBURGHERS' GOOD WORK

GREAT WORK BY PITTSBURGHERS

First Part of a Scholarly Report on Patagonia Published.

LIGHT SHED ON AN UNKNOWN LAND

Professors Hatcher and Peterson of the Carnegie Institute Conducted Largest Part of the Research. Location Caused Complications.

The library of the Carnegie museum has received the first part of a famous work on which much of the research has been done by two naturalists who are now residents of this city. The work is a complete investigation of the geography and natural history of Patagonia. The cost of publishing the results has been met by a gift of $25,000 from J. Pierpont Morgan, the financier. Much of the work was done by Prof. J. B. Hatcher and his brother-in-law, O. A. Peterson, both now of the Carnegie institute staff. The first part of the great work to appear is Part I. of Volume IV. Speaking of the book yesterday Dr. W. J. Holland, curator of the museum and a well-known authority upon natural history, said:

"In a small room in the Carnegie museum there is at present being carried on a very important scientific work in the prosecution of which three continents, so to speak, are concerned. South America supplies the material, North America the brains, and Europe the manual dexterity.

Three Years' Expedition.

"From 1896 to the fall of 1899 Mr. Hatcher carried on a series of explorations in Patagonia for Princeton university, under the general direction of W. B. Scott, the professor of geology at Princeton. Prof. Hatcher and his brother-in-law, O. A. Peterson, who are now associated in the work of the Carnegie institute, were no less successful in their Patagonian researches than they have been in the work which they have prosecuted for the past two years for the Carnegie museum, and which has attracted the attention of scientific men all over the world.

"The publication of the results of Prof. Hatcher's investigations was made possible by the gift to Princeton university for this purpose the sum of $25,000, contributed by J. Pierpont Morgan. The literary and scientific portion of the work has been distributed to different eminent American naturalists. Portions of it are being written by Prof. Scott, portions by Prof. Hatcher, and half a score of eminent specialists are writing upon the material.

"The printing and illustrating is going on in Europe, except that the drawings for the plates are made in this country. At present Mr. Von Itterson, one of the most widely-known illustrators in this department of work in the world, is engaged in preparing the plates for one volume of the work. Mr. Von Itterson has done a great deal of work for the British museum and for the leading institutions in America since his removal to America a few years ago. When his drawings are completed they are sent to the lithographic establishment of Winter & Werner, at Frankfort-on-Main, Germany, where the plates are finally produced. The printing is done in Stuttgart by E. Naegele.

Series Will Be Fine.

"When the work is completed it will consist of a series of magnificent quarto volumes, profusely illustrated with beautiful lithographs. A portion of the work will be devoted to the narrative of the expedition; another volume to the geography and geology, several volumes to the paleontology of the region, and several volumes to the botany and recent zoology. When completed it will constitute a monumental work upon Patagonia and its natural history.

"It must be a matter of pride to Pittsburghers to know that one of their fellow citizens not only collected the material for this great work, but is so prominently identified with its preparation.

"The geographical researches of Prof. Hatcher in the interior of the country have attracted attention everywhere and have revolutionized opinions which long were prevalent as to the interior of this little-known land. Prof. Hatcher traversed wide areas which probably before his arrival had never been seen by civilized man, and the result of his researches was the location upon the maps of mountain ranges, lakes, and rivers which previous to his visit had not been recorded. His discoveries also served to overthrow very largely the view that had long prevailed that the crest of the Andes constituted the line of the watershed in the southern portion of the South American continent. Prof. Hatcher conclusively proved by his travels in the interior that this is not the case, and that the watershed of the country through a part of the region lies east of the main Cordilleran range. This discovery, confirmed by subsequent investigations, has led in recent years to international complications between Chile and the Argentine republic. The boundary treaty specifies 'the watershed' as the dividing line."

SENTENCED FOR CONTEMPT.

Chicago Editor and Reporter Sent to Jail for Short Terms.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Judge Haney today sentenced Andrew M. Lawrence, managing editor of the Chicago American, to 40 days in the county jail, and H. F. Canfield, a reporter on the same paper, to 30 days in the same place, because of an article published in that paper which he considered contempt of court.

The cases against others of the same paper who are out of the state have been held open until the sheriff can produce the offenders.

Causes of Car Shortage.

An official of one of the large railroad systems in speaking of the causes for the prevailing car shortage said that the small independent lines throughout the country are one of the main causes of the lack of cars. In proportion to the great number of cars owned by the large companies comparatively poor service is given with them. The small roads paying for the use of cars on the mileage basis do not need to own many cars of their own as it is cheaper to retain cars of the large companies and use them repeatedly before returning them to their owners. This official thinks that a per diem arrangement for charging for cars, making allowances for all unavoidable and accidental delays, is demanded in the interest of more efficient car service.

PRAISE FOR LOCAL CHURCHES

BISHOP FOWLER DELIVERS AN ADDRESS ON SUCCESS.

At the Close of His Lecture He Said That Christ Church and Calvary Church Are the Most Wonderful in Methodism—Urges His Hearers to Cultivate Their Spiritual Nature More Strenuously.

"I consider Christ church and Calvary church the two most wonderful in Methodism, this one the most majestic, the other the most beautiful." This was the statement that Bishop Charles H. Fowler made last night in the Sunday school room of Christ Methodist Episcopal church, where he had just completed an address before the members of the Christ Church Young Men's club and their guests.

Many distinguished men were in the audience, some being members of the Freedmen's Aid society, which has just adjourned, and others members of the general missionary committee, which will convene in Christ church today. Among these were Bishops Warren and McCabe, the Rev. Dr. H. G. Jackson, the Rev. Dr. W. F. Boyd, the Rev. Dr. D. D. Thompson and many others. In the absence of President McDowell of the Young Men's club S. W. Cunningham presided and announced that at its next meeting, December 10, Prof. John A. Brashear will address the members and their friends on some scientific subject. He then introduced Bishop Fowler.

Talk On Success.

Bishop Fowler spoke in that happy, easy, light, yet weighty style that is peculiarly his own. His subject was: "Some Elements of Success." He said: "I find myself in the midst of conflicting desires in which it is a little difficult to choose my way. I heard once of a little girl who wrote a composition on 'Anatomy.' She said that 'anatomy is composed of three cavities. The first is called the skull and it contains the brain, if you happen to have any. The second is the thorax, which contains the lungs, liver and giblets. The third is the bowels, of which there are five—a, e, i, o, u, and sometimes w and y.' Like the little girl, I am somewhat mixed and hardly know where to begin."

"The problem that we have to solve," said he, "involves the bringing to bear upon it of our best powers in body, brain and heart. When the body, the muscle man, is on top, the man matures into a tool, a spade, an instrument for somebody else to use; when the mind, the mental man, is on top, the man matures into a thinker; when the heart is on top, he develops into a spiritual being. While our bodies are not the supreme thing to be considered there are some things about our bodies that are very important. There is the difference between a city and a cemetery. I advise you to take care of your bodies and cling to them as long as you can. In India I saw priests grooming and decorating the sacred cows. It seemed to me pretty small business for an immortal to be engaged in, but then I thought how many people in Christian America spend their whole time in grooming and caring for animals—not always cows, but always animals.

Physical Nature First.

"Childhood is the time when the physical side of man is most admired. When we were boys we thought more of the boy who could jump 12 feet on the level and turn around and jump back again the same distance than of the boy who knew all about the rule of three. I will venture to say that in your libraries the books of adventure and travel are worn out with the using, while the lives of the saints are neglected and are awaiting the time when there shall be a revival and some interest taken in them. But our bodies are not the only thing to be considered, for we are missing links. I do not mean the scientific kind of missing links. We are the link between the atom and the infinite; our bodies linking us to the earth, our souls connecting us with heaven.

"It is the object of all modern invention to help along our bodies, to save our protoplasm." Speaking of the wonderful inventions in the mechanical line, he remarked: "If we could only put a belt around this world, and utilize its power, couldn't we make things spin?"

He also told how thinking has served to prolong life. "When I was a boy the average length of life was 31 years; now they tell me that it is nearly 40 years. This is due to combating disease. We have better medicines (less of them), better food, better ventilation, better drainage, better beds, and so on."

Turning to a consideration of the third element in man, the heart, the spirit, Dr. Fowler said that it should be our aim to so train our spiritual natures in this life that they will be fitted, when the great change comes, for the environment of heaven. He spoke of the great privilege belonging to a large church, such as Christ church, of being a leader among the smaller churches, but warned the members that their responsibility is just as great as their privilege. "You are at a place where your spiritual muscle must not lack one fiber, if you are to lead the hosts of God in this community. You are here to mature thought."

At the close of the meeting Dr. T. N. Boyle announced that there will be an informal reception in Christ church this afternoon from 4 to 6 for the members of the general missionary committee.

GIRL BRIDE HAS DISAPPEARED.

The Elderly Bridegroom Tries in Vain to Procure a Search Warrant to Aid Him.

The romance which culminated in the marriage of Patrick Ganley, aged 67 years, to Miss Mary Treadwell, 16 years old, after a courtship of three weeks, in McKeesport, has developed a tragic side, owing to the mysterious disappearance of the bride.

The marriage took place in Pittsburgh, October 21, the newly-married couple going at once to McKeesport. Yesterday Mr. Ganley went to Alderman Peter Langsdorf of the Sixth ward, McKeesport, with a pathetic story. He said that his bride disappeared two days after the marriage, but that he had kept silence from week to week in the hope that Mrs. Ganley would eventually return to him. He told the alderman that he felt sure he had located his wife in a residence on Tinplate hill and he asked him to issue a search warrant in order that he might find her. The alderman told him that such a proceeding was not sanctioned by law and the aged bridegroom went away disconsolate, planning some other means for claiming his own.

Mr. Ganley is of the opinion that some former suitor spirited his bride away and he is loath to believe that her affection for him has grown cold. Ganley was until recently in the grocery business in McKeesport, having come originally from Cumberland, Md. His bride resided in Westmoreland county and came in every morning on the train with a consignment of milk. In this way she met Ganley. She came to this country from England three years ago. Ganley's two daughters are employed in the McKeesport hospital and his two sons are mill workers.

VICTIM OF DOCTOR'S ORDER.

Patient Kills Himself Because He Could Not Go to Health Resort.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—J. F. Pfetch, about 40 years old, committed suicide early this morning in the St. James hotel, where he had registered as from Richmond, Va., by shooting himself through the head.

A note addressed to F. G. Frese of Richmond said that "Catarrh and malaria had done their work," and indicated great discouragement on the part of Pfetch, who said his doctor had ordered him to go to a health resort for two or three months, and that it was impossible for him to do so in his circumstances.

Never let a little child's cold "run on." There is sure danger and perhaps death at the end of it. The infantile organs are always helped by Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant, and the little ones like it.

ACTION TAKEN BY OFFICIALS

Allegheny Dive Keepers Are Warned That They Must Be Careful.

RECORDER MURPHY IS KEEPING SILENT

An Ann Street Bottler Declares That He Has Never Seen Conditions So Bad as They Are Now A Typical Resort.

The officials of Allegheny have been spurred to action by The Gazette's exposure of conditions in the First and Fourth wards. Orders have gone forth that care must be exercised in the conduct of the speakeasies and gambling houses.

The orders were issued Monday night. They followed almost immediately the return of Recorder John R. Murphy and Superintendent of Police Henry Muth from Philadelphia.

All places of questionable character in the lower wards were included in the ruling. Not only were the proprietors of the speakeasies and gambling places warned to be circumspect, but the proprietresses of houses of ill-fame were cautioned.

Heretofore music has been allowed all night. Now it must be stopped at midnight. This is but a sample of the orders. The police were the messengers that carried them to the interested parties.

The orders are being lived up to. The fact that the resorts of the river wards have been brought to the center of the stage is rankling in the hearts of the men that profit by the flourishing trade carried on. In the hope that the agitation will blow over, they are willing enough to lie low. Roisterers get scant courtesy now. Quiet must be maintained.

Murphy Won't Talk.

Recorder John R. Murphy of Allegheny declines to discuss the exposure of The Gazette. He says that he has been used to this kind of thing for the past 26 years and can stand it. He says that the police force over there is a great, happy family and the city is running along quietly and orderly. The recorder remarked that the taxpayers were not kicking.

B. A. Earl, proprietor of a bottling establishment in Ann street, talked yesterday about the change which has taken place in the First and Fourth wards of Allegheny during the past 18 months. Mr. Earl has been in the bottling business since 1889, and he said yesterday that never before had he seen conditions as bad as they are now.

"I want to tell you that in my time I never knew so many speakeasies and so-called clubs. Of course, I suppose there are a few clubs for members only, but most of these over here are nothing more than speakeasies, where any person can get in and buy a drink.

"A man started in business down here in my district a year ago last April. Now he bottles more beer than all the rest of the Allegheny bottlers combined. I say no man can go into business as he did, and after being in such a short time have the trade he has without outside help.

"I have been told that when any person wants to open a speakeasy all that is necessary is to see this man and buy beer from him and he will not be molested at all.

Increasing Rapidly.

"Speakeasies have sprung up about here with marvelous rapidity. You can find them any place, and more are being opened all the time. I never had much of that trade and don't want it, where you have to guarantee protection with your cases of beer."

A typical gambling house in Allegheny is in an alley, some little distance from a main thoroughfare. The alley is badly paved and very dark, but the way to the door is shown plainly by a large white light that burns all night, or at least until the early hours of the morning, when the place closes for lack of trade.

To reach the door one must stumble back through the alley and crawl up a rickety flight of stairs to a small porch. Vigorous ringing of the bell by Gazette men on a recent visit brought no response, so knocking on the door was tried. The echo of the first knock had not died away before a jovial voice cried out: "Come in."

The house was actually so wide open that the door was not locked. All that was necessary was to turn the knob and walk in. And this, too, on a Sunday night!

Seated in a room that seemed to answer for a kitchen was a large man, heavy of body but jolly to the core.

"Come right in, boys," was his cheery greeting. "Sorry the game has broken up. It quit early tonight."

It was explained that a terrible thirst was consuming the party, whereat the large man smiled expansively. "Step right back to the bar," said he. "I guess we can fix that thirst all right."

Improvised Bar Built.

The other room was absolutely bare of furniture of any kind. An improvised bar had been built of beer cases, with two heavy planks laid across them. The whole was about the height of an ordinary bar. The room was filled with beer cases, and a shelf back of the bar held numerous bottles. A large ice chest occupied considerable space back of the bar.

The dispenser of drinks was a big fellow, with a rather unpleasant face, who was inclined to look with disfavor upon his visitors. However, his ill feeling did not last, and he readily served bottles of beer and apologized for not drinking himself by explaining that he had already had a trifle too much.

The outside door opened unceremoniously and two or three young fellows walked in. They greeted the large man in the kitchen and walked back to the bar with as much freedom as though they had been in a saloon. A drink was ordered and served, and the newcomers made themselves agreeable.

Conversation was all of gambling of some sort or other. The bartender and others related various experiences in that slang that is hardly intelligible to the callow youth unfamiliar with the game of poker and its kindred amusements.

Inquiry developed that business had been brisk all day Sunday. The statements printed in The Gazette, according to the barkeeper, did not amount to anything. It was merely some sort of a political deal, he said, and would blow over in time without causing any trouble for the proprietors of clubs and speakeasies.

After some little of this edifying conversation the party broke up. The Gazette representatives left, a pressing invitation to return ringing in their ears and having been urged never to pass through that part of the city without dropping in.

ANDERSON BELLIGERENT.

Allegheny School Director Sells Stone to the Board and Refuses to Pay Back the Money.

The Fifteenth ward school board, Allegheny, is deep in trouble which may be aired in the courts. An illegal purchase of building material has resulted in the demand for the resignation of one of the members of the board and the whole board may resign before the difficulty is settled.

James Anderson, a city inspector of streets and a member of the Fifteenth ward board, is accused of being the author of the new troubles. Anderson had his yard filled with blocks of stone taken from old streets in Allegheny which were being repaved. Stone was needed to repair the foundations of the heating furnaces in the Woods Run school building and Anderson made a deal with the members of the school board to furnish the stone from the stock in his yard. The board paid Anderson $68 for the stone.

The fact that Anderson had sold the stone to the board, although he a director himself, became known through the ward and protests were heard. The school directors discovered that they had violated the law which forbids any school director being interested, directly or indirectly, in any purchase or contract made by the board. To correct the error the members of the board at the meeting a couple of nights ago proposed to annul the contract and asked Anderson to return the money. Anderson said that the warrant had been cashed and refused to refund the money paid him for the stone.

Anderson was asked to resign but he refused and said he would contest the matter in court before he would either resign or pay back the money.

The matter has created somewhat of a sensation in the Fifteenth ward and the opponents of the board are demanding that the board members should resign or else clear their skirts by raising the money among themselves and putting it back into the school treasury.

This is the second serious error that the new board has made. Its failure to certify to the returns of the recent bond election has raised a dispute in court as to whether the bonds can be legally issued. The matter is still pending.

FLINNITES IN A BIG HURRY

May Try to Hold Primaries Soon After the First of the Year.

STALWARTS WILL BALK THEIR GAME

Confident That They Have Enough Men On the County Committee to Bar the Schemes of the Machine Men—J. O. Brown Still Absent.

Republican primaries for the nomination of congressmen, legislators, state delegates, county officers and Pittsburgh councilmen will probably be held January 18. This information comes from one of the machine candidates for county office.

"I have been ordered to have all of my delegates set up by the latter part of next week," said the candidate yesterday. "The orders came from Senator Flinn. He has not told me just when the primaries are to be held, but I am expecting that the nominating election for everything will occur January 18.

"It has been impossible to ascertain whether the stalwarts intend to put a county ticket in the field. If it is found that the opposition has a slate, the primaries may be held even earlier than January 18."

It was suggested to the gentleman that he was presuming considerably upon the ability of Senator Flinn to control the county committee. To bring forward the primaries to January or any month prior to the first Saturday of June, 1902, it will be necessary to change the rules, and that requires a majority vote. The stalwarts are confident that they have enough votes on the committee to bar the scheme of the machine men.

No Stalwart Men Named.

So far the stalwarts have not put any candidates in the field for county officers. There are a number of strong men who are willing to run and many active Republicans are eager to come in as delegates. It will be decided in a few days whether there will be legislative, state delegate and county tickets. There will be stalwart candidates for congress and for councils.

Recorder Murphy said yesterday afternoon that he did not know anything about early primaries, but he did admit that some of the North Side leaders intended to meet Friday or Saturday to make up the congressional, senatorial, assembly and state delegate slates for the North Side.

The recorder professed to be poorly informed about candidates for these places. He said that he had heard that there was a movement against Congressman W. H. Graham, but that he had been unable to learn who was back of it. "I would like to see a man able to defeat Graham in this district," he remarked. He explained that he thought there was not a person on the North Side of the river who is capable of doing the job.

The recorder said that Representatives W. T. Marshall and John H. Henderson want to be candidates again, and remarked that he had heard of no opposition to them. As to the return of Representative Charles W. Neeb, he thought it probable that the gentleman did not care for another term. Aside from having heard that John Sauerb wanted to go to the house, Mr. Murphy did not know of any available timber.

On the senatorship the recorder was not willing to express an opinion. He declined to say whether he favored the election of ex-Mayor Charles Geyer instead of Senator Charles A. Muehlbronner. There is not much doubt about him declaring for Geyer later along.

The fact that the North Side leaders intend holding this slating bee is evidence that they have got a tip from Flinn headquarters to be prepared for early primaries.

J. O. Brown was expected to return from the east yesterday. He did not arrive. This change in plan, coupled with the fact that Senator William Flinn went east Monday night, would indicate that there are "doings" in that part of the state.

They Still Have Hopes.

Robert Ostermaier said that no word had been received of the governor's intentions, but that he and his friends were still hopeful that Recorder Brown would be dismissed. As an offset to this, one of Senator Flinn's close friends in the banking business said that Major Brown would not be disturbed.

From an extremely reliable source it was learned that if Recorder Brown is removed, the governor's act will not have the approval of Attorney General John P. Elkin. That official is opposed to any change.

The formal announcement of the candidacy of Mr. Elkin for governor may not come until after the first of the year. About that time the Indiana county Republican committee will have a meeting. It is possible that advantage will be taken of the gathering to make known the intentions of Mr. Elkin.

TWELVE PAGES.

Carnegie's Generosity.

Mr. Carnegie's affection for Pittsburgh was shown again yesterday in his usual substantial manner. To his previous donations for the intellectual development of this city he has added $2,000,000. Half of this sum goes to the endowment fund of the museum and art gallery of Carnegie institute, thus making it $2,000,000 and insuring an income of $100,000 a year. The other million dollars given by him yesterday is for the technological school, making the endowment of this benefaction and the income therefrom the same as that of the museum and art gallery. At the same time, acting on Mr. Carnegie's advice, all the difficulties that had been imagined concerning a site for the technological school have been brushed away by the decision to erect the necessary buildings for the institution on the ground fronting in Forbes street, between the Carnegie institute and Boquet street, the location originally proposed. This plot of ground is 11 acres in extent and affords a sufficient site for the erection of all the necessary buildings. The ambitious project for a 60-acre site would have required the expenditure of several million dollars, a sum the city is not in a position to provide, while money enough to purchase the Forbes and Boquet street site is already in hand, an appropriation for it having been made from the last bond issue. While some at first may regret that the technological institution is to be without its own campus and other open spaces that go with a college or university where land is cheap, it must be remembered that the site determined on will give the students all Schenley park for a recreation ground. No college or university that we know of is so well supplied. There is also the additional advantage in the program now adopted by the board of trustees that it brings the library, art gallery and museum into close contact with the technological institution owing to their proximity, thus giving the students easy access to the priceless advantages of the older foundation. Their nearness to the magnificent library will be especially valuable to them. A better arrangement could not have been made and now that the plans have been adopted it really seems surprising that any other arrangement could have been thought of. With the park for a playground and a rich store house of learning all ready to be drawn on the technological school will be especially favored.

For what he has done and is doing for it Pittsburgh has almost ceased to thank Mr. Carnegie in words, for it has none left that will do justice to the subject. But its sincere gratitude will be shown in the largest use of the benefits he has made his wealth provide, "free to the people." May he long live to enjoy the satisfaction that must come from the good he has done.

Root Out the Dens.

The Gazette's revelations of the contaminating influences that have been permitted to fasten themselves on a portion of Allegheny city develop surprises even for those who have been cognizant of the evil, and there is a growing determination that steps shall be taken to rid the city of the foul blight. If officials charged with the duty of suppressing and punishing crime do not soon take hold of the matter moral agencies will be invoked to grapple with the evils. The speakeasies and gambling dens that have taken possession of the municipality across the river in defiance of a healthy public sentiment must go, and the sooner the better. The people as a whole are against them. Who is for them, that they should be permitted to thrive and flourish? Root them out and let decent people and decent enterprises take their places.

Anticipating the Work of Congress.

It is quite possible that the lively agitation of the reciprocity and tariff revision questions that has been inaugurated thus far in advance of the session of congress may have as its basis some design other than that of legitimate statesmanship. The positive assurance that was telegraphed broadcast last week from Washington that at a conference between the president and members of the ways and means committee of the house it had been decided to prepare a bill abolishing all the war taxes, has been followed by a flat denial that such an agreement had been reached or that the question of war taxes had been under discussion at all. In explanation it is said that the story was fabricated in behalf of certain interests that are seeking to be relieved of the additional tax.

From now until congress actually assembles there will be, naturally, much speculation as to its probable policy and action concerning questions that are open to some more definite revision and settlement. The late President McKinley is being freely quoted as having championed in his last speech a radical change in the policy of the Republican party in relation to the tariff and reciprocity. And yet we think much of this argument has been read into the Buffalo utterances of the lamented president. What Mr. McKinley did actually say was, "If, perchance, some of our tariffs are no longer needed for revenue or to encourage and protect our industries at home, why should they not be employed to extend and promote our markets abroad?"

We have no doubt had President McKinley lived he would have addressed himself earnestly to answering the query which he here propounds in the light of subsequent developments and the exigencies that might arise in the creation and administration of national laws. This same wisdom may be looked for on the part of the leaders of the party who must needs continue the great work from which President McKinley was so suddenly and tragically removed. The whole question of tariff revision and reciprocity is one in which the wisdom of the Republican policy may be expected to find expression and adaptation. To that party alone is due the marvelous progress and development of our national resources, and in the future, as in the past, it will be found adjusting the laws to the enlarging and expanding necessities of national growth.

The Kentucky Idea.

The governor of Kentucky lost his temper while writing to the governor of Indiana that letter scolding him for refusing to deliver Messrs. Taylor and Finley into the hands of the Kentucky authorities. Gov. Beckham acknowledges that he did not expect Gov. Durbin to surrender the fugitives, but says he was surprised at the letter that accompanied the return of the papers. This letter expressed the opinion of Gov. Durbin that the accused men would not receive an impartial trial in Kentucky, and it went into some detail in support of this opinion. Thereupon Gov. Beckham opened the vials of his wrath and poured forth invective, followed by a string of platitudes on Kentucky's greatness that would make a great hit at a Democratic barbecue.

In declaring that Gov. Durbin had made himself a party to the crime by his refusal, Gov. Beckham adopts the Kentucky idea that to be a Republican is to be one of Goebel's murderers. Taylor and Finley are presumed by law to be innocent until they have been found guilty, but Gov. Beckham must have found them guilty already, or he could scarcely accuse Gov. Durbin of making himself a party to the murder of Goebel by refusing to surrender these accused men.

The declaration of Gov. Beckham that life is as safe in Kentucky as in any other part of the world does not agree with the figures recently presented by a Louisville clergyman, who showed that the state, with its 2,000,000 population, has more murders than Great Britain, with a population 20 times as large. There have been 145 murders in Louisville in five years, and there has been one case of capital punishment. The average punishment of murderers in Kentucky is two years' imprisonment, but when a Democratic state government sets out to saddle the murder of Goebel on political opponents nothing less than a Cantrill trial and life imprisonment for a half dozen men will satisfy.

The assassin of Goebel ought to be punished as he deserves, but the course of the recent trials is anything but convincing that the Kentucky courts have yet indicted the right man, although several are undergoing punishment for the crime.

The Courts and Public Welfare.

In Chicago a reporter who wrote an attack on a court decision has been sentenced to 30 days in jail for contempt. The managing editor of the same paper was sentenced to jail for 40 days on the same charge. The majority stockholders of the publication and two cartoonists will be dealt with if the officers of the court can catch them. The judge who passed sentence on the reporter and the managing editor said that if the matter published were allowed to go unnoticed it would pave the way for other attacks, and that "the judiciary if not held in respect would fall with all other democratic government." The offending article the court declared to be not merely an attack on the people and the court, but "a bold threat to every other court."

There is truth in this. We believe thoroughly in the liberty of the press, but not in its license. We do not hold any human institution to be absolutely above criticism, and the courts are human institutions. But a court decision is not a matter to be lightly dealt with by the public press. We are not informed as to the merits of the criticism of the Chicago court and therefore pass it by to observe that there is a deplorable tendency to make the courts the football of political and journalistic discussion. There have been notable instances of this in our own state, its highest tribunal having been furiously attacked in a number of papers in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. The assaults have been venomous and malicious, and all of a character that may be mildly described as tending to darken counsel with words without knowledge. The plain purpose has been to bring the court and its members into disrepute for mere temporary partisan gain and not to promote the pure ends of justice. The supreme court has submitted to these assaults with rare patience. But a time always comes when patience ceases to be a virtue and some day the Pennsylvania tribunal will decide that the time has arrived to assert the rights and dignity of the judiciary, that democratic government may not perish in this commonwealth. When the court makes up its mind that not the court itself but the public welfare is the real point of attack it will move as quickly and as unsparingly as the importance of the case demands.

It Might Be Worse.

The excess of American revenues over expenses, called "a troublesome surplus" by some writers, is a sort of trouble that every other government in the world would like to borrow. The trouble that most governments encounter, and one which is particularly prevalent at the present time in Europe, is that of making the revenues come up to the expenses. The tendency of receipts is to fail to reach the estimate of chancellors of exchequers, and the tendency of expenditures is to grow beyond what was deemed likely.

How the treasury ministers of the European countries that have reported deficits lately would rejoice if they were to discover that they had erred on the other side of the account! How glad they would be if they were to discover that their revenues had grown and their expenditures decreased in an unexpected manner! A "troublesome surplus" is vastly more comfortable than a troublesome deficit would be.

Poisoning the Oysters.

Naturally there will be some uneasiness resulting from the discovery by pure food inspectors in the Altoona district that poisonous preservatives are being used by some shippers of oysters. It is said that of 62 samples sent to Pittsburgh for analysis more than half were found to contain either formaldehyde or boracic acid, both of which are dangerous, even in small quantities.

During the past summer there was an outcry against the use of the same preservatives in milk, investigation having shown that they had caused much sickness among unsuspecting patrons of unscrupulous dealers. The denunciation of such practices and the prosecution of some of those who had endangered the public health had a good effect, and it was thought that the last had been heard of formaldehyde and boracic acid as preservatives in liquids and edibles. Now that oysters have been subjected to the same process it is realized that there is necessity for renewal of vigilance, and exposure and prosecution of the guilty dealers. The public health needs all the safeguards that can be thrown around it, and when such a popular article of food as the oyster is being made unfit for human stomachs the efforts at prevention cannot be too prompt. Altoona has sounded a note of warning which it will be well to heed, and if any poisoned oysters are coming to the local market the people should know where they are being sold.

The spectacle of Abdul Hamid explaining to his people that he magnanimously granted the French claims some time ago and that the French fleet later came to make a friendly visit recalls some of those funny proclamations that the Spanish governors of Cuba and the Philippine islands used to issue for the benefit of unsuspecting natives.

A few days ago John Bull was having trouble with fog, and now it is with storms along the coasts. There is a heap of trouble on the old man's mind, one way and another, not counting General Kitchener's frequent regrets.

The Arkansas Gazette printed a rooster crowing over the election returns from Mississippi. The Democratic rooster has to be content with short rations these days.

Navigators report themselves pleased with yesterday's sample rain and urge the consignment of a large number of the same brand of showers.

Pennsylvania proudly points to the fact that her corn crop is up to normal and her buckwheat crop above the average. Pass the flapjacks, please!

Thus far neither Governor Durbin of Indiana nor Governor Beckham of Kentucky has seen fit to call out the militia.

The new constitution disfranchising the negro voters of Alabama went through according to program.

Dennis Kearney, of sand lots fame, will be missed in the coming discussion of the Chinese exclusion question.

St. Louis is going ahead with her fair just as though Buffalo never had such a thing as a deficit.

California's crop reports continue to be full of prunes.

NEW YORK NOTE BOOK

A Policeman Stuck Fast in a Transom Causes an Edict That All Officers Must Train Down to Fighting Weight—Officers Take to Athletics.

*The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, NEW YORK, Nov. 12.*

Policemen here are trying to cut down their weight. This rainy, muddy day was not a good one for rapid outdoor exercise, but the paunchy policeman on his beat walked with more animation than usual, and thumped his heel down hard on the pavement every time he thought of the imperative necessity of getting rid of some of his avoirdupois. The order to train down came from Police Commissioner Murphy yesterday. He had heard of a big policeman being stuck in a transom of an East End store while a small boy robbed the till before his bulging eyes, and he resolved that fat policemen were not of much use when their duties required them to go through a small opening rapidly to prevent a felony. In the particular instance referred to, the policeman could not move one way or the other until a citizen came to the rescue. Over in Jersey City the chief of police issued a training down order to the force about a year ago, and the members of that body have been doing things with dumbbells, Indian clubs and trapeze bars ever since. They are a trimmer lot of men than they were, and the people of New York do not like the idea of "the finest police force in the world" being less soldierlike than "the jaybirds over in Jersey." There seems to be something in the life of New York policemen that makes for embonpoint, and it is safe to say that there are more fat men on the force of this city in proportion to the whole number than can be found anywhere else in America. Pittsburgh has some stout policemen, but the hills of the city has a great deal to do with keeping down the weight of the men who have a leaning toward larger girth than is desired. By the time a hill policeman has covered his beat, especially if done at a brisk gait, he is not afraid of gaining weight for that day, at all events. In New York they take things easier—at least they have since election.

Nat Goodwin Weary of England.

Theatrical circles have a new topic of discussion. There is a rumor that Nat C. Goodwin and Maxine Elliott may soon return to Broadway. They have had enough of the English climate. Mr. Goodwin has been out of the cast of "When We Were Twenty-One" in London for some time, on account of illness. He is tired of it. While the British public like Goodwin and continue to patronize his performances in paying numbers, this does not recompense the actor for the loss of his health, and it is said he recalls that he was not very well on a previous visit to England. If he can get rid of his London playhouse on satisfactory terms, it is said, he may return to America next month. He wants to dispose of his country estate in England, Jackwood, according to further reports. If all this can be done, and he can get a theater here to play in, we may have the comedian here before Christmas. Nothing is heard about Miss Maxine Elliot's health, so it is assumed that she is well and ready to go anywhere that may please her husband.

Maude Adams Cult in Full Bloom.

Now that Maude Adams has shown that as "Phoebe of the Ringlets," she can be quite as dainty as "Lady Babbie," all the girls in town are wild to go and see her in "Quality Street." The Maude Adams cult is an insistent thing, and every time this little actress (who, by the way, acted continuously for 20 years before being recognized as a stage genius) makes a fresh hit in a new play, the craze become irresistibly virulent. It is safe to say that nothing in New York theatricals is talked about so enthusiastically as Maude Adams and her new character of "Phoebe" in "Quality Street." It was rather hard for Grace George to blossom out in a new play at the Republic tonight, with all this Maude Adams worship in the air, but she did it, and with success, too.

Anticipating the Horse Show.

New York is getting ready for its annual enthusiasm over the horse show. The big Madison Square Garden is in the hands of scores of workmen, who are preparing it for the influx of fashion and human and equine beauty, and there will be a general suggestion of welcome in the garden when it is thrown open for the admission of the world next week. The box office will be open tomorrow and Thursday for the sale of reserved seats and boxes for the season, and on and after Friday next for reserved seats for any single performance.

Mariners Warned by Seagulls.

Everything has been made snug in New York harbor tonight. It is officially announced that a big storm from the southwest is on the way, and warning signals were displayed this afternoon at Sandy Hook and at the weather bureau building in Manhattan. Mariners were prepared for the announcement long before it came from Washington. The seagulls came in from the open sea in large numbers this morning and flew about over the waves of the harbor so low that their wings clipped in the water. That presaged a gale, and every old tar knew it.

Coming Republican Leader.

The old rumor that Lieut. Gov. Woodruff may remove from Brooklyn to Manhattan and become the Republican leader of Greater New York was revived today. He has offered his house in Brooklyn for sale, and this is taken to mean that he means to become a live citizen of the metropolis. It is the conviction of persons living on this side of the East river that only "dead ones" consent to take up a permanent residence at the "cemetery end of the big bridge;" so if Woodruff means to direct Republican movements in Greater New York, the first requisite is that he shall move from Brooklyn. He is in the Adirondacks now, so nothing definite has been heard from him on the subject, and his friends here have a clear sweep for their guessing.

Raines Law Hotels Threatened.

The proposition of Justice Jerome and other reformers that saloonkeepers should be allowed to keep their places open in stated hours on Sundays has drawn renewed attention to the unspeakable Raines law hotels all over New York. It is the hope of Jerome and his colleagues that the Raines hotels will be driven out of existence if the new arrangement can be perfected. That they are anything better than low groggeries, in nine cases out of ten, no New Yorker today will deny. In many cases—most cases, in fact—the Raines law hotel is worse than a groggery. The Raines sandwich, without ordering which the law says one may not buy intoxicating liquors on Sundays or after regular closing hours, has long been a greasy and moldy joke. The perspiring morsel of fat ham, with the two slabs of fossilized bread, are familiar to all Raines hotel habitues as the "property" sandwich, which does duty on the table for a whole evening, and which none of the customers either orders or pays for. The ten bedrooms required by statute are narrow slips of space between crazy partitions, each containing a cot-bed and perhaps a chair. The late Steve Brodie, whose saloon was and is a tumble-down shanty on the Bowery, with so little upstairs room that a dozen men could hardly have squeezed in, was turned into a "hotel" so soon as the Raines law was passed, and the queer little cubbyholes on the second floor that Brodie called "rooms" are still to be observed from the "L" cars as one passes along the Bowery. It is thought that the palmy days of the Raines hotels are departing, even if the law should not be repealed, for Jerome and Low know the game too well to permit it to go on under an administration whose watchword will be decency.

Croker's Sly Way.

Richard Croker has an ingenious way of dodging his oft-expressed determination not to be interviewed again for publication. A reporter tried to tease him into talking this morning. He told Croker that Mr. Low intended to call on Governor Odell, and waited for a response. Mr. Croker squirmed in silence for a moment. Then, as an idea illumined his brain, he smiled slyly and said: "Now you want me to say that New York is going to be governed from Albany; but I am not saying anything at present." And thus, you see, Croker managed to cast the slur upon the incoming administration that he desired, constructively without saying a word.

Luxurious Taste for Whips.

Percy Nagle, head of the street cleaning department of New York, got another setback today. The first one hit him yesterday when he asked Police Commissioner Murphy to make some police transfers and was promptly and gracefully snubbed. It was another thing this time. He had asked the finance committee to give him $180,000 for supplies, and it came up in the board of aldermen, where it stuck. Among the items set forth by Nagle are driving whips at $2 and $4 apiece, to be used by carters. As a fair article in whips can be bought in New York for a dime, and much better ones for a quarter each, this one item gives an indication of the department to get the best that is going if possible. Unfortunately for the intention, Alderman McInnes, a Republican alderman, said that no member of the board could pass honestly on these items, and the whole matter has gone over. Tammany is showing in many ways that it means to get all it can before going out of power, both in offices and spending money for the various departments.

First Convictions Under a New Law.

Retribution for felonious election transactions has begun. Two men were sent to prison for a year each today for illegal registration. These are the first convictions for this species of offense, but there is a big list of them awaiting action by the courts.

Rehabilitation of a Bank.

When the reorganized Seventh National bank reopened for business this morning there were a number of curiosity mongers to watch the process. Some of them stood outside and peered through the glass doors and windows, while others, most of them business men and clerks, took a position in the bank and watched the customers go to the tellers' windows and the bookkeepers inside. The place was spick-and-span and all the clerks looked likewise. Edwin Gould, the new president, was there watching affairs, and evidently satisfied with the prospects. Things moved along smoothly, and half an hour after the opening there was no indication that this was the first day of a bank that might have closed for good a few months ago. The building occupied by the bank in Liberty street is rather small and dingy, and it is probable that it will move into the new Jewelers' building in course of erection at Maiden lane and Broadway by May 1, if it is finished.

Pittsburgh's Neighbors Going Abroad.

When the steamer Philadelphia of the American line sails from New York for Liverpool tomorrow it will not have any Pittsburghers among its passengers. It will carry some neighbors of Pittsburgh, however. George F. Neale of Butler and H. C. Stiff of Johnstown are on the list. The Philadelphia used to be the Paris, and in the Spanish-American war did good service as the cruiser Harvard.

Humiliation in Store for the Big Chief.

"Big Chief" Devery is on the sick list. Some of the cruel wags around police headquarters diagnose his ailment as "St. Jerome's dance." It is current opinion that Justice Jerome may be called upon to conduct the examination of Devery in court on charges of oppression and abuse which O'Neill, the recalcitrant patrolman, has brought against him. This will be a bitter pill for Devery, to be haled before the justice to whom he has so often contemptuously referred as "the little tin soldier."

Depew Quits the Show Business.

Chauncey Depew does not care anything about his opera house, just burned down at Peekskill. When the property came into his hands there were many jests made about the senator running a "one-night stand," and all kinds of facetious questions were hurled at him as to percentages, "first money" and so forth, which he accepted with characteristic good humor. Now that the theater has been burned down, the senator says he has "quit the show business," and a business block will go up on the site of the defunct temple of light and pleasure.

WHAT THE EDITORS ARE DISCUSSING.

THE STATE PRESS.

Beans cannot be as attractive as formerly in Boston, for that city is now making plans for a $10,000,000 exposition. Think of the self-denial that sum involves.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

A physician has given fair warning to girls not to wear high collars. He claims high collars are injurious. Why doesn't he also put the high collars of young men under the ban?—Bradford Era.

Croker floored David B. Hill at Kansas City in the summer of '90. Hill now witnesses, without tears, the flooring of Croker, to which he contributed. In politics all things come to him who waits—and works.—Scranton Tribune.

The Pittsburgh Gazette is exposing the speakeasies of Allegheny. In this connection it may be remarked that the number and character of the drunks arrested on Sundays in New Castle lead naturally to an inquiry as to where they get their liquor.—New Castle Herald.

While out hunting near his home at Flatwoods Friday afternoon Clarence Nicholson, a 15-year-old boy, attempted to fire the old musket which he carried, when it exploded, so badly shattering his left hand that amputation may be necessary. He is in the Connellsville hospital.—Uniontown Genius.

A young man who started in life as the conductor of a horse car in a Massachusetts town is now general superintendent of the elevated service of the "L" in Boston. There are many young men today, however, who would see nothing in this example to stimulate their exertions for advancement in life, because there are no longer any horse cars.—Oil City Blizzard.

A number of exchanges have commented on the election of Harry R. Wilson as judge of Clarion county and recalled the fact that for 25 years no Republican has been elected to any important office in the county except those provided for by the law allowing the minority party a representative on the board of county commissioners and county auditors. The late judicial contest was the first real contest, since in all other judicial contests some other county was interested and the vote of Clarion county was only a part of the entire vote cast.—Clarion Jacksonian.

IN THE SMALL TOWNS.

A new plate glass is being put in Hawk's restaurant to take the place of the one recently broken by a small boy.—Freeport Herald.

The hog ordinance is being freely condemned and the author of it criticised by all those who have hogs within the borough.—Kittanning Times.

The city of Buffalo lost three million dollars on the exposition. Let's have one at Grampian.—Grampian Press.

The latest thing in the combine business in Waynesburg seems to be a bear trust. Last night five bears were on the streets at one time.—Waynesburg Times.

An Akron man got a cherry pie the other day for having guessed the exact number of cherries in the pie. The Akron man can always be depended upon to find out if there's anything in it when it comes to pie.—Canton News Democrat.

A pair of young oxen, attached to an old-fashioned cart, attracted a great deal of attention on the streets of Media one day this week. The animals were the property of Maris Worrall of Marple, and he is training them to work in the good old-fashioned way. The animals were very docile and the trolley cars did not scare them. Such rigs are seldom seen in the borough.—Media Ledger.

A cow thief seems to be the latest form of criminal operating in Connellsville within the past few days. Two cows have disappeared and have not been found. This villainy is looked upon with the same abhorrence as horse stealing, and the perpetrators of the crimes, if caught, will likely suffer a severe penalty.—Connellsville News.

The present style of headgear adopted by Pottsville young ladies of attaching a filmy piece of stuff to their hats, with the ends in the back floating in the breezes, is but a revival of that worn years ago by the Brothertown of Winnebago Indians, who lived on the government reservation, near Fort Howard, Wis. No matter what they had on their persons when they came to the fort or went anywhere in full Indian costume or half-civilized dress, it was topped off with a piece or something about the head similar to the veil with ends.—Pottsville Republican.

EUROPEAN GOSSIP.

King Alfonso's Last Vacation at the Palace of Miramar—A Bride to Be Chosen for the Young Monarch—Some of the Requirements.

BY THE DUCHESSE DE BELLIERE.

There was a decidedly sad note in the royal departure from Miramar this season. It was the last of young Alfonso's many happy vacations at the royal marine villa. In future he will pay it only brief visits, and then as his mother's guest. Next summer he will be formally proclaimed king of Spain and must alter his yearly program accordingly. It is now looked upon as a settled thing that the months of June and July will be spent by him at Granja, where he can hunt to his heart's content in the Riofrio mountains, for everybody knows that young Alfonso has inherited his father's love of the chase. The warmer months are to be passed on the sea. Arrangements are already being made for his majesty's voyages along both the northern and southern coasts, when he will complete his naval studies and at the same time visit several departments which he has not yet seen. It will probably be well into the fall before King Alfonso starts off on his land journey. He is to make an extensive tour through France, Austria, Russia, Germany and England, studying the governments, customs and people of these different countries and incidentally keeping his eye open for a bonny princess whom at an early date he may invite to share his throne. Just where a suitable bride will be found is a question often discussed at the Escurial. Alfonso's choice is limited. The fiancee must be young, a Roman Catholic, or an accommodating princess who will consent to change her faith before the marriage, and, above all, of a nationality pleasing to the Spanish parliament and people. Were this latter not a consideration the regent's country would most likely furnish the queen, as there are any number of charming young archduchesses in Austria who would admirably fill the bill; but Spaniards have firmly set their foot down and will hear of no more Hapsburgs at Madrid. Like Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, King Alfonso has a will of his own, and is determined that sentiment as well as politics shall stand for something in the selection of his queen.

San Sebastian people, realizing that the adieus on this occasion marked the end of a bright chapter in their boy king's life, decided to fete it accordingly. This was just what the queen regent wished to avoid when she had the time of their departure changed from 10 to the matutinal 7:30. The people got wind of the change, however, late the night before and at dawn hundreds were seen flocking to the station. The procession in the early morning sunshine looked most picturesque as it walked along the platform to the handsomely-decorated waiting-room. First came the municipal mace-bearers, their gorgeous purple robes glittering with gold embroideries, and carrying the imposing silver maces. Behind these were the queen regent and King Alfonso. The latter, in his simple uniform of infantry cadet, with the Golden Fleece well in evidence, seemed bubbling over with mirth, and gave one the impression that had his dignified parent not been along his majesty might have broken into a hop-skip-and-jump at any moment. As it was, he did get a chance to vent his overflowing spirits.

When the mayor, after presenting the royal ladies with bouquets of roses tied with the violet-colored ribbons of the city, proposed three cheers for her majesty, the royal kepi was not waved, but simply flung into the air and adeptly caught three times by its owner, each movement being accompanied by such a lusty "Long live the queen!" as made Senor Loriga laughingly murmur something about "dignity" to his enthusiastic pupil. For no royal travelers in the world is the amount of precaution taken that is exercised for the Spanish family. When the king goes from San Sebastian to Madrid (a 13 hours' ride) soldiers stationed four feet apart line the entire route. All tunnels are doubly guarded and brightly lighted, a pilot engine clears the track, while, to make things still surer, both the director of the ministry of public works and the head engineer of the line over which royalty is traveling ride with the engine driver. As a further precaution the day and night preceding the journey the royal train is specially guarded, and under no pretext is a stranger permitted to approach it. This restriction proved a bitter disappointment to a large party of tourists, who, armed with passports and red-sealed papers, had come to San Sebastian the day before.

THE DEATH ROLL.

John Graff.

The funeral services over the body of the late John Graff, who died at his home, 319 North Beatty street, Monday afternoon, will be held this afternoon at his late residence, and will be conducted by the Rev. John Weibley of Bethany Lutheran church. Mr. Graff was a member of one of the oldest and most prominent families in this section of the state. He was the son of Henry Graff and Elizabeth Lebengier, and was born in Westmoreland county, January 14, 1829. When quite young he commenced his business career as a clerk in the office of his father in Philadelphia, his parent being the senior member of the firm of H. & P. Graff, engaged in the transportation business in the days of the old canals throughout the state. In 1845 his parents removed to Pittsburgh and in [illegible] he followed them and was a traveling salesman for the firm of Graff, Lindsay & Co., iron merchants, which his father had established. In 1852 he organized the firm of Graff, Bennett & Co., and was the active head of the firm until 1887, when he retired. He was unmarried and is survived by one brother, William, who lives in Colorado, and by several nephews and nieces, who reside in this city.

Edward Maginn.

Edward Maginn, a well-known confectioner of this city, died at his home, No. 15 Church avenue, Allegheny, after an illness of nearly two years. Mr. Maginn was born at Dromore, Ireland, January 25, 1831. He came to this country and at once started in business as a cracker baker and manufacturing confectioner. At the time of his death he owned a factory in Church avenue, Allegheny. His warehouse and general office is at Nos. 913-915 Liberty avenue. The funeral will be held at the Maginn home tomorrow and the burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery. Mr. Maginn leaves one sister and two brothers—Charles, whose home is in Chicago, and Daniel of this city.

Mrs. Agnes S. Lusk.

EVANS CITY, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. Agnes S. Lusk, nee Clow, wife of the late Dr. Amos Lusk of Zelienople, is dead. She died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Gelbach, wife of Banker Gelbach of Zelienople. She was the sister of Mrs. M. V. Metzger and R. I. Clow, both of East End, Pittsburgh. Following children survive her: Attorney W. H. Lusk, superintendent of the Pittsburgh & Western railroad at New Castle; Maj. J. L. Lusk of the United States engineering corps, Washington, D. C.; Julian Lusk of Zelienople, and the daughter at whose home she died. Interment will be made at Zelienople Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. M. B. Morrow.

Mrs. M. B. Morrow, widow of the late Thomas M. Morrow of 1503 Buena Vista street, Allegheny, died yesterday evening at 9:30 o'clock. Mrs. Morrow was born at Connellsburg, Fulton county, this state, removing to Allegheny in 1872, where she has since resided. Her only surviving relatives are one brother in Altoona and four brothers and two sisters living on the old homestead at McConnelsburg. Mrs. Morrow was very active in charitable work and since the opening of the Allegheny Free Dispensary has been general manager.

Joseph Fuhrer.

Joseph Fuhrer, a well known business man of Lawrenceville, is dead. His death took place in the Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, on Monday. He was born in Allegheny in March, 1836, and has been engaged in the wholesale liquor business since 1868. He is survived by his wife and four children. The funeral will be held from the late residence of Mr. Fuhrer, 542 North St. Clair street, at a time to be fixed by the arrival of the body.

A. L. Dunbar.

A. L. Dunbar, a prominent young operator employed by the Pennsylvania railroad, died at his home in Transfer, Pa., yesterday morning. He had been sick but a short time, and worked up until Thursday of last week, leaving for home Friday morning. He grew rapidly worse and died yesterday morning, stricken with typhoid fever. Funeral services will be held at his late home this evening.

Mrs. Susan Wild.

ZELIENOPLE, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. Susan Wild, wife of Henry Wild, died today at her home here, aged 50 years. She was a sister of Mrs. P. Schmidt of Stockton avenue, Allegheny, and Mrs. H. Langhans of California avenue, Avalon. Philip Hallstein of Homestead is a brother. Interment will take place at Zelienople Thursday at 11 a. m.

Consul General L. W. Osborn.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—The state department today received word that Consul General Luther W. Osborn, the representative of the United States at Apia, Samoa and the Tonga islands, died suddenly October 27. Mr. Osborne was appointed from Nebraska in 1897.

Obituary Notes.

S. S. Spencer, manager of the Farnham & Co. cotton mills, Lancaster, Pa., and for many years one of the leading business men of Lancaster, died this morning from acute indigestion. He was 76 years old.

Sleepy Sandy's Soliloquy.

"The trouble with sawing wood," soliloquized Sleep Sandy, as he surveyed the pile, "is that when you see the saw and then see the wood, you wish you didn't see the saw nor the wood you don't saw. Then you get to seeing saws and wood you haven't sawn. The result is, the wood you have been seeing you don't saw."

Rolls over and goes to sleep.

They Enjoyed It.

It was on Sunday, and while the weather was mild it was a trifle cool on the open cars.

At least the girl in the summer clothes and light wrap found it so, and said as much to the rest of the party.

One of the young men had a Sunday Gazette in his hand.

"I have heard," he said, "that a newspaper is an excellent thing to supplement the warmth of ordinary clothes. Suppose you put this paper around your waist under your coat, and you won't feel so cold."

"Yes, that's a good idea," chimed in another young man of the party. "Wrap the Gazette around you and watch the old lady grow young."

The girl looked daggers at the young man, but the rest of the passengers on the car roared with delight.

Look Out.

"The shooting stars are about due," said Mr. Brinton.

"Yes," replied Mr. Braddock; "It's time for them to get on the firing line."

What It Reminds Him Of.

She became exceedingly enthusiastic as they moved toward the entrance of the Phipps conservatory.

"How beautiful are flowers!" she exclaimed. "Flowers singly are sweet, but how much sweeter are flowers in great masses!"

"They are," added her escort.

"I do so love these exhibitions of floriculture. The Easter lilies in the spring, the roses in June, the chrysanthemums in November, and other flowers at other times of the year. I fairly revel in them, don't you?" she demanded, with enthusiasm.

"I can't say that I'm a reveller, exactly," he replied. "Nevertheless I admire flowers so much as the next man. But I hope you won't be shocked at what I am about to say."

She looked at him in a startled manner as she replied:

"I won't be shocked if you won't say anything shocking. What were you about to say?"

"I was going to say that at this season of the year the Phipps conservatory reminds me of a deaf and dumb asylum."

"Why?"

"Because it keeps mum."

POINT BREEZE.

PERSONAL.

Latham McMullin of San Francisco, a representative of the Standard Steel Company and the Baldwin locomotive works, is at the Anderson. In speaking of the business situation on the coast, he said: "Had it not been for the strike of the longshoremen and stevedores, that has lately been settled, business on the coast would have been the best during the century. Even as it was, business has been very good. The labor trouble in San Francisco changed the complexion of the political situation in that city. The labor organizations elected a man named Schultze, a member of one of the leading theater orchestras, for mayor and elected him by a handsome majority, although there were two other candidates in the field. The election was a surprise to the politicians, but it is thought that Schultze will make a good mayor. Business in San Francisco is growing daily, and many large buildings are being put up. The commercial center is moving out Mission street, and the old residence section is giving way to large business structures. In the interior of the state the crops have been good and the fruit has been enormous this season. Rain has fallen throughout all parts of Southern California. The rainfall has been the best in the last 20 years, and the outlook for the spring trade is very flattering."

Arthur B. Cody, a distant relation of the celebrated Buffalo Bill, and secretary of the Page Woven Wire Fence Company, is at the Lincoln. "Prosperity is not a mere word any more," he said last night, "in this country. It is shown in many ways, and in particular by the large increase in the membership of the wealthy clubs. For instance, the large athletic clubs of Chicago which are the most exclusive in the country, have now waiting lists greater than ever before. Five years ago the membership dropped to such an extent that it was thought that many of these clubs would have to go out of existence."

Attorney H. B. McCullough of Jefferson county is a guest at the Anderson. "We had a unique proceeding in our county court at Brookville before I left home. A case of murder was called from the calendar and Judge John W. Reed was on the bench. The defendant's attorneys were the Hon. George A. Jenks and Charles Corbett, two of the best lawyers in Jefferson county. They scanned the jury list and then challenged the entire panel, charging irregularities in the draught of the jury. The judge thought the matter was one for consideration, and the case will be argued today."

George J. Humber, formerly owner of the tin plate mill at Connellsville, went to Chicago over the Baltimore & Ohio last evening. "Connellsville," he said, "is now enjoying prosperity. The tin plate mill is running full and the automobile factory is pushed in filling its orders. The coke industry and the railroads distribute immense sums each pay day, which is later put in circulation in the town. I am now erecting a large sheet mill that I expect to operate in the early spring. It will give employment to about 1,200 men. The product will be finished sheet steel of all kinds."

William Hardy of Hardy & Hayes has just returned from New York, where he has been attending to special business in connection with the enormous holiday business of this house. Special commissions in fine art jewelry form an important feature of this firm's business.

Carlas Deselle of Puebla, Mexico, is a guest at the Anderson.

WOMAN, LOVELY WOMAN.

From the Baltimore American.

Consider, lovely woman, how she keepeth up to date,
How she striveth to be faithful to the changing fashion plate,
How she yearneth for improvement in her mental attributes,
How she writeth on the Ethics of the Whizzing Shoot-the-Chutes,
How she talketh at the sessions of her half a dozen clubs,
How she planneth for the helping of the maid who cooks and scrubs,
How she painteth purple cupids on the useless china plaque,
How she fretteth that her garments are not plaited in the back,
How she purifieth matters when election cometh 'round,
How she seeketh ever earnestly for mental sand to pound,
How she goeth up and down the land in search of things to right,
How she vieweth the show window with a murmur of delight,
How she goeth bargain-hunting at the hour of 8 p. m.,
How she garnereth some samples and returneth home with them,
How she blocketh up the sidewalk after every matinee,
How she weepeth when the jiggly music cometh in the play,
How she hatchetteth barrooms till the fixtures have to float,
How she getteth up petitions for the privilege to vote,
How she waiteth on election day till closing of the poll,
How she getteth off the trolley car and on the street doth roll,
How she seeketh to rebuild the world upon a lovely plan,
How she pointeth out the foibles of the meek and patient man,
How she getteth in a barrel and adown the falls doth go,
How she golfeth and she rideth and she playeth some at whist,
How she writeth to professors who declare they've not been kissed,
How she walketh with a hopping like the gentle kangaroo,
How she changeth in a moment to another gait pursue,
How she taketh half the evening to attire herself in haste,
How she changeth every season the location of her waist,
How she findeth it the fashion to be willowy and slim,
How she groweth plump with suddenness at fashion's dictates grim,
How she—oh, my son, consider—yes, consider if thou like,
But when woman, lovely woman, cometh down the mental pike,
Thou wilt find it best to vacate, to bring other things to mind,
For she leaveth all our guesses in the dusty wake behind.
Yea, we wonder what she planneth, what she doeth, what she thinks,
But 'twas woman, lovely woman, was the riddle of the Sphinx,
And we rub our brows bewildered, while we wonder sore perplexed,
O'er the question, "What will woman, lovely woman, tackle next?"

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL

Notice that all the smart girls are wearing soft taffeta ribbons wound twice around the neck and tied in a four-in-hand and knotted into a fluffy rosette at the lower ends. This rosette is sometimes pinned to the middle of the shirt waist, but often it is caught up to one side, forming a little festoon across the breast to the left side.

Priscilla Saw.

Three debutantes of this season buying steel beads literally by the pound in a big shop the other day, all for purses. This indicates the continued popularity of the hand-made bead purse, since the results of these purchases are intended for Christmas gifts. One is to be made over gray satin, one over white, and the third over soft gray suede.

Likewise

The same debutantes assisted each other in the selection of lacy fans, all in white, with carved ivory sticks, and little gleams of silver spangles about the fluffy lace-edged top.

A November Bride,

In selecting the lingerie of her trousseau, had every separate article run with rose pink ribbon. "Pink is the bride's color, you know," she smiled to the friend who was with her. "Blue is entirely out, save for children, and the rosy dreams of the honeymoon are supposed to give a tinge to everything not strictly white." Wherein other November brides, who have not had the advantage of a year abroad, as this one had, may find suggestive material.

It Is Notable

That the dainty dame's locks are sweet scented nowadays, and the secret was let out the other day by a young matron who is up in all the fads and fancies of the day. After each bath of her locks she brushes orris root and a little heliotrope sachet through her hair, scattering it on top and brushing briskly, so that the fragrance permeates every wave.

And

The same dainty dame highly recommends an occasional rubbing with the palm of the hand, from root to end of the hair to promote smoothness, silkiness and gloss.

A Pretty Paperweight

In the shape of a golf girl, tam o' shanter, scarlet jacket and all, was brought from New York last week by a young business man to his fiancee. It is not more than five inches high, is made of metal and shows the daintily molded maid in the act of preparing for a dive. Herein lies a suggestion for other young men whose minds are mazy about Christmas time.

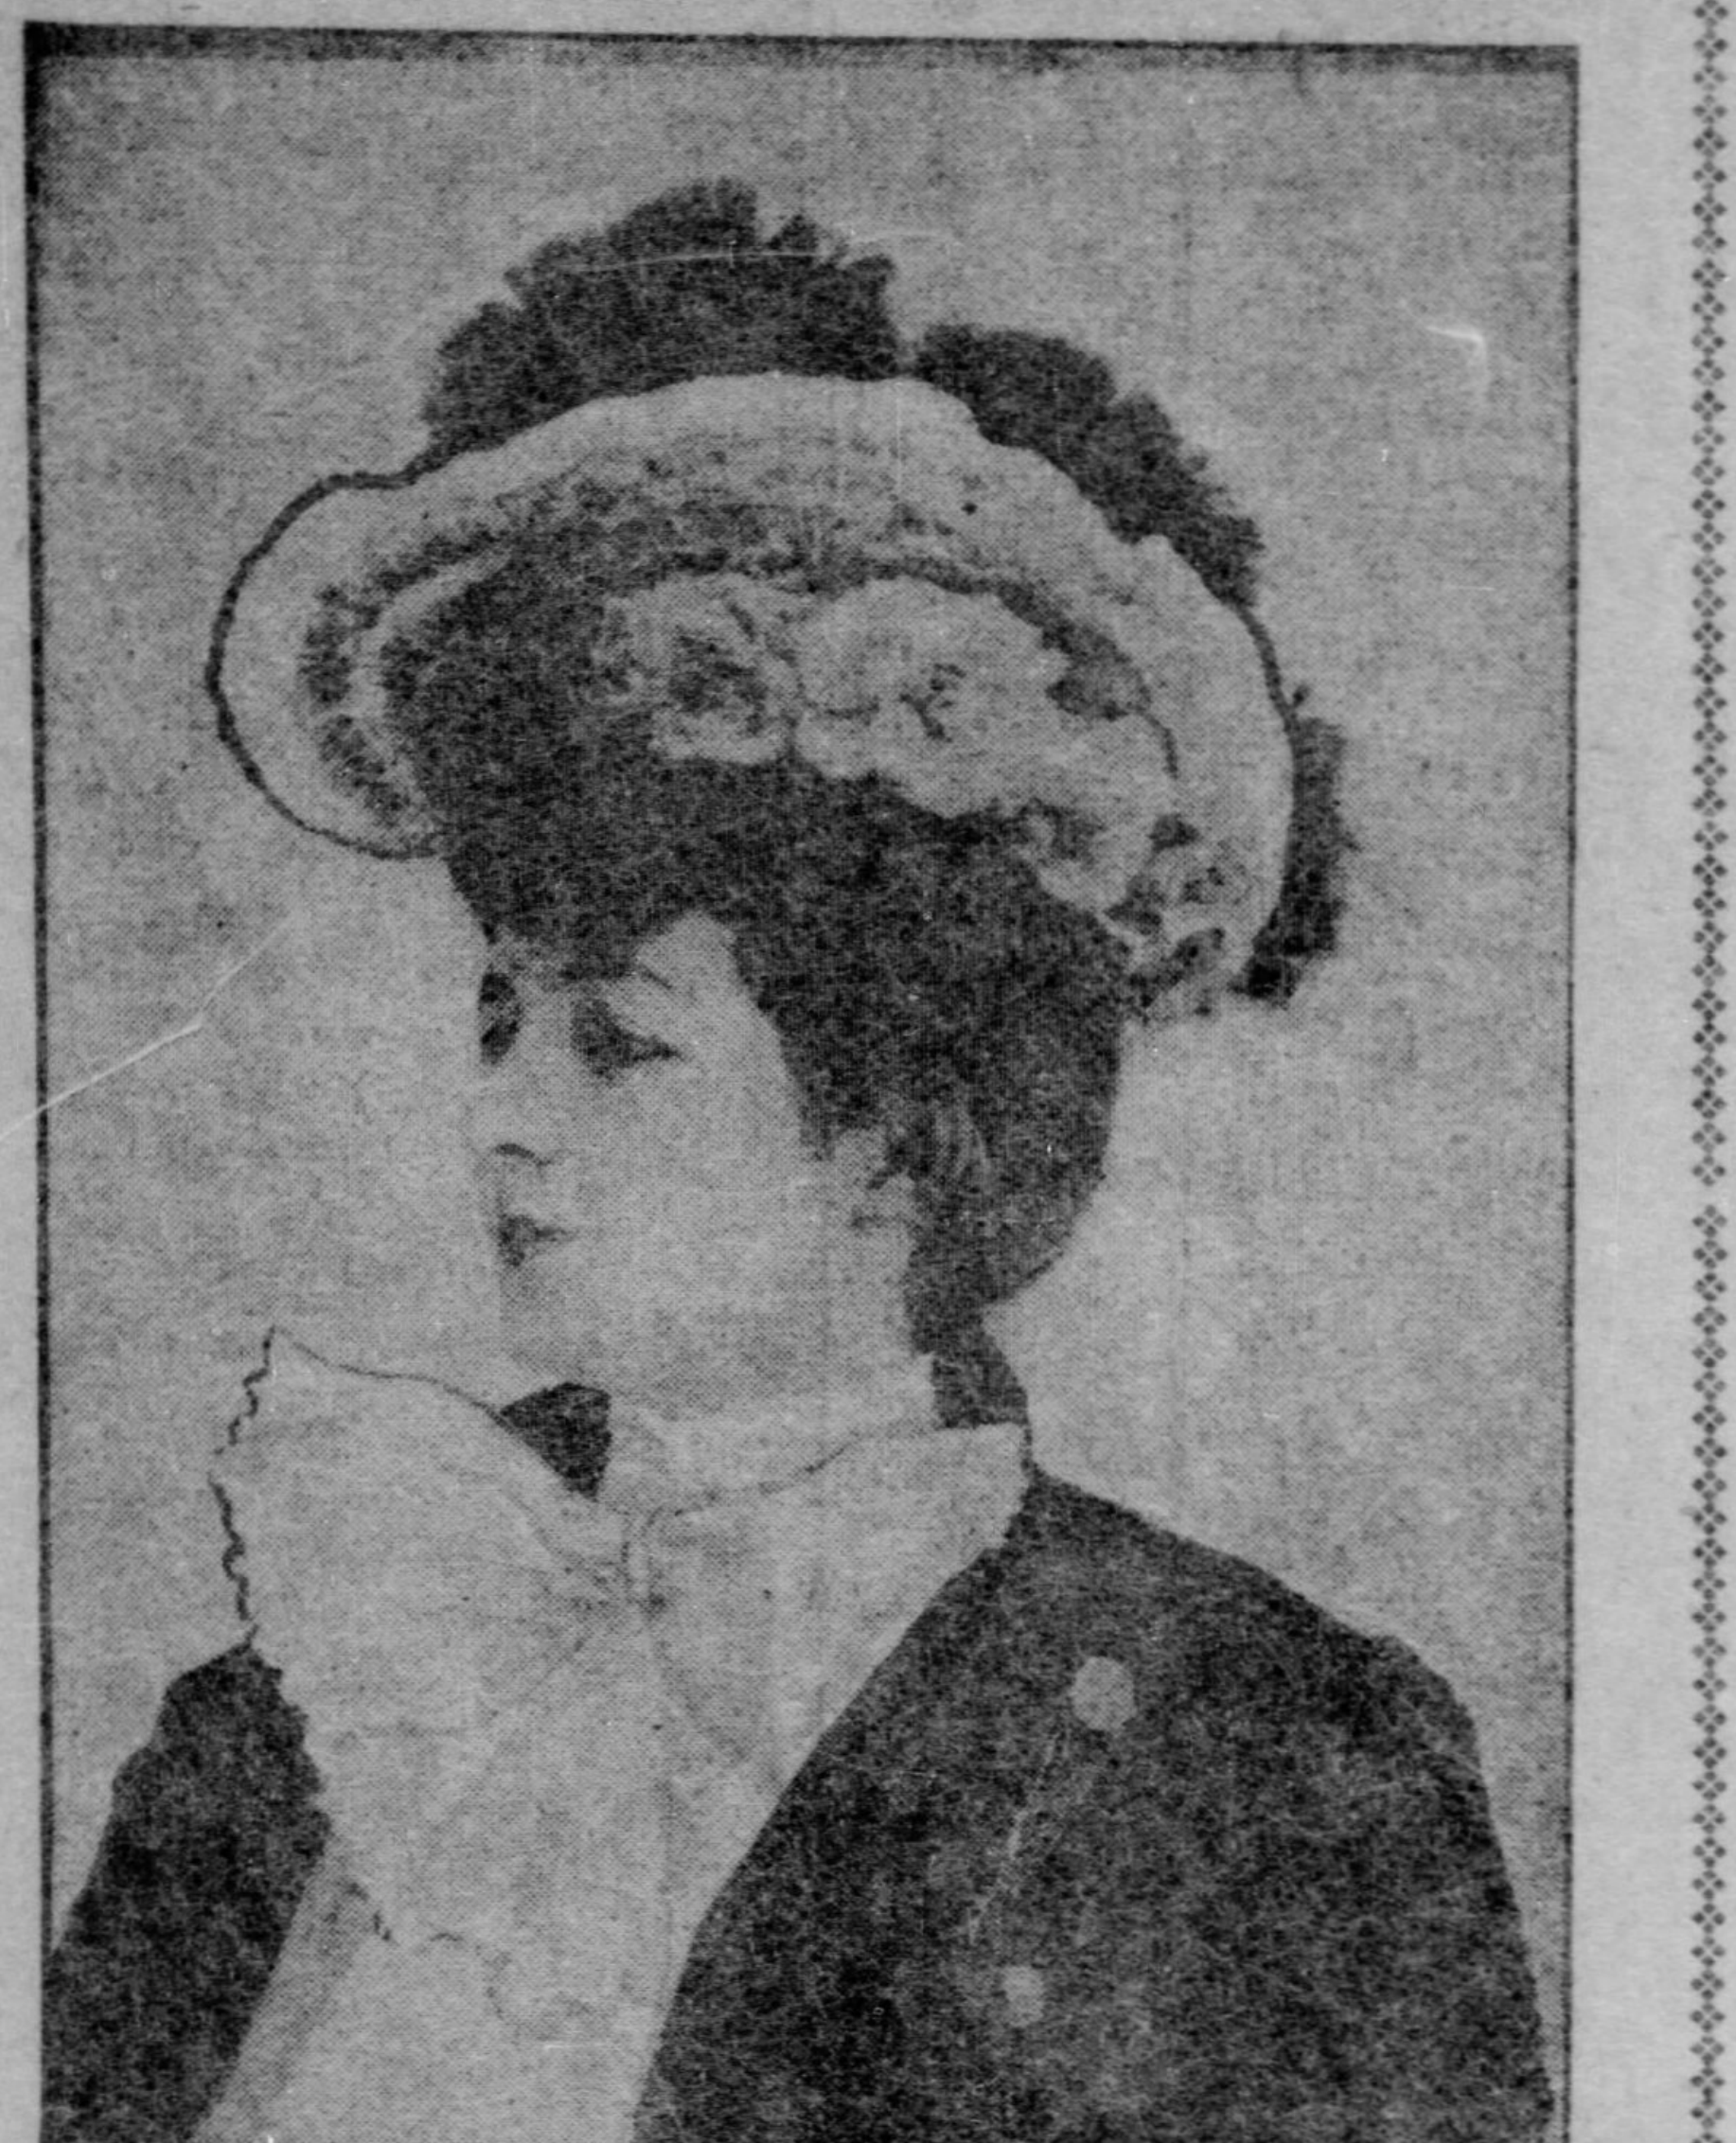
A PRETTY EVENING HAT.



White Chiffon, Outlined With Black Velvet and a Group of Pink Rosebuds Tilts the Brim Up at One Side.

CURRENT MODES.

For the Street.

The rougher, flatter and more untrimmed the hat this autumn, the more fashionable it is. All the really new models from Paris (those which Paris is wearing, I mean, not those which are prepared in the capital of fashion and sent forth for foreign wear alone), are of this variety. The "dress hat," so-called, is almost unknown as full dress demands no hat at all, merely a bit of filmy crepe tied under the chin or a lace scarf laid around the face and knotted at the back. The hat for street or tailor made wear is rough and hairy in effect, sometimes of the silky beaver which in former years was relegated to the children, and its sole trimming consists of a band or two of velvet ribbon around the crown and two silky nodding pom-poms caught at the left side of the front. Sometimes the pom-poms are of silk, sometimes of clipped ostrich feathers, sometimes of maratout. The hat itself has a soft, pliable brim and one may lean one's head back in the street car in perfect comfort when it is in evidence.

For afternoon, club wear, calling or shopping the small tri-corne or a sort of modified cocked hat or a close brimmed turban is preferred. This may be of light colors but is preferably dark, with a snatch of lace or velvet to brighten it up and a posy nestling against the hair at the side. Aigrettes are unknown in the fashionable procession and upstanding features are not seen. The picture hat with its tilted or drooping brim is worn only for carriage, never on the street or visiting.

The best style gowns match the hats in plain close fitting effects. Silken lapels and velvet adornments on street gowns are in utterly bad style. The best gowns are those which have close fitting, double breasted or fly front jackets, untrimmed skirts, in fact no trimming whatever in evidence. The costliest silks may be used for lining and a small fortune may go into the cut, but these are the only methods of expenditure approved by the arbiter this year.

The corduroy suits which have been making entrance little by little are not adapted for general wear, being too special in style. They are suitable only for the woman who has several street gowns in her wardrobe. For her who must make one do outdoor duty all winter the fascinating corduroy is to be avoided.

Reindeer skin gloves are to be in high favor this winter. In dark red, brown and with a single heavy clasp they are shown in all the best shops.

Just from London.

Irish lace is in the height of fashion for any and every place where it can possibly be used, on gowns, on hats and on wraps.

THE Civic club of Allegheny county held its annual meeting and reception last evening in the assembly room of the Twentieth Century club. The special feature of the program, apart from the reports and annual election was the address of Miss Rosalie Loew of the Legal Aid society of New York. Miss Loew has been at the head of the work of the Legal Aid society in New York for several years, and is thoroughly conversant with its every feature. Miss Loew said:

"The German Legal Aid society was organized in New York in 1876 for the purpose of affording legal assistance to the German immigrants in this country. Applicants of every nationality, however, were received, the number now reaching 61. Soon the claims of the seamen for legal aid became so pressing that a special department, with offices near the wharves, was created for their individual needs. Later another office was opened on the east side of the city for Jews. A few years ago the society decided to drop the word German from its name, as its work was not limited to that people alone, but embraced those of every nationality that were too poor to pay for the services of attorneys. The Legal Aid society in New York is not self-supporting, one-tenth only of its expenses being covered by the receipts from fees. The remainder is raised by membership dues and special donations and gifts.

Many questions that have arisen in the work of the local society were answered by Miss Loew, who settled some of the perplexities that have arisen in the work thus far in Pittsburg.

"The Legal Aid society of Pittsburg, the latest feature of the work of the Civic club, has been in existence only five months, and during that time 15 cases have come within its province. Two hundred and twelve was the number received the first year in New York, the number having increased to nearly 7,000 the past 12 months.

The reports of the work of the Civic club, which were presented last evening showed work accomplished in several departments, notably the Social Science and the Legal Aid departments, with little to report in others. The public bathhouse, one of the few, if not the only one in this country, which is self-supporting, has had a patronage the past year amounting to 55,597 men, women and children, who have availed themselves of its privileges. Of this number 18,532 were men, 4,147 were boys, 682 were women, 287 were girls and 1,949 were admitted free. The last named were babies and children under 8 years, who were admitted with their parents. The total number of baths reported during the three years and 10 months the bathhouse has been in operation is 180,348. The bathhouse fund, including the receipts of the bathhouse, were $2,662 35 during the past year, the expenditures being $2,149 23.

The election of officers of the Civic club last evening was as follows: President, Edwin Z. Smith; first vice president, William H. Kennedy, second vice president, Miss Kate C. McKnight; third vice president, Mrs. William Thaw, Jr.; fourth vice president, J. F. Guffey; treasurer, T. H. B. McKnight; recording secretary, Mrs. Herbert L. Stitt; corresponding secretary, Miss Mary Y. Wheeler; directors, Miss Mary B. Lippincott, Mrs. Louise O. Kleber, Mrs. Sullivan Johnson, Dr. Thomas Turnbull, Jr., Miss Mary McClelland Mrs. James J. Kay, Dr. Theodore Diller, E. L. Mattern; Mrs. George H. Wilson, Mrs. H. L. Wright, Miss Eliza S. Armstrong, Henry J. Heinz, Miss Alice Holdship, Logan B. McPherson, W. Lucian Scaife, Mrs. F. F. Nicolla and Mrs. Francis J. Torrance.

Ewing-MacMiller.

A wedding attracting much interest in Shadyside last evening was that of Miss Elizabeth Marshall Ewing, daughter of Col. and Mrs. John Ewing, and John Walton MacMiller. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Henry T. McClelland, pastor of the Bellefield Presbyterian church, at the residence of the bride's parents in Center avenue. It was not a large wedding, the guests being confined to the members of the two families and the intimate friends of the bride and groom. The bride, who wore a handsome wedding gown of white satin, trimmed with duchess and pointe lace, with a veil and a bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley, was attended by her sister, Miss Mathilda Battelle Ewing, as maid of honor. R. G. Kennedy, a college friend of the bridegroom, was the best man. The house was handsomely decorated with rich tropical plants. Flowers were in profusion and the wedding was conducted throughout with handsome appointments.

Both the bride and bridegroom belong to a line of distinguished ancestors who have furnished patriots in every national crisis. It is a striking coincidence that Col. Ewing, the father of last evening's bride, and Capt. MacMiller, the father of the bridegroom, fought in the battle of Gettysburg, the former on the Federal side and the later on the Confederate, both at the time bearing the rank of captain.

A Debutante Introduced.

From 3 o'clock until 6 yesterday afternoon Mrs. George W. Elkins presented her young daughter, Miss Louise Elkins, to her friends. The large reception was held at the Elkins home in North Highland avenue, East End, and was followed by a dinner for the assistants of the afternoon and an equal number of gentlemen, while in the evening a pretty house dance was given for the debutante and her young girl friends who are coming out this winter, together with a number who appeared in society last season.

The reception was a very handsome one, the guests including several hundred women prominent in social circles in the East End and Allegheny. Mrs. Elkins and her debutante daughter received in the drawing room, about them being arranged the gifts of flowers received by the young girl. They were artistically arranged and constituted almost the sole decoration of the drawing room and the library. They comprised all the flowers which are conspicuous for their beauty at this season of the year. Tall palms and graceful ferns formed a background for the blossoms bestowed upon the young debutante. Mrs. Elkins wore a rich reception gown of silk and lace and the debutante appeared in a pretty, girlish gown of white mousseline de soie and lace. Receiving with them was Miss Grommes of Chicago, who was Miss Elkins' roommate at Miss Ely's school in New York. The other assistants included Mrs. Elkins' daughters, Mrs. John P. Knable, Mrs. T. B. Elkins and Mrs. W. L. Elkins, Mrs. W. S. Fraser and a group of the young girls, Miss Helen Wilson, Miss Sara Speer Dunbar, the Misses Armstrong, the Misses Thomas and Miss Linnie Wilson.

Reception for a Bride.

A reception for a bride is always an interesting event, and exceptionally so was that which Mrs. William F. Willson gave yesterday afternoon for her new daughter, Mrs. John Logan Willson, formerly Miss Reineman. The card of Mrs. Frank F. Robb of Ellsworth avenue was enclosed with the invitations, and Mrs. Robb and Mrs. Charles B. McLain completed the receiving group. The reception was the first large entertainment in the handsome new house in Winebiddle avenue, East End. Mrs. Willson and her daughter received in the drawing room, a handsome apartment finished in white, gold and pink. Pink chrysanthemums were the only flowers in the room. In the library and the reception hall were large yellow chrysanthemums, and the dining room was decorated with maidenhair ferns and pink roses.

The reception hours were from 3 o'clock until 5, and the afternoon reception was followed by a quiet dinner for the ladies of the receiving party and their husbands. The bride wore her wedding gown of white mousseline de soie prettily tucked, the bodice almost covered with duchess lace, which also formed the sleeves. The hostess appeared in a handsome gown of lace over white silk and chiffon, Mrs. Robb also wearing white lace over silk.

Club Meetings.

The Tuesday Musical club held its first meeting this fall at the home of Mrs. C. L. Magee yesterday afternoon. Almost the entire time was devoted to business, with but little interval for music. The annual election resulted in the following: President, Mrs. C. L. Magee; vice president, Miss Kate C. McKnight; secretary, Mrs. Eleanor D. Stewart; treasurer, Miss Mary B. Robinson; and the council, consisting of Miss McKnight, Mrs. James Gayley, Miss Anne Phillips, Mrs. William Scott, Mrs. James Stephen Martin and Mrs. John G. Holmes. Mrs. Julia M. Harding was elected acting chairman to fill the vacancy caused by Mrs. Magee's long absence abroad. Mrs. Magee goes to Europe early in February.

The Travelers club held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon in the assembly room of the Central Young Women's Christian association.

Mignot-Babb.

At the home of Senator William H. Andrews last evening in Lincoln avenue, Allegheny, occurred the wedding of Miss Ellen Marguerite Mignot, daughter of the late Amice Mignot of Alderney, Channel Islands, and Dr. Walter Milton Babb of Allegheny. The ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock in the drawing room by the Rev. A. J. Nock, rector of St. James Memorial chapel, Titusville. It was a quiet home wedding and the guests included only the members of the family and a few intimate friends of the bride and the bridegroom. The house was handsomely decorated with tropical plants while white flowers, chrysanthemums and roses, completed the floral effect. The bride, who has made her home with Senator and Mrs. Andrews during the last five years, wore an exquisite gown of white mull, trimmed with lace and carried flowers. She was unattended. Frank Babb of Keyser, West Virginia, was his brother's best man. After the conclusion of the marriage ceremony and the brief informal reception which followed, the wedding supper was served. Later in the evening the bride and bridegroom went directly to their new home, 514 Arch street. The bride, who since the death of her father and the breaking up of the home in Alderney, has made her home with Senator and Mrs. Andrews, is but little known in Allegheny, since she has spent much of the time at the Andrews' country home in Titusville and in travel.

Dedicating the Home.

The new Home for Aged and Infirm Colored Women will be dedicated tomorrow. It is the only institution of its kind in Western Pennsylvania and was founded about 20 years ago. The old building, being regarded as unsafe and too small for the number of applicants, a new building has been erected at a cost, including the ground, of $40,000. A mortgage of $21,000 yet remains on the property, which is located in Lemington avenue, near Lincoln avenue. Exercises will be conducted at the new home tomorrow from 11 o'clock in the morning until 10 in the evening. The officers of the board of managers are president, Mrs. Sadie Dorsey; first vice president, Mrs. Mary Regan; financial secretary, Mrs. R. M. Jones; recording secretary, Mrs. Lillian S. Dorkins, and treasurer, the Rev. George B. Knox.

Playing for President's Cup.

The first round of match play for the President's cup of the Allegheny Country club was decided yesterday afternoon between those who qualified on Monday, C. C. McClintock defeated H. R. Rea, 1 up; E. M. Byers won from W. J. Patton, 1 up and 3 to play; John Moorhead, Jr., defeated B. S. Horne, 7 up and 5 to play. Moorhead made the nine holes in 37. Today Moorhead meets C. D. Blank, who drew a bye, while McClintock meets Byers. The first should be a close contest. Byers being the amateur champion is the favorite in the betting, but Moorhead, who has won this event three successive years, has quite a following.

PERRY HALE IS NOW WITH STARS

The Great Yale Player Joined Homestead and Had His First Practice.

GOT RIGHT DOWN TO WORK AT ONCE

Started With Some Fine Punting Then Took Up Signal Practice and Had No Trouble Getting a Line on the Stars' Style of Play.

Perry Hale, who is considered to be the greatest fullback and all-around player ever turned out of Yale, joined the Homestead Stars yesterday and will continue with that team until the close of the present season. The great Yale star arrived here at midnight on Monday, and Captain Fultz did not know of his presence here until yesterday morning, when Hale reported to him for duty.

Of course, Captain Fultz and the rest of the stars were glad to meet Hale, whose coming while not entirely unexpected, was none the less a pleasant surprise. Hale has been spending the early part of the season down at New Haven helping the Yale team along, and also found time to coach one of the down east college teams so that he is in fairly good condition to start right in to work. In appearance and build Hale is not a great deal unlike Fred Crolius, the only difference that will be noticeable to the spectators, that is so far as appearance is concerned, is the hair, Hale having dark locks, while the ex-Amherst star is of the blonde type.

Yale Star First on the Field.

When the stars appeared at Exposition park for practice in the afternoon almost the first player on the field was Hale, who was togged out in a Homestead uniform which he topped off with his blue Yale sweater, which bears the white "Y" in the center. He took a ball out with him, and in a few minutes was engaged in limbering up his kicking leg, sending the oval in all directions. There was a very high wind at the time, and as he was kicking against the wind it made the work extremely difficult for those who were called on to catch the punts.

Later when the players got on the field Cap. Fultz had them charge down the field under the punts. The afternoon was the kind that the players like for practice, and while the field was damp and soggy from the morning rain, yet the air was raw, so that lively exercise was the thing needed to keep warm. In this work Hale showed a lack of practice, and some of his kicks were badly off to the side, still there were enough straight ones to show what a really great punter the Yale man is. The kicks are such that the ball is what the players call "spiral," and this is the most difficult kind of a ball for players to catch, as it tumbles out of their arms or hands.

After nearly an hour of that kind of practice the players lined up for signal work, with Hale at fullback. The new man was, of course, raw on signals, still he got right into the work and made but few mistakes. The one thing particularly noticeable about his play is the manner in which he helps along the man with the ball, also the manner in which he pulls his interference with him when the ball is given to him. Another noticeable thing is his earnestness in entering into all plays. With him practice seems a matter of business, and there is no fooling or lagging in his work.

Was Quick to Learn Style of Play.

It took him but a very few minutes yesterday to get onto the stars style of play, and he was right in every move made. He was particularly at home in the play which brings the tackle back of the line, because that is one of Yale's last year plays, and by the way it was the play which Hale always made with success and on which he became famous. Arthur Poe, who should know Hale's playing value, as he had a trial of it in the big Yale-Princeton games, said that he considered Hale the greatest line-bucker and all-around fullback player ever turned out by any college.

It will now be a battle between Hale and Crolius for the regular fullback position on the stars, and the contest will be a hot one, as both men are "corkers." Not only in line-bucking, but in all other departments of the game. The presence of the Yale star yesterday seemed to inspire the other Homestead players, and the practice was one of the fastest of the season. Arthur Miller was out in uniform, broken nose and all, and says he will be all right for Saturday. All of the regulars were in line and reported themselves in good condition.

TEAM IN BAD SHAPE.

New Castle High School Eleven Calls Off Games.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Manager Braden of the New Castle High school football team has canceled all games scheduled for the balance of the season, except the one here with Warren, O., on Thanksgiving day. This was done on account of the crippled condition of the team. Capt. Baughman was badly hurt in a recent game with Westminster college at New Wilmington and cannot play again this year. Edmunds and Robinson, two of the best men of the team, are also crippled and cannot go into the game again this season, while several other members of the team are suffering from minor injuries. The High school had two games arranged with the Pittsburgh High school, one here and one there, two with Slippery Rock Normal, one with Mercer and one with Geneva college. The team has so far played five games. Of these two were won and two lost, while the fifth was a tie with Mercer. The locals won and lost one each with Westminster, won from Grove City and lost to Geneva. Manager Braden hopes his cripples will be in shape for the Thanksgiving day game, when Warren appears here.

ARE LOOKING FOR HOMER.

West Virginia Players Trying to Find the Man With Money.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Members of the university football team are both amused and angry over the publication in Pittsburgh morning papers that H. K. Homer of this place is offering to back the team with $1,000 in a game against Laius, W. and J. or the Homestead Athletic club. No such person as Homer has ever been heard of in these parts. His name does not appear in the city directory, nor on the rolls of the university. Before leaving for Washington this afternoon Capt. Brown said: "Such publications do the university team a great injustice. Neither myself nor any one connected with the team has ever entertained an idea that we could win against any of the teams mentioned in the article. We with great difficulty have gotten together a creditable team, but we know our limitations as well as anybody does. In my opinion the papers are being imposed on by some one. We expect to make a good showing against W. and J. tomorrow, further than this we do not hope for."

SPORTING NOTES.

Ban Johnson says that the tale that he had called Milwaukee a jay town and a one-night stand was false.

Cleveland has landed a blacksmith—Twirler Lundborn of Manistee, Mich. He ought to be able to deliver a few horseshoe curves across the pan.

The "Happy Family," which President Johnson called the American league magnates a year ago, now seems to be in need of a referee.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Andrew Freedman, president of the New York baseball club, denies the report to the effect that the club is to be sold to a syndicate composed of Chicago sporting men. "It is like many other silly rumors," continued Mr. Freedman, "circulated about the New York club."

"Little Eva" Lange is not likely to don the spangles for diamond service. It is intimated if "Bill" ever hankered for another career in public he would have to revive "The Two Johns," or play the museum circuit as the fat boy.

Cresceus, the king trotter, wears costly harness. The quarter boots cost about $10, shin boots $14, knee and arm extension $25. The hind shin, speedy cut and hock extension, with curb joint protection, cost $50 a set. The two-minute harness of itself costs but about $25, yet the main harness costs over $100. Cresceus' reins cost at least $50 a pair.

FAVORITES HAD VERY BAD DAY

NOT A FIRST CHOICE PROVED WINNER AT BENNINGS.

The Horses Raced in the Rain, But the Track Was Fast—Jockey Martin Suspended for Being Overweight—Lux Casta Fooled the Wise Ones Who Play Runners On Form Shown in Previous Events.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—All the favorites were beaten at today's races at Bennings. The track was fast despite a heavy rain that fell during the day. Jockey Martin, who rode O'Hagen in the fourth event, was suspended a week for having 4½ pounds overweight, but his horse, the winner of the race, was not disqualified, under a recent ruling of the Jockey club.

Lux Casta, who ran second in the Futurity at Sheepshead bay, was heavily played on the score of that performance, but was beaten in a hard drive by a half length by Barouche, who also was well backed. Summaries:

First race, 5½ furlongs—Aratoma, 112, Doggett, 15 to 1, won; Corder, 112, Phelan, 20 to 1, second; Tour, 109, Wonderly, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:09 3-5. Bounteous, Delmarch, Federalist, Kimberly, Monmouth Boy, King Barleycorn, Tartar, Flora, John A. Warner, Presgrave, Nanine, Maj. Gilroy, Gink, Rosecourt and Sarsaparilla Bark also ran.

Second race, 6 furlongs—Barouche, 107, Cochrane, 5 to 2, won; Lux Casta, 110, Burns, 7 to 10, second, Tenagra, 110; Redfern, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:16 3-5. Cocoa and Pedestal also ran.

Third race, 1 mile and 40 yards—Ben Battle, 107, Burns, 7 to 2, won; Alard, 102, Michaels, 11 to 5, second; Kingsteele, 91, Cochrane, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:47. Piederich, Surmise, Carl Kahler, Warranted, Glade Run, Lady Hayman and Elmus also ran.

Fourth race, 6 furlongs—O'Hagen, 107, Martin, 5 to 2, won; Playlike, 100, Booker, 5 to 1, second; Arrah Gowan, 97, Redfern, 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:17. The Four Hundred, Batyah, May J., Equalize and Atheola also ran.

Fifth race, 1 mile and 60 yards—Wunderlich, 107, Booker, 3 to 1, won; Flaccus, 107, Burns, 6 to 5, second; Moroton, 107, Michaels, 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:50 1-5. Carrillo, Historian, Bettie B., Anna Darling also ran.

Sixth race, 1 mile and 100 yards—Fatalist, 101, Booker, 4 to 1, won; Guesswork, 86, Henderson, 7 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Annie Thompson, 90, Michaels, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:51 1-5. Lizzie A. and Animosity also ran.

Entries for tomorrow:

First race, 1¾ miles — Boisterous, Charagrace, 163; Cousin Jess, Hurry Up, Flaccus, Mr. Stoffel, McFonso, Tankard, Very Light and Roysterer, 151.

RACED IN THE MUD.

Jim Nap Surprised Talent by Beating Horseshoe Tobacco.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 12.—Mudlarks had their inning today at Latonia and only two favorites succeeded in winning purses. Jim Nap surprised the talent in the closing race by beating out Horseshoe Tobacco, the heavily-backed favorite. Weather cool; track heavy. Summaries:

First race, 6 furlongs—Oconee, 100, Lindsey, 8 to 1, won; Conundrum, 105; Lyne, 6 to 1, second; Nina B. L., 102, Minder, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:20. Olea, Tempt, Masterful, Rowdy G., Geta Blackburn and Sister Mamie also ran.

Second race, 5½ furlongs—Our Jessie, 113, L. Jackson, 9 to 2, won; The Boston, 109, Steele, 7 to 2, second; Mamie English, 100, Miller, 6 to 5, third. Time, 1:12¾. Leenja, Lathrop, Debenture and Jean Raphael also ran.

Third race, 1 1-16 miles, selling—Baronet, 104, L. Jackson, won; Elsie Bramble, 104, Lyne, 4 to 1, second; Fairy Tale, 107, Lindsey, 5 to 2, third. Time, 1:56. Pretty Rosie, Hinsdale, Sara Gamp, Barbee, Lauras First and Janowood also ran.

Fourth race, one mile, handicap—Nobleman, 95, Loudon, 3 to 2, won; Schnell Laufer, 105, Lyne, 5 to 2, second; J. H. Sloan, 106, Lindsey, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:46¼. Fleuron and Baffled also ran.

Fifth race, 6 furlongs—Hermis, 110, Lyne, 7 to 10, won; Kaloma, 115, Givens, 7 to 2, second; Moderator, 103, Minder, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:18¼. Bar Le Duc, Water Edge and Harry Brennan also ran. Hermis and Ber Le Cuo were coupled in the betting.

Sixth race, 6 furlongs, selling—Jim Nap, 105, Cogswell, 15 to 1, won; Horseshoe Tobacco, 110, L. Jackson, even, second; Sauve, 109, Lyne, 5 to 2, third. Time, 1:19. Samival, Margaret Steele, Saguenay and Annu also ran.

Tomorrow's entries:

First race, selling one mile—Sortie, Geta Blackburn, Water Plant, Bean, Saragamp, 100; Syncopated Sandy, Baronet, Phosphorus, 103; Islip, St. Bluff, Rodd, 106; Oliver Mc, 109; Hand D, 115.

Penny's Fine New Gymnasium.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—A half million dollars is to be spent by the University of Pennsylvania in the erection of a new gymnasium and the improvement of Franklin field. The new stands to be built will probably be on the same style as those of Yale. The cost of the gymnasium will be $350,000.

BOTH FIGHTERS READY FOR RING

Have Finished Their Training and Will Take It Easy Until the Battle.

CHAMPION SAYS HE HAS NO PLANS

Will Wait and See How Ruhlin Conducts Himself Before He Decides What Style to Adopt—Ruhlin Not Anxious About Rules.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—Champion Jim Jeffries' work is becoming lighter each day as the time nears for the big battle of Friday night. The big fellow feels he has worked hard enough during his stay at Harbin Springs and he will take it easy from now on. Jeffries spent most of the day at the Reliance Athletic club gymnasium resting. He said he would not put on the gloves again until he enters the ring, wishing to avoid the possibility of injuring his hands. Jeffries says: "The gong can ring any minute for me now and I will be ready. No fighter was ever in better condition and, though I am confident of success, I have a lot of respect for Ruhlin's fighting ability. I will give any kind of a fight he wants. He can rush the game or he can fight at long range."

Jeffries Fights for the Biograph.

The champion's biograph session comprised boxing and roughing it with Jack, tossing the medicine ball, skipping the rope and working the pulley. After completing this work Jeff was ready for a chat. The first question put to him was:

"Have you mapped out your plan of battle?"

"No," he said, "it has been reported that I am going to cut loose at the first tap of the bell and fight as fast as I can. That is not true. I have no plans and will not make any. I am going to wait to see how Ruhlin will conduct himself. If Gus comes at me he will find me ready. I am faster than ever, and I guess I will fight differently than ever before. You noticed when I was boxing that I did not crouch nor spread my legs as wide as when I fought Fitz and Sharkey, didn't you? I've learned that I can go faster with my legs closer together and that is the attitude I will assume on Friday night."

Ruhlin also passed the day without any hard training. He has been examined by a physician, who pronounced the championship aspirant to be in perfect physical condition. Ruhlin and his manager, Billy Madden, are just as confident of victory as Jeffries. Madden figures that his protege is faster than the champion. "He is a glutton for punishment," he said. "He is strong, perhaps not as strong as his opponent, but he has a clever defense. He is a good ring general and he can put in blows with his right or his left with equal facility."

Willing to Fight Under Any Rules.

"I am not worrying about the rules that will govern the fight," said Ruhlin. "I am perfectly satisfied to fight under any interpretation that Harry Corbett might give them. He knows the rules as well as anyone and I am not afraid that he will not give us a fair show during the contest."

The gloves that are to be used in the fight have been given into the custody of the referee. The set was made to the measurement of the fists of the two heavyweights and the pairs were sent to the two training camps for inspection. Both men declared themselves satisfied with them, and they were given to the referee until the men enter the ring.

Peter Maher is coming to this city to challenge the winner of the championship contest. He sent word to Manager Kennedy of the Twentieth Century club that he would be at the ringside. Maher a few nights ago knocked out Jeffords, the California heavyweight. In the event that Sharkey does not come to this city and Fitzsimmons declines to meet the winner of the fight the Irish champion will be pitted against the victor in December.

During the championship battle the pavilion will be in semi-darkness. This will be necessary for the success of the moving pictures. All the lights will be centered on the ring and the spectators will be able to watch every move of the contestants. Manager Kennedy says he proposes to have the men enter the ring by 9:30.

Dr. Clinton, the physician, said tonight: "It behooves Jeffries to enter the arena Friday night in the pink of condition, for he will have to use his utmost endeavors, mentally and physically, to down this descendant of the sturdy Swiss mountaineers."

George Siler, after watching Jeff go through routine work, said: "I never saw Jeffries look better. He is much faster on his feet. From the work I have seen him do, Jeff has improved his position. He used to spread in taking his attitude. He now keeps his feet closer together, and as a result he springs quickly and carries all his weight with his blows. The battle ought not to go to a finish."

Betting on the big fight slackened up today for the reason that there is little or no Jeffries money in sight. Ruhlin has been a short ender at 2 to 1 for a day and the Jeffries people assert that the odds will come back before the fight takes place, so that they may get a better chance for their money.

Referee Harry Corbett visited the managers of both men today and had another controversy about the conduct of the fighters in the ring. If they do not break at the word Corbett threatens all sorts of trouble, and both boxers are being admonished today to follow the dictates of the referee to the letter.

FIGHT CALLED OFF.

McClelland Will Take on Callahan Instead of Hamilton.

The manager of the Twentieth Century club of Detroit writes Billy Corcoran that it has substituted Rube Ferns and Charles Thurston on November 28 in place of Jack McClelland and Jack Hamilton, on account of Hamilton being slow in signing the articles. The manager also states McClelland will be selected to appear at the next show, November 18. Corcoran signed articles for McClelland to meet Tim Callahan at Toronto, Can., in a 20-round contest on Thanksgiving night. McClelland is training at Corcoran's Wood street gymnasium and will be in good shape for the clever Philadelphia boxer, who has a decision over Champion Terry McGovern.

Will Play Thanksgiving Day.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Contrary to expectation the football team will play on Thanksgiving day. Manager Larkin today closed negotiations with some business men at Elkins for a game to be played as a leading attraction in a celebration of some kind the town is going to have that day. It is not known what team will be the opponent, but the Elkins men say they will have a strong team there to meet the university eleven.

UNDERGRADS WILL RUN TEAM

THERE HAS BEEN A TEAR-UP IN PENNSY'S MANAGEMENT

The Yale Eleven Had Secret Practice in a Storm—Princeton's Quarterback Injured and Cannot Play Saturday—Harvard Will Pass on the Glass Case Today, When Yale's List Is Sent In.

(Special Telegram to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 12.—There is to be a revolution in the management of athletic affairs in the university of Pennsylvania. The undergraduates have demanded a majority representation on the board of directors and have also accepted a proposition of the board of trustees of the university to elect two of their members to serve on the university athletic committee. At a meeting of 1,000 undergraduates held today in the college chapel, resolutions were passed proposing amendments to the constitution of the athletic association changing the proportion of members on the board from ten graduates and five undergraduates to eight undergraduates and seven graduates, but allowing the graduates to retain all offices. The resolutions also provide for making it possible to have undergraduate chairmen of the various athletic committees. It is said that the present managers of the athletic association have agreed to accept these amendments without opposition. The result will be that the athletic affairs of the university will be for the first time practically under the management of undergraduates.

Yale Practiced in the Rain.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 12.—Yale's football practice this afternoon took place in a cold drizzling rain storm. The practice was secret from beginning to end and no spectators were admitted while the 'varsity players were at work. After the 'varsity men had finished their practice a short game was then played between two teams which were almost entirely made up of subs, Ferguson, Hamlin, Kunzig and Weymouth being the only 'varsity men who remained for this practice. Olcott's shoulder, injured two years ago, is troubling him again. Last season he got through without any trouble. He is one of the most valuable men on the team and the possibility of losing him is worrying the coaches a great deal.

Captain Gould and Goss were also on the hospital list today. The latter's back is better but it does not look as though he could possibly be of much use to Yale on Saturday. Gould is not much hurt and will be all right in time for the Princeton game.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—In spite of a cold rain which drenched the 'varsity field and rendered the ground slippery and muddy the Tigers were put through a hard practice game of two 15-minute halves. It was an unfortunate game for the Tigers, for it ended in an injury to Quarterback Meier which will put him out of the Yale game for good. He had been playing at halfback in place of Pearson, who had been laid off for a rest, and had gone through most of the game, doing both heavy line bucking and some very fair kicking.

The accident happened when Newman blocked one of Meier's kicks. Meier stopped and picked up the ball and started to run with it. He was tackled and held by one leg while the rush of the scrubs bore him back, badly wrenching his knee and ankle. He was carried from the field in bad shape, and it is certain that he will not be able to return to the gridiron this season. Freeman will take his place at quarterback for the present.

No Action on Glass Matter.

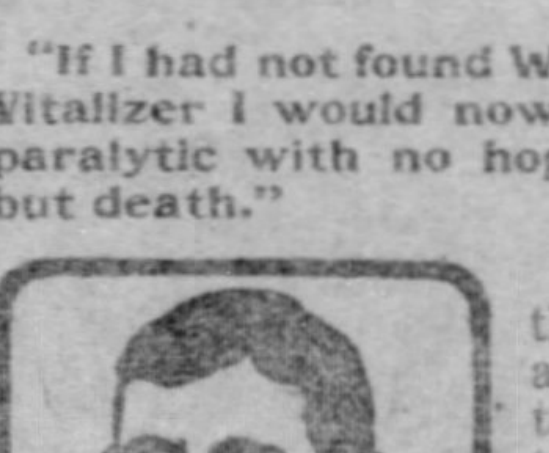
CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The all-absorbing topic in athletic circles at Harvard is the question whether or not Glass will be played at guard of the Yale eleven in the coming game November 23. Harvard's authorities are absolutely non-committal on the subject, refusing to say whether Glass will be protested in case Yale tries to play him or even whether, as was rumored today, an attempt to straighten out the matter was made between Camp of Yale and Prof. Hollis, chairman of the Harvard athletic committee in Boston last night. Prof. Hollis was in the country today and could not be seen. It was commonly believed that he had gone to New Haven, but the report was incorrect.

Tomorrow, however, Yale will forward to Cambridge her list of players, who will run up against Harvard next week. If Glass' name is on the list, the probabilities are that he will be instantly protested, as Campbell has already written the Yale authorities notifying them of Harvard's interpretation of their rules and because there is a strong feeling in Harvard against the big guard playing in the game.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The Cornell elevens had a long tussle in the mud this afternoon, during which the first eleven scored three touchdowns. The scrubs, though reinforced from time to time by some of the 'varsity players, were unable to repeat the work which they so successfully accomplished yesterday by means of the tackles' back formation. The first team fumbled badly, however, but this fault was largely due to a wet ball on a very bad gridiron.

A HELPLESS PARALYTIC

"If I had not found Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer I would now be a helpless paralytic with no hope of anything but death."



BERT STAFFORD
Newton, Mich.
HELPLESS PARALYTIC
CURED BY
WHEELER'S NERVE VITALIZER.

The above is the opening paragraph of a letter which is continued below. Such evidence must surely mean something. It means that Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer is a nerve builder pre-eminently superior to any similar preparation ever produced. The letter continues as follows:

"I had three strokes of paralysis, causing me to lose the use of my entire right side, also affecting my stomach so that it would retain but a small amount of bread and milk; any rich food would throw me into violent fits. My heart was also badly affected. My physician told me he had done all he could and if I found anything that would relieve me, to use it. A friend who knew of a similar case benefited by Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer, advised me to try it. I have used three bottles of it and am now able to be up and walk around, my leg has regained its use, my stomach is able to retain food and I eat what I wish without injury. The fits have entirely stopped, and I am gaining in health and strength every day. I consider that Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer has saved my life and it is impossible for me to praise it enough. Bert Stafford, Newton, Mich."

Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer will cure Nervous Prostration, Epilepsy and every form of nerve weakness and debility. More proof will be sent to any one making the request.

For sale by druggists, or by express prepaid. $1.00 per bottle, 6 for $5.00.

BAD PENNY PROVED TO BE A REAL GOOD THING.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 12.—A large crowd enjoyed exciting sport at Douglas park today. Bad Penny, a 3-year-old colt by Tenny-Lizzie Flynn, owned by F. L. Schleith, Asbury Park, N. Y., trained by "Bill" Spirling and ridden by Jockey "Charlies" Murphy in the first race, was the medium of about as finely drawn a coup as has ever been put through on the western turf. Bad Penny ran a commonplace race on Saturday, but today in a superior field won with ridiculous ease. Bad Penny opened at 20 to 1, and by post time 6 and 4 to 1 were chalked. The stewards held back the cash until the identity of the horse was established. On the score of a reversal of form Bad Penny and Trainer Spirling and Jockey Murphy were warned off the track. Bets were paid. It is said those who planned the coup cleared $28,000.

PROPERTY BEQUEATHED TO WIDOW HERE

Woman Alleged to Have Been Deserted in Nuremberg Says That Charles Steger Took All Her Money When He Departed.

In the office of Register F. W. Edwards testimony taken in Nuremberg, Germany, by George S. Baldwin, United States consul, in the contest over the estate of Charles Steger, late of Ingram, was filed. It shows that Steger deserted a wife in Germany, taking with him much of her possessions, returning years after he had married in this country to discover that in Germany the court had declared him legally dead.

Steger died at Ingram, this county. He was possessed of considerable property and this at his death he bequeathed to his wife Eliza A. Steger, the wife with whom he was living at the time of his demise. The estate is quite valuable, and among the property were several lots, a number of them having been disposed of by Steger, his second wife joining in the transfer. After the will was filed Barbette Steger, of Nuremberg, Germany, claimed her share of the estate upon the grounds that she married Steger previous to him embarking for America.

Accompanying the testimony were three pictures, one of Steger and his first wife taken at the time of their marriage, another of Steger and the third a photograph of Steger and his second wife sitting on the veranda of their Ingram home.

Barbette Steger testified that she is 85 years old, a resident of Nuremberg and was married to Karl Steger, the decedent, in 1851, her maiden name having been Barbette Hesting. She had previously been married to Christopher Maurer, who died in 1850. Steger was a carpenter and the witness first took him into business as her manager. He had no money but found himself possessed of a flourishing business when he married her. They had two children, one of whom died when he was three years old and the other lived until he was 35 years old, after having brought up a large family. The first Mrs. Steger said her husband left her in 1867, when he took much of their money with him and gave the excuse he was only going a short distance to make inquiries about a contract. She also testified that a widow named Semmelman, with her three children, followed Steger to America. Once she testified that her husband sent for her, but she answered she was too old to "go across." She asked for money but Steger did not send it to her. Her testimony shows that on October 28, 1889, Steger was declared to be legally dead.

Another witness was Karl Rittman, who married a daughter of Mrs. Steger by her first husband. Rittman says he first met Steger when he visited Germany in 1898 or 1890 and that he admitted to the witness that he was the husband of Barbette Steger and compensated him for maintaining her. The witness says when Steger deserted his first wife he took with him "all the money he could lay his hands on."

Testimony to corroborate that of Barbette Steger was offered by Barbette Meier, 66 years old. She was present at Steger's first marriage.

DR. SCHULTZ CASE ENDS.

Arguments and Judge's Charge in $15,000 Damage Suit Against City Detectives.

The jury in the case of Mrs. Dr. A. B. Schultz, a mulatto woman of Chicago, against former Chief of Detectives Roger O'Mara and Detectives Charles McGovern and Richard Kelly, retired yesterday at 11:30 a. m. and when court adjourned had not returned a verdict. The morning was devoted to arguments in the case. Attorney Clarence Burleigh contended that if the detectives who arrested the plaintiff were without sufficient grounds and had no suspicion that she was the party wanted in Washington for the larceny of $4,200, they were guilty of the charge against them, but that they were in the right if they had such a belief. The fact that she came from Washington and that she was the only colored woman on the train, together with her actions when addressed as "Laura," gave the detectives sufficient grounds to detain her. He further contended that, by comparing her testimony with that of the several attaches of the police station present at the time, the plaintiff had not been telling the truth; that her testimony is insufficient and that the defendants should be found not guilty.

Attorney William M. Randolph for the plaintiff argued that there were no grounds for the arrest of the plaintiff and no law to justify the search of the plaintiff's satchel and clothing. He referred to the manner in which the search was made and the alleged indignities accompanying it as outrageous. He said that the telegram from Washington telling the police to release the plaintiff was in answer to the one sent by Dr. Schultz to her brother on the day of her arrest.

He argued that the plaintiff had made every effort to identify herself and had given the address of her sister, and that the police made no effort to locate either the sister or Mr. Jackson.

Judge Collier, in his charge to the jury, said that the defendants had admitted they arrested the wrong person and that if they were without grounds to arrest the woman then they should be found guilty. He further stated that, for the good of the people, it was necessary to arrest persons wanted in other states for crimes committed, and that if they had sufficient evidence to arrest the plaintiff then they should not be found guilty.

Will Consider Demurrers.

Judge Marcus W. Acheson yesterday passed the 37 cases of various independent oil operators against different railroad companies for alleged discriminations in freight charges. The court said that should he sustain the demurrers in the ten cases argued last week there would be no occasion to try the cases until answers were filed by the plaintiffs, but in case that he overrules the demurrers he will call a special jury and hear the cases some time in January.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

The will of Herman Ehlers gives an estate worth $1,850 to his wife.

By the will of Charles Theis, an estate worth $3,200 goes to his widow.

By the will of the Rev. Nevin Woodside, late of this city, an estate worth $20,000 is bequeathed to his wife.

The will of Frederick Trautman, late of Homestead, gives an estate worth $23,130 to Margaret Trautman, his wife.

Charters were granted to the American Citizens Beneficial society of McKees Rocks and to the St. Anthony Lithuanian Roman Catholic Beneficial society of Duquesne.

An appraisement of the estate of Wilhelmina Seker, who came to her death suddenly in Allegheny, was filed. It shows her personal estate is valued at $10,218 72.

In the United States district court a petition in bankruptcy was filed by William H. Murray, a butcher, of Washington, Pa. His liabilities are $1,026 and assets $200.

In the case of J. H. Wilson & Co. against Howard Crosby & Co., it was ordered that the United States National bank, as garnishee, pay into court $1,561 62 belonging to the defendant.

George Rylands took out letters of administration on the estate of William Emmett, late of McKees Rocks. The decedent had no relatives and Rylands is a creditor of the estate.

Suit for divorce was entered by Mrs. Abbie H. Vandergrift against John Vandergrift. The libellant charges the respondent with indignities to the person. They were married in January, 1886.

In the equity case of Morris & Brown against James H. McCutcheon and others, an action growing out of stock transactions, a demurrer was filed by hte defendant to the plaintiff's bill.

Suit was entered by Emil Sass against the Monongahela Street Railway Company for $5,000 damages. Plaintiff was injured in a collision of two of the defendants cars at Hawkins Station.

Ada C. Wagner, A. C. Ballier and Ada E. Boyles brought suit against the Monongahela Traction Company to recover damages for injuries received by a car of the defendant company striking a wagon in which the plaintiffs were riding on Woodstock avenue, Braddock.

Suit was entered by Richard O. Gerber against Gottfried Ruhlandt to recover $5,000 damages for calling the plaintiff "a scab." It is stated in the bill the words meant "the plaintiff would use unprincipled, low and unjust means to obtain another man's position or job."

The case of George A. Ecker against Laughlin & Co. was called for trial. The plaintiff claims damages to property by reason of the smoke and gases from the coke ovens along Second avenue, Twenty-third ward. The court allowed the name of Jones & Laughlins Ltd. to be substituted as defendant.

The nine cases of Frank J. Hearne against four fire insurance companies were taken up in the United States court. The suit is to recover $50,000 loss on the plaintiff's residence on Murray Hill avenue, which was destroyed by fire. The defendants claim that the house was vacant at the time it was burned and, by not notifying them of this fact, the plaintiff violated his agreement.

In the case of J. L. DeLong, receiver of the New Enterprise Building and Loan association of McKeesport, against E. H. Leisure and others, a verdict of $279 was rendered for the plaintiff. Leisure was formerly secretary of the association, and it was alleged he was a defaulter in the sum of $4,214.55, and the suit was to recover upon his bond. Other cases against Leisure were taken up for trial.

Casimer Russell sued John R. Comstock for $2,500 damages. He says Comstock fraudulently represented to him that he owned a "horse clipping business," from which he got $2,285 during the year 1899, having clipped 760 horses, and upon this statement he paid the defendant [illegible] for one-half interest in the business. Russell declares that during that year the business was only worth $32.50.

Enthusiastic Converts

There Are Thousands of Them Who Believe as This Woman Does.

Mrs. Ira Knowlton of Butte, Mon., is a most enthusiastic convert to the virtues of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as a cure for obstinate stomach trouble. She says: "I had poor digestion nearly all my life. It now seems to me that for years I never knew what it was to be hungry, to have a good, natural appetite.

"I was troubled with gas in stomach, causing pressure on the heart with palpitation and short breath. Nearly everything I ate soured on my stomach, sometimes I had cramps in the stomach which almost resembled spasms.

"Doctors told me I had catarrh of the stomach, but their medicines would not reach it and I would still be a sufferer had I not, in sheer desperation, decided to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"I knew they were an advertised remedy and I didn't believe anything I read about them, as I had no confidence in advertised remedies, but my sister, living in Pittsburgh, wrote me last spring telling me how Stuart's Tablets had cured her little daughters of indigestion and loss of flesh and appetite and I hesitated no longer.

"I bought a 50-cent box at my drug store and took two of the large tablets after each meal and found them delightful to take, being as pleasant to the taste as caramel candy. Whenever during the day or night I felt any pain or uneasiness in the stomach, or about the heart, I took one of the small tablets and in three weeks it seemed to me as if I had never known what stomach trouble was.

"I keep Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in the house and every member of our family uses them occasionally after a hearty meal, or when any of us have a pain or ache in the digestive organs."

Mr. E. H. Davis of Hampton, Va., says: "I doctored five years for dyspepsia, but in two months I got more benefit from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets than in five years of the doctor's treatment."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, bloating after meals, sympathetic heart trouble.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is not a cheap cathartic, but an active digestive remedy containing the pepsin and diastase which every weak stomach lacks, and they cure stomach troubles because they digest the food eaten and give the weak, abused overworked stomach a chance to rest and recuperate.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold in every drug store in the United States, Canada and Great Britain. 113wyg

(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 12.—The man who chartered the steamer Cando is Capt. Paris Brown of Moscow, O., who is said to be acting for other persons. The steamer M. P. Wells was today attached through the United States court for several standing bills. The C. E. Reynolds was today chartered by the government to do snagging work. She left at noon for Brush Creek. The Mary Stewart, which was to be chartered, arrived today and she is to be returned to her owners. Boats were delayed in arriving by the heavy wind storm of last night. The river is expected to rise slowly at this place, due to rains which did not amount to over one-half inch. Stage at 6 p. m., 4.2 feet.

EVANSVILLE—River 1.9 feet; stationary. Weather clear and cool.

LOUISVILLE—River on a stand; canal, 2.8 feet; falls, 7 inches; foot of locks, 8.6 feet. Business good. Weather clear and pleasant. Only three packets in and out today. The United States local boiler inspector, Willis Youngblood, is dangerously ill in New Orleans. His son Jesse, engineer on the City of Camden, left for his bedside tonight.

BROWNSVILLE—River 5 feet and stationary. Weather cloudy.

WARREN—River 3 feet 8 inches. Weather colder with heavy rain.

GREENSBORO—River 6 feet and stationary. Rainfall .63. Weather cloudy and cooler.

WHEELING—River 1 foot 7 inches; rising. Cloudy and cold.

PARKERSBURG—River 1.8 feet and stationary. Good rain early this morning and much colder tonight. During a wind storm this morning the Parkersburg docks, with the towboat Darling, were blown loose and lodged half a mile up the Little Kanawha. No serious damage was done.

MORGANTOWN—River 7 feet and stationary. Weather cloudy and colder.

STEUBENVILLE—River 1 foot 6 inches and rising. Weather cloudy and cool.

POINT PLEASANT—River 1 foot 11 inches and stationary. Weather partly cloudy and cool. No boats.

OIL CITY—River 1 foot 2 inches and rising. Weather cloudy.

KISKIMINETAS JUNCTION—River 1 foot; falling. Weather cloudy and colder with snow.

Navigation is suspended on the Cumberland river.

Capt. Charles Boles predicts that it will snow today, get warmer tomorrow and rain on Friday.

It is said that the coal combination will pay stewards $60 a month upon the opening of navigation.

Capt. Thomas Stead has taken command of the Memphis packet Ferd Herold in place of Capt. Andrew Hazlett, who died a short time ago.

Capt. Thomas T. Dunlevy, who has been ill at the Mercy hospital for the past 10 days, will have sufficiently recovered to leave that institution today, it is thought.

A. Inskeep, who went to the Pacific coast in the interest of the coal combination, where the latter is buying large quantities of Oregon fir, has returned from his trip.

The little sailing vessel, We're Here, weighed anchor and departed for New Orleans yesterday from Louisville with her cargo of four members of the Detroit Yacht club on board.

Work on the Springdale dam on the Allegheny river is well under way and the contractors are getting the work in shape for winter. Nearly all of the masonry on the dam has been finished.

Capt. W. L. Sibert, who has been assigned to succeed Maj. Charles F. Powell as engineer in charge of the improvements on the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, will be relieved of the Louisville station, his present post, December 14.

Maj. W. H. Bixby and Capt. W. E. Craighill, who yesterday inspected the upper Ohio river dams, arrived in Pittsburgh last night and are stopping at the Duquesne. Capt. Craighill was recently assigned to the upper Ohio river district, which takes in that portion of the Ohio river between Pittsburgh and Parkersburg.

The Charles Hegewald steamboat machinery plant at New Albany, Ind., is getting a new battery of boilers preparatory to the erection of new and more powerful steam tools, such as steel rollers, trimmers, punches, drills and hammers. The biggest job in the shop now is the equipment for a large plate glass factory near Pittsburgh.

Capt. William M. Rees, of the United States engineering corps, will read a paper before the next meeting of the Memphis Engineering society which is of peculiar interest and importance to river interests. It will deal with the sandbar proposition, and coming from such a high source, the ideas contained may be taken at a value much more important than would attend a mere essay on the subject from another direction.

MUST PUT NAME ON PLUGS.

Secretary Gage Issues Orders to Steamboat and Boiler Inspectors.

Lyman J. Gage, secretary of the treasury, has issued a circular to the United States boiler and steamboat inspectors, an important part of which reads:

"The manufacturers of fusible plugs, whether boilermakers or others, will be required hereafter to stamp their names thereon for identification, and file with the local inspectors in the districts where their plugs are in most general use a certificate stating that the fusible plugs manufactured by them are filled with good Banaca tin.

"Supervising and local inspectors are hereby directed not to authorize hereafter the use of any fusible plug not stamped with the maker's name, and when such maker's certificate as herein provided for is not on file in the inspector's office; and are still further directed not to accept or pass any fusible plug not made in form in strict accordance with section 26, rule 2, rules and regulations of the board of supervising inspectors."

POSTAL MATTERS.

Three More Rural Free Delivery Routes to Be Established.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Additional rural delivery of mail routes will be established on December 2, as follows: From Chambersburg, Franklin county, Pa., with 12 carriers, who will cover 155 square miles and serve 3,951 people; from Lewistown, Mifflin county, Pa., with one carrier, who will cover 18 square miles and serve 945 people; from Athens, Athens county, O., with four carriers, who will cover 88 square miles and serve 1,980 people.

The postoffice at Mack, Monongalia county, W. Va., will be discontinued November 30, and the mail sent thereafter to Dellslow.

In his annual report Postmaster General Smith will ask for an increase of the appropriation for the rural free delivery service from the present sum of $3,500,000 to $5,000,000, and will advocate the extension of the service as far as practicable.

Postmasters were appointed today as follows: Pennsylvania, Woodview, Allegheny county, W. H. Davis. West Virginia, Lerona, Mercer county, G. W. Shorter; Louise, Pocahontas county, H. F. Arbogast; Springdale, Fayette county, R. A. White.

WEST POINT IS OLD.

Board of Visitors Recommends Rebuilding of the Academy.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—The most important feature of the report of the board of visitors to the West Point military academy is a recommendation that the academy be rebuilt. The report says:

"It has been nearly 100 years since West Point was founded, and from the birth of the institution nearly all the improvements have been on the patchwork plan. There is but one building constructed by the government at the post that is in harmony with this day and generation. All the others are old, uncomfortable and entirely inadequate to meet present conditions."

Chemicals Used in Oysters.

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 12.—Pure food inspectors of this district have discovered that dangerous chemicals are being used to preserve oysters shipped to local dealers. Of 62 samples sent to Pittsburgh for analysis more than half were found to contain either formaldehyde or boracic acid. Some contained both in alarmingly large quantities. The department will proceed with prosecution.

BALANCE WHEEL OF IRON PRICES

Independents Begin to See the Widsom of the Steel Combine's Policy.

NO WILD FLUCTUATIONS UP OR DOWN

Recent Cut in Wire Nails Shown to Be a Mistake—J. P. Morgan & Co. Promise a Statement About the Northern Pacific Deal.

(By Private Wire to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—As miscellaneous iron and steel interests become better acquainted with the policy of the United States Steel Corporation to protect the various branches of the industry against price fluctuations, the better they like it. The influence of the combine in this direction of course is very potent and is exercised no more readily to maintain prices on a profitable basis than to prevent unreasonable advances.

The occasion for this reflection is the efforts the United States Steel interests are making to bring about the co-operation of independent producers of wire products to prevent competitive cutting during the dull season now on. These efforts apply especially to the wire nail business. The policy of the United States Steel Corporation in this instance, as in others, is not so much in behalf of its own immediate interests as in consideration of the general welfare of the trade. This is apparent from the fact that the independent production of wire nails is comparatively small. The very reasonable concessions that have been made by the independents have not nor could they have, embarrassed the United States Steel Corporation itself, but the influence of the combine is by principle set against unnecessary fluctuations, either up or down.

It was admitted today that United States Steel interests are bringing arguments to bear upon independent producers and several of these are authority for the statement that a price agreement is likely to be effected.

Against Cuts in the Dull Season.

It is no secret that the independents have made concessions ranging from 5 to 10 cents a keg on their products, but it does not appear that there has been any considerable accumulation of stock. The fact is that at this season of the year the interruption of construction work lessens the demand for steel nails, and hitherto manufacturers have found it convenient to shade prices in order to keep stocks moving. The demand usually begins to pick up again in February, and really there would seem to be no necessity for a price cut at all if manufacturers could be brought together in a working agreement. This is what the combine has undertaken to do.

It is not so much the cuts already inaugurated against which the United States Steel interests protest as against the tendency. One independent manufacturer for example said today his company had been able to keep its stock moving at prices ranging from between $2.15 and $2.20 a keg, which are virtually the prices of the combine. There is no intention to advance prices by virtue of the proposed agreement, but merely to maintain them on a reasonable basis until trade begins to brighten again in the second month of next year. If conditions were reversed the influence of the combine probably would be exercised with equal vigor to prevent a temporary advance.

Northern Pacific Statement Coming.

A representative of J. P. Morgan & Company, said this afternoon that an authoritative statement covering the Northern Pacific-Burlington settlement probably would be given out after the meeting of the Northern Pacific directors tomorrow. This promise, coming from the source it did, was the most definite announcement that has yet been made in this connection, but unfortunately it came after the market had closed. The same gentleman declared with emphasis that a satisfactory arrangement had been agreed upon and that matters lack only official approval, which already is pledged, of course.

Watching Pennies on Sugar Market.

The ten-point cut in the price of refined soft sugar, announced today, interested Wall street chiefly for its bearing upon a pool supposed to be headed by Thomas W. Lawson of Boston, that lately has been active in sugar stocks. Mr. Lawson essays a familiar role in the manipulation of American Sugar Refining stock. His market specialties are Amalgamated Copper and Sugar, and he frequently plays one against the other, sometimes to the disadvantage of the other. He resorted yesterday to one of his old tricks and offered to bet $25,000 against $10,000 that Sugar would sell ten points up before five points down. A New York room trader took the short end of this bet, much to the surprise of Mr. Lawson, it may be imagined; and now Wall street is earnestly speculating as to the precise attitude of the Boston crowd.

Mr. Lawson does these things much as a boy matches pennies. The science of that game is to determine, first, the depth of the other fellow's cunning; and, second, his estimate of your own. If the other fellow estimates that your cunning will lead you to alternate heads and tails three times, and then to turn heads twice in succession, you can fool him by doing otherwise,—that is, if you have calculated aright his estimate of your own skill. It is the saying now that Mr. Lawson is matching pennies with Wall street. He used to be considered a good trader who coppered Lawson and played him for a bull when he posed as a bear and vice versa. Wall street having coppered him twice in succession, as has been the case, Mr. Lawson might fool the street on some such reasoning as this:

"They will think I am fooling again and will copper me. I shall fool them this time by telling the truth."

It is a fine game of wits, but one that reflects no credit upon those engaged therein.

As to the sugar trade situation, there is little to be said. A representative of the Howells said today the reduction in the price of soft sugar is the result of competition between beet and cane products. Michigan and Louisiana sugars, he said, are coming into the market in large volume, and the pressure to sell made it necessary for established interests to shade their prices.

Good for Car and Engine Concerns.

The abnormal demand for railroad equipment has had its reflection in the market in favor of such stocks as Pressed Steel Car, American Car & Foundry and American Locomotive. Each of these has advanced smartly this week. American Car & Foundry has been backward, however, owing to the memory of the disappointment in the statement recently issued. Touching upon the reported financial showing made at that time, a gentleman in close touch with the affairs of the American Car & Foundry Company today said:

"The decreased earnings of the Car & Foundry Company can be traced directly to the steel strike. The company at that time had in its shops 8,000 uncompleted cars which it was unable to finish for want of certain parts that could be supplied only by the United States Steel Corporation. Of course, the company could not collect on these cars in advance of delivery, and hence the impairment of its earnings for the period recently reported upon. The earnings of the company since the settlement of the steel strike have been uncommonly heavy, and I feel free to say that the next statement will be a very favorable one.

It was also said today the American Car & Foundry Company contemplates extensive additions to its properties. The present output of the concern falls considerably short of satisfying the demands. The orders now on its books guarantee continuous work for at least 12 months.

Pittsburgh Bar Iron Conference.

It was announced here today that representatives of a considerable majority of the concerns of the Eastern Bar Iron association had set out for Pittsburgh, where they will meet with representatives of the Western Bar Iron association to agree on maintenance of prices. Practically every concern in the two associations is said to be represented in these delegations, either directly or indirectly. From voluntary expressions that have been made it is regarded as foregone that a satisfactory agreement will be concluded at this Pittsburgh conference. The importance of such a result is not to be lightly estimated. It is hinted, too, that an agreement will be speedily followed by an advance in prices of bar iron, although, to be sure, there is no official warrant for a definite statement in this respect.

Proposed Pittsburgh Bridge Plant.

The directors of the American Bridge Company will hold a meeting here tomorrow at which the expediency of proceeding at once with the construction of a large plant in the Pittsburgh district will be canvassed. At the company's office in this city today no advance information was available. A great deal has been written about the proposed plant, which, if built upon present plans, will be the largest bridge works in the world. The directors are understood to be agreed upon the general outline of the undertaking, but certain details have yet to be arranged to the satisfaction of all, and it probably will require some persuasion on the part of its advocates to get a unanimous vote from the board on the project as now outlined.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Latest Finds in Gold, Silver, Copper and Other Metals in the Far Western States.

(By Private Wire to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—There is great excitement in the Meadow Lake district, Nevada county, Cal., over a marvelous strike in the Century. The ore shows large spots and flakes and leaves of free gold, and lies in the brown oxide part of the ledge, which is fully six feet wide. Assays run from $20,000 to $30,000 a ton.

The strike in the Black Hawk, Rand district, California, is holding out. The vein is three feet wide and carries gold values throughout.

A 23-foot copper ledge is being prospected on the east fork of the New river, Trinity county, Cal. Two other ledges in the same vicinity average about $8 gold, $22 50 copper, and $1 20 silver.

Ore shipments from Rossland, B. C., for the week ending Saturday were 4,620 tons. The Le Roi sent out 3,720 tons; Le Roi No. 2, 840 tons, and Rossland and Great Western, 60 tons. The total shipments for the year up to date are 252,358 tons.

During the last two weeks in October the Mikado, in the Rainy river district, Ontario, cleaned up $8,000.

The new streak in the Mendota, near Silver Plume, Col., is holding out well. It is four feet wide and the ore averages $50 a ton.

A vein from 15 to 30 feet wide has been opened on the Sunday claim at Cow creek, Wyoming. The ore resembles that of the Kurtz-Chatterton.

It is again rumored that the Mother Lode, the Brooklyn, Snow Shoe and B. C. mines in the Boundary district, British Columbia, are to be consolidated under one management.

Scarcity of water has forced the closing down temporarily of the Copper Queen's smelter at Bisbee, Ariz. The Midnight, at Chlondo, has been sold to Los Angeles men for $50,000.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Drygoods have continued dull in all departments, but there has been a fair business in brown cottons for export. Bleached cottons are slow but steady. Coarse colored goods firm. Merrimac shirting prints, 4¼c. Business in prints quiet. Print cloths are lifeless in regulars and price nominal. Other counts inactive and unchanged.

MANCHESTE, Nov. 12.—Cloths quiet and steady. Yarns steady.

Whisky.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 12.—Whisky distillers' finished goods firm on basis of $1 31.

Bears Find Weak Spots Among Advancing Prices

BULLS DISPOSED TO REALIZING

General Advance Checked by Selling Movement Among the Favorites.

SOME ISSUES CONTINUE TO ADVANCE

New York City Tractions Were Conspicuous for Strength—Extraordinary Earnings of Railways an Incentive to Speculation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—There was rather less buying demand and rather more irregularity in the stock market from the outset today. The hesitation in the advance grew and turned to sharp reactions in the late dealings. Selling to take profits was joined to extensive short lines put out by the bear party on the argument that the rise in prices after enduring for so great a length of time must have made the market vulnerable to attack, and although the extreme advances in the strong stocks were notably curtailed, many of them have considerable net gains to show for the day. The local transactions were conspicuous examples. In Metropolitan the advance reached 8⅞ at one time, and in Brooklyn Transit 2⅝, while the net gains are 2¼ for Metropolitan Street Railway and 1⅝ for Brooklyn Transit. The anthracite and soft coal carriers selling below par also showed continued strength, as did the iron and steel industrials.

The disposition to take attractive profits after the considerable advance in price which has occurred was emphasized by the expectation that several millions of gold will go out this week on Thursday to Paris and on Saturday probably to London, as the rate of sterling exchange today advanced to a point which makes gold exports to London direct profitable.

The strength of sterling here was in spite of easier money rates both in London and in Berlin and a relaxation of the continental pressure on London for gold. The necessity of a large movement of gold from New York at this time of the year calls renewed attention to the extent of the American borrowings in Europe earlier in the year with the expectation that our foreign trade would continue so favorable that these loans could be repaid at a profit out of the abundance of the foreign exchange bills in New York.

The fact that this expectation has not been realized and that exchange bills are scarce owing to the falling off in our export trade arouses some natural surmise whether the high prices of stocks reached earlier in the year did not also represent undue expectations. It is to be recollected that the projects which stimulated our stock inflation and even to some extent the actual manipulation of the market were furthered by the resources of these foreign borrowings. In the present movement more than one stock has reached a record price and all stocks are undeniably high priced. On the other hand the extraordinary railroad earnings and trade activity are natural incentives to speculation. Today's returns of gross earnings for the first week in November show such increases over last year as 53 per cent for Rio Grande Western, 22 per cent for Chicago Great Western, 31 per cent for Canadian Pacific, 17 per cent for Wabash, 15 per cent for Chicago & Eastern Illinois and 9 per cent for St. Paul.

The government estimate on the corn crop, although it offered no very unexpected information, renewed the depressing influence of the heavy shortage in the crop and the corn carrying railroads in the west and southwest were therefore most acutely affected by the profit-taking. The cut in the price of sugar especially affected that stock. The market closed active and weak.

There was another large day's business in bonds but the price movement was irregular. Total sales par value $5,290,000.

United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

Wall Street Features.

Total sales 909,100 shares.

Heavy realizing causes hesitation and checks advances.

Metropolitan and Brooklyn Rapid Transit were among stocks that advanced.

Coalers also showed strength.

Railway statements show extraordinary increase in earnings over last year.

United States Steel common closed 43¾.

United States Steel preferred closed 93⅝.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

The development in the lower end of Gilmer county, West Virginia, from which so much was expected, has about reached the end of its career, if dry holes are to be counted for anything in the past efforts to extend the pool. The South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 8 on the W. G. Bennett tract through the salt sand and has a duster, making the fifth in that locality. The location is south of the No. 1 on this tract and completes the circle of dry holes unless possibly to the west. To go outside of the dry holes might bring producers, but to drill for them would seem like tempting fate. This development a few months ago was looked upon as one of the most promising, but six dry holes and two small producers tell the story.

The same company has a surprise equally as unpleasant at its No. 4 on the William Clendenning farm on the west side of the Bristoria development in Greene county, Pennsylvania. No. 3 on this farm was quite a remarkable producer when drilled in and is still producing at the rate of 60 barrels a day. No. 4 is only one location west and is a total failure.

In the north end of the new Freeport development in the same county the South Penn Oil Company has drilled in its No. 4 on the W. J. Bryan farm and has a producer good for 20 barrels a day.

On Buffalo run, Wetzel county, the Kanawha Oil Company has drilled its No. 98 on the Mills tract into the Gordon and will have a small pumper. On the west side of the "Little Germany" pool in Marshall county the South Penn Oil Company's test well on the S. Richmond farm is light in the Gordon sand. Near Sistersville, in the Big Injun sand development in Tyler county, Goodkind & Kinsbury have shot their test well on the McCormick farm and increased its production to 100 barrels a day.

In the Sand Fork pool in Lewis county J. M. Guffey & Co.'s No. 15 on the James Mullady farm is producing 25 barrels a day from the stray and Gordon and is now drilling to the fifth sand.

In the Bealle Mills district the same company has completed No. 4 on the S. V. Lynch farm and has a 20-barrel producer. No. 1 on the Pat Mullady farm, owned by the same company, is good for 20 barrels a day. Gulley, Gaby & Truee have completed their No. 2 on the P. Elliott farm and have a 20-barrel pumper from the fifth sand. In the lower end of the development the South Penn has completed No. 2 on the D. E. Ramsbury farm and has a 25-barrel producer. Only seven wells in the Bealle Mills district have a production of 50 or more barrels a day at the present time.

On the west side of the north extension to the Wolf Summit field in Harrison county the Southern Oil Company has drilled in its No. 2 on the D. P. Stutler farm and has a 35-barrel producer.

On Cow run, Lafayette district, Pleasants county, the American Oil Development Company and the South Penn Oil Company will make an important test of their No. 1 on the A. W. Gorrell farm. This well was a duster in both the Cow Run and Big Injun sands and will now be drilled to the Gordon and will be the first well in that part of Pleasants county to look for the Gordon formation. Its completion will be watched with some interest. L. C. Wilson & Co. have completed their No. 8 on the John McFarland farm and have a duster in the Cow Run sand. Sharp & Co. had the same kind of luck at their No. 1 on the A. J. Huggins farm. Ellsworth, Davis & Co. have completed their No. 8 on the John Wagner farm and have a 30-barrel pumper from the Cow Run sand.

Southeastern Ohio.

On the Ohio side in the Lowell district, Washington county, the Cleveland and Marietta Oil Company has completed its No. 2 on the Fred Ritchie farm and has a 20-barrel producer. In the same district Trapp & Co. have completed a test well on the Lewis Wilking farm and have a small pumper.

In the Macksburg field J. H. & J. W. Mosley have completed their No. 2 on the J. M. Mosley farm and have a duster in the 500-foot sand. Clark Bros. have completed No. 5 on their own farm and have a duster.

Near Bowerston, Harrison county, Smiley & Co. have completed a test well on the Jonas Parker farm and have a duster.

In the Turkey Foot field, Beaver county, Murray & Co. have completed No. 3 on the S. Carson farm and have a 10-barrel pumper. Charles Brown & Sons have drilled in their No. 2 on their own farm and have a show for a light well.

On Little Sewickley creek the Little Sewickley Creek Oil Company has completed No. 5 on the G. V. Bevine farm and have a very light show in the 100-foot.

In the Speechley sand district near Troutman, Butler county, the Southern Oil Company has drilled its test well on the Brown farm, located one and one-half miles southwest of developments, into the sand and is making a mystery of it.

The South Penn Oil Company has drilled in its test well on the Murtland farm and has a show for the best natural producer in the Speechley development.

Decline of More Than a Cent Takes Place in Wheat and Corn.

BEARISH NEWS FROM ALL DIRECTIONS

Liverpool and Paris Cables Were Lower and Argentine Reported Abundant Rains—Primary Receipts Double Same Day Last Year

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Heavy liquidation in a market depressingly heavy with bearish influences brought a general slump in grains today, December wheat closing 1⅛@1¼c lower, December corn 1¼@1⅜c down and December oats ⅛@⅝c depressed. Provisions closed 2½c to 5c down.

In the absence of any definite support the trade of the wheat pit resolved itself into a steady decline. Both Liverpool and Paris cables were lower and this started trade with a decline of ¼@⅜c to ⅜@½c for December, at 72⅝@72½c. News from Argentine told of too heavy rains and on short covering and a light commission house demand early, the indications were that business would have an upward trend. Almost immediately, however, a stream of wheat began coming out and prices sagged rapidly. Primary receipts were more than double those of the same day a year ago. Clearances were small, and Bradstreets reported the world's visible increase at 3,000,000 bushels. Chicago stocks were considerably increased and the stream from the northwest was unabated. Then the commission houses stopped buying and turned sellers and the only support came from the pit itself. A quantity was absorbed to stop the decline, but this came out again later and December sold down to 71⅝c, closing weak, 1⅛@1¼c lower, at 71¾c. Local receipts were 180 cars, 26 of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 1,050 cars, making a total for the three points of 1,230, against 1,131 last week, and only 705 a year ago.

Primary receipts were 1,444,000 bushels, compared with 707,000 bushels last year. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equaled 457,000 bushels. The seaboard reported 30 loads taken for export.

Corn was heavy, the influence of the government report on the crop condition being blamed for much of the weakness. This report, which showed a condition of 16.4 bushels to the acre, over 82,000,000 bushels, had been expected, and was no more bearish in itself than had been forecasted. This influence, however, with weaker cables brought a decline for December of ⅛@¼c at the opening. There was a moderate early support, both local and by commission houses, and prices advanced ⅛c. Trade was dull and on an attempt to unload several long lines prices sagged. The decline in wheat added another straw to weaken the market, and December closed at its bottom price, weak, 1¼@1⅜c lower, at 58½@58⅝c. Receipts were 150 cars.

Oats showed considerable independence of other grains though the heavy liquidation had some influence. Trade was good, the cash situation was strong, and there was some professional buying. December opened ⅛@¼c lower on fair offerings, reacted slightly on demands, but gradually weakened to 38⅝c on the pressure in the other pits. Covering brought back the loss, but at the close December was easy, ½@⅝c lower, at 38⅞c. Receipts were 209 cars.

Provisions were dull and ruled easier. There was a heavy run of hogs with lower prices, but this influence was modified by their light weights. There was a small local demand both by packers and shorts. January pork closed 5c down, at $14 95; January lard 2½@5c lower, at $8 55@8 57½, and January ribs 2½c down, at $7 67½@7 70.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 70 cars, corn 65 cars, oats 135 cars, hogs 38,000 head.

MADRID, Nov. 12.—Spanish 4s closed today at 78.20. Gold was quoted at 42.62.

Wool.

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—The demands for wool this week was entirely satisfactory to dealers, and quite a large business was done. The effect of the free buying the previous week tended to stiffen prices, but no advance of any material consequence is noted, but dealers are talking of a firmer market and say the outlook for the market is encouraging. The market for territory wools is firm and unchanged. General quotations are yet about the same. Fine territory grades are quoted on the scoured basis of 45c, with fine medium at 40@43c and staple lots at 45@47c. Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces are firm, with available offerings of close grades limited, Ohio fine delaine selling at 28c, with XX Ohio at 26c. Some fair lines of Australian fine wools were cleaned up this week at ruling prices, but this is below cost of replacing them from abroad. The following are the quotations for leading descriptions: Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces, X and X and above, 23@24c; XX and XX and above, 26c; coarse and braid washed, 23@24c. Michigan, Wisconsin, etc.—X Michigan, 21c; No. 1 Michigan combing, 24@25c; No. 2 do, 24@25c; coarse and braid washed, 23@24c; fine delaine, 24@25c; unwashed medium, etc., Kentucky and Indiana ¼-blood combing, 20@21c; ⅜-blood, 20c; Missouri ¼-blood combing, 19@20c; ⅜-blood, 19@20c; braid combing, 17@18c. Foreign Bourses.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—Prices on the bourse today opened steady, but there were few transactions. The close was firm. Argentines were eagerly demanded and finished with a sharp rise. Italians and Brazilians were firm. Tramways and Thomson-Houston declined, but recovered largely at the close. Russian industrials were irregular. Rio Tintos were firm in response to New York. Kaffirs advanced on peace rumors, but later became calm. The private rate of discount is unchanged at 2 15-16 per cent.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Money was in good demand today, owing to the preparations for the settlement, and as a result of the treasury bills allotment. The firmness of continental exchanges weakened discounts. Prices on the stock exchange were irregular and business was improved. Gilt-edged securities opened lower and afterward improved. Home rails were lower. Americans opened firm, following New York, but later irregularity developed. The feature was the rise in Union Pacifics. The close was steady. Grand Trunks were weak. Kaffirs had a hardening tendency on a rumor that the Boers are in favor of surrender, regardless of their leaders. There was little increase in buying.

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—Business on the bourse today was quiet and prices were irregular, owing to the absence of stimulus. Northern Pacifics were firmer on New York advices. Canadian Pacifics were dull. Argentines were substantially higher on London advices. Locals were heavy.

Treasury Statement.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows: Available cash balance, $170,866,317; gold, $111,465,813; silver, $11,641,368; United States notes, $7,903,974; treasury notes of 1890, $69,992; national bank notes, $7,087,665; total receipts this day, $1,187,564; total receipts this month, $17,447,223; total receipts this year, $200,428,065; total expenditures this day, $1,052,000; total expenditures this month, $15,935,000; total expenditures this year, $180,554,771; deposits in national banks, $113,794,492.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Coffee, spot Rio, weak; No. 7 invoice, 7c; mild, Cordova, 7½@11c. Sugar, raw quiet and steady; fair refining, 3¼c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3¾c; molasses sugar, 3c; refined easy; No. 6, 4.30c; No. 7, 4.20c; No. 8, 4.10c; No. 9, 4.05c; No. 10, 4c; No. 11, 3.95c; No. 12, 3.95c; No. 13, 3.85c; No. 14, 3.85c. Coffee futures opened steady in tone, with prices unchanged to 5 points advance, and ruled very irregular during the session on flurries of covering by shorts and profit-taking by longs, at one time being 15 to 20 points higher, then rapidly declining until at the close prices were net 5 to 20 points lower, with the undertone easy. Private cables from Brazil reflected a more favorable condition of the crop, with prospects of a total movement of 7,500,000 bags. Cable news was a trifle better than expected; primary receipts were regarded as full. The day's total business amounted to 91,000 bags, including November at 6.75; December, 6.70@6.90c; January, 6.70c; February, 6.80c; March, 6.95@7.25c; May, 7.15@7.45c; June, 7.40c; July, 7.50@7.55c; September, 7.50@7.80c; October, 7.75c.

Metals.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Tin in London was rather irregular, spot declined 5s, while futures advanced 15s, closing at £112 5s for the former and £107 15s for the latter, without much business being done. Locally tin was strong and decidedly higher, with the range of spot, $25 35@24 50. Urgent demand and a lack of sellers caused the rise here. Copper was steady but quiet at London, with spot quoted at £65 17s 6d. Here the market was dull at $16 85@17 00 for Lake Superior and $16 37½@16 62½ for casting and electrolytic. Lead was 1s 3d lower to £11 3s 9d at London, while the local market was dull and unchanged at $4 37½. Spelter remains unchanged at home and quiet, at $4 30@4 35. Iron was dull and also unchanged. Pig iron warrants, $9 50@10 50; No. 1 northern foundry, $15 00@16 00; No. 2 foundry, southern, $14 00@15 00; No. 1 foundry, southern, $14 50@15 50; No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $14 50@16 00. Glasgow iron warrants closed at 54s 11d and Middlesborough closed at 43s 9d, representing a decided gain in values.

Available Supplies of Grain.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Special cable and telegraphic communications to Bradstreets show the following changes in available supplies from last account: Wheat, United States east of Rockies, increased 2,484,000 bushels; afloat for and in Europe, increased 600,000 bushels; total supply increased 3,084,000 bushels; corn, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, decreased 293,000 bushels; oats, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, decreased 753,000 bushels. Among the more important increases reported to Bradstreets are those of 1,200,000 bushels in Manitoba; 500,000 bushels at northwestern interior elevators; 147,000 bushels at Newport News; 127,000 bushels at Coteau; 89,000 bushels at Portland, Me., and 81,000 bushels at Rochester.

The leading decreases include those of 217,000 bushels at Depot Harbor; 215,000 bushels at Chicago private elevators; 61,000 bushels at St. Joseph, and 60,000 bushels at Minneapolis private elevators.

Quiet Day in London Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Commercial Advertiser's financial cablegram: The stock market today was quiet, American shares pausing for the consummation of the Northern Pacific deal. They hung around parity and closed heavy on the dullness in New York, but finally rallied on the curb, the features being Erie preferred and Canadian stocks. New York bought the latter freely on the fine traffic returns. Paris strongly supported Rio Tintos, but the reported selling by Senator Clark on the rise and rumors that anti-trust legislation is favored by President Roosevelt checked the advance. Gold to the amount of £50,000 has gone out to Denmark, £50,000 to South America, and £20,000 to Malta. The sum of £17,000 has been engaged in Australia. The price of bars is 77s 10⅝d. Money is scarce, and the bank is reported as a borrower on consols.

Turpentine and Rosin.

SAVANNAH, GA., Nov. 12.—Spirits turpentine, 34¼c. Rosin firm and unchanged.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 12.—Turpentine firm and unchanged. Rosin firm and unchanged.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 12.—Spirits turpentine, nothing doing. Rosin firm at 95c and $1 00 bid. Crude turpentine steady at $1 10 to $2 00. Tar firm at $1 25.

Canadian Railroaders to Organize.

MONTREAL, Nov. 12.—A call has been issued to the railroad men of Canada to meet at the informal reception to be held in Ottawa on November 20, for the purpose of organizing an association purely Canadian and national in character. Heretofore the different railway brotherhoods have been affiliated with United States associations.

Leather Belting Advanced.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—An advance of 20 per cent in the prices of leather belting was agreed upon today by the leather belting manufacturers' association at its fifteenth annual meeting. The advance is due, it was stated, to higher prices for the raw material. The new scale was arranged by a straight advance throughout the price list, the discounts remaining unchanged.

Burglars at DuBois.

DUBOIS, PA., Nov. 12.—Robbers broke into the tool house of the Pennsylvania railroad at Falls Creek this morning, secured a number of implements and prepared to make a wholesale robbery of the leading business places of the town. The postoffice, wholesale liquor store of A. T. Mead and the Evergreen hotel were entered and goods and money taken.

BURGLARS A BUSY LOT.

Postoffice and Banks in Three States Robbed—Fight With One of the Gangs.

BRISTOL, IND., Nov. 12.—The postoffice was entered by burglars early today and $1,200 in cash and $500 in stamps stolen. A fight with the citizens followed in which two persons were shot but not seriously hurt.

The robbers first broke into a blacksmith shop and secured heavy tools. They then effected an entrance into the postoffice and four stood guard outside while two drilled the safe and blew it. The explosion aroused the citizens and a pitched battle ensued. Mrs. C. E. Bickel was shot in the arm and Ray Shanner received a bullet in the nose. The robbers escaped with their booty.

TRENTON, KY., Nov. 12.—Robbers blew the vault of the bank here early today, and stole the postoffice deposit box containing $300. They escaped on a hand car. While officers and citizens were later examining the shattered vault an unexploded charge of nitroglycerine went off and six men were injured, two being badly burned.

PLYMOUTH, IA., Nov. 12.—The bank here was dynamited by robbers last night, and the vault and building badly wrecked. The robbers secured $1,500 and escaped.

FINANCIAL.

"A Bull Campaign"

has again started. We believe the greatest rise in stocks since May 9th will be made between now and Christmas. Don't delay but make your purchase immediately. The money question is now safe beyond peradventure; Atchison will earn nearly $3,000,000 more than for its preceding year. October will prove to be the greatest month for gross and net earnings ever recorded by the American roads. The Northern Pacific settlement, guarantees absolute maintenance of rates, will place over $12,000,000 additional assets in the Union Pacific treasury. The coming three months will witness a closer affiliation among the various American roads than conceived of heretofore; the bull cliques anticipator of coming events are heavily long of stocks. To buy stocks now is to participate in large profit making upon the money invested; to buy them later is to secure them at much higher prices, and contribute to the profit of present purchasers. The market is quickening and broadening. Gigantic speculative activity is ahead. We will buy and carry for you 20 shares of any of the standard speculatives upon a marginal deposit of $100, larger amounts in proportion.

Write or call at any of our offices for a complimentary copy of our 400 page, cloth bound, illustrated "Guide to Investors" and Daily market letters.

If you will write us we will be pleased to enumerate the stocks we consider the best purchases at the present time.

Local Stocks On the Exchange Were Dull and Very Irregular All Day Yesterday

WINDOW GLASS STILL WEAKER

The Common Stock Declined to 55 on Quite Small Transactions.

STEEL COMPANY SHARES WERE RATHER HEAVY

P. S. Car, Union Storage and Westinghouse Airbrake Strong and Higher—Brewing Common Declined but Preferred Advanced.

On the Pittsburg stock exchange yesterday the market was quite dull and very irregular, the closing tone being about steady to firm. In spots there was both considerable weakness and strength. Out of the 25 securities traded in nine declined from ⅛ to $4 50, and an equal number advanced from ⅛ to 8¾. Six were unchanged, and one sold for the first time. Window Glass common was still very weak, and continued the slump of recent days by declining to 55, from which it rallied later to 55⅛, a loss for the day of ⅝. The low point is the smallest price paid for the stock in months. Only 545 shares changed hands. The preferred stock sold 225 shares, opening at 89¼ (also the lowest point in months), but advancing to 90, a gain of ½ for the day. A small lot of United States Glass common sold at 33, and that price was later bid for regular lots, without offers. The steel company shares were rather heavy. United States Steel common on sales of 310 broke ⅝ to 44, and the preferred lost ⅛ at 93⅞. Crucible common sold 410 shares and the preferred 281, both closing unchanged, the common at 23 and the preferred at 85. Pressed Steel Car common advanced ⅜ to 44⅜, and the preferred $1 to 85, both being decidedly firm, though the sales were quite insignificant. Two sales of Union Storage, aggregating 194 shares, occurred at noon at 40, and afterward 40½ was bid for 25. The figure paid is a gain of $8 75 over the last previous sale, which took place September 26, 1901 at auction. Recently, however, the stock has been bid up to 38½. The advance is due to a report that the company will resume the payment of dividends in January next at the old rate of 6 per cent. About 18 months ago dividends were entirely suspended, but the company is said now to be in an exceedingly prosperous condition. Westinghouse Airbrake was stronger and $1 higher at 171 for 109 shares. Westinghouse Electric seconds appeared heavy, though only one 50-share lot was sold, going at 70¾, a loss of ¼. One broker, however, offered 1,000 shares at 71. This was the biggest single offer of the stock in years. Brewing common declined to 24⅞, but rallied to 25, a loss for the day of ¼. The preferred was firmer and ⅛ higher at 44⅝. Of the common 650 shares sold and of the preferred 238. Bonds were steady to firm. In the quotations Fidelity Title & Trust offered $1 lower at 457, and Western Savings and Deposit bank gained ½ at 103½, a new high record. Dollar Savings Fund and Trust also made a new high record by advancing $1 to $208. There were no other important changes.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Total sales Pittsburgh stock exchange 3,909 shares, $9,000 bonds and 900 receipts.

Window Glass common declined to 55. Closed 55⅛.

Crucible Steel was unchanged at 23 and the preferred at 85.

United States Steel common declined ⅝ to 44 and the preferred ⅛ to 93⅞. Sales were small.

Pittsburgh Brewing common lost ¼ and the preferred gained ⅛.

Westinghouse Airbrake was $1 higher at $171.

Pressed Steel Car issues were firmer and higher.

The following is a complete summary of the day's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices, new high records and final bids and offers:

Financial Drift.

Beaver Coal bonds offered at 104.

During the day Darr & Moore sold 900 Consolidated Traction preferred receipts to Robinson Bros.

W. A. McCutcheon at the first call sold $3,000 Penn Street Railway 5s at 110¼ and interest to Robinson Bros.; this is the first sale ever made on the exchange of these bonds.

Walker sold Airbrake to Sproul, Hill, Penney and Miller.

At the closing call 1,000 Trade Dollar Mining offered at $2 85.

At the last call 9¾ was bid and 10 asked for Beaver Coal common.

Hill & Co. traded both ways in Pittsburgh Brewing stocks on call.

Darr & Moore sold 10 Ohio Valley bank at the last call at 125.

Sproul & Co. sold 20 Tri-State Gas at the first call to Robinson & Orr.

At the last call R. C. Hall offered 1,000 Westinghouse Electric seconds at 71.

At the first call Sproul & Co. sold $1,000 Pittsburgh Brewing Company 6s to Doty.

Walker bought 300 Crucible Steel common at the closing call from A. E. Masten & Co.

Sproul & Co. bought 194 Union Storage at noon, R. C. Hall selling 94 and Miller 100.

Robinson Bros. bought $5,000 Sharon Steel Company bonds at the close from G. L. McFarland.

Long, Robinson Bros. and Marlin sold United States Steel to Campbell, Stevenson, Lawrence & Co. and Stoney.

Hill & Co. sold 213 American Window Glass preferred at the last call to McMullin and Preston, Watt & Schoyer.

The only trade in Westinghouse Electric seconds was made at the close, Miller selling 50 shares to R. C. Hall.

Preston, Waet & Schoyer sold 150 American Window Glass common at the first call and at noon bought 200 from R. C. Hall.

The new Philadelphia Company bonds were quoted at 102½ bid, deliverable when issued. This is the initial quotation on these bonds.

At the first call Humphries Miller was the principal seller of Pittsburgh Brewing common, disposing of 400 shares; Hill also sold 100. Wettengel, Schmidt, Speer, Sproul and Long bought.

At the meeting of Detroit United Railway directors an issue of $35,000,000 4½ per cent bonds was authorized for the purpose of taking up existing lines and making additions to the property.

Federal National bank stock offered at 123, the lowest quotation yet made on the stock; there were no bids and the stock has not yet sold on the exchange; the bank will probably open for business Monday. Sixty per cent on subscriptions has been paid in.

The Peoples Trust Company of No. 1730 Carson street has purchased ground at South Eighteenth and Carson streets and will erect a modern banking house. William Ruske is president; G. Henry Schmunk, vice president; H. J. Kumer, treasurer, and W. H. Lemon, counsel.

The following directors of the Western Insurance Company were elected yesterday: John B. Jackson, H. Sellers McKee, Edwin H. Stowe, James A. McDevitt, P. Harvy Miller, William R. Holmes, William B. Wolfe, Charles A. Painter, David P. Black, George W. J. Bissell, William P. Herbert, W. H. Nimick and H. S. A. Stewart.

George Ayres of Henry Sproul & Co., one of the most popular men on Fourth avenue, leaves Thursday for Los Angeles, Cal., to take charge of a branch office of the New York brokerage firm of Crary & Co., for the winter. Mr. Ayres will be located either at Pasedena or Los Angeles and hopes to return in April to his old place, perfectly restored to health.

Strong Flour and Coffee Markets

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Another Advance in Oats. Potatoes Stronger—String Beans Much Higher.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

There was little business done on the exchange yesterday morning, owing to the fact that holders were firm, and, while there was considerable bidding, buyers were not sufficiently anxious to raise figures to the amounts asked. Oats are quoted a fraction higher again today, owing to the extremely strong condition of the market, which will not admit of purchasing at prices low enough to sell at old quotations. New corn is offered from time to time, but is not yet sufficiently well established for quoting; offerings yesterday were at 62 cents, with 60 cents bid.

Receipts bulletined: Manchester yards, 9 cars hay, 7 cars oats, 4 cars feed, 1 car straw, 5 cars corn; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad, 3 cars hay; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 1 car hay; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 1 car straw. Total receipts, 29 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, millfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Straw—Oat, $7 50@8 00; wheat, $7 50@8 00; rye, $8 25@8 75.

Rye—Milling price, delivered, No. 2 Michigan, 59@60c.

Hay—Choice timothy, $15 00@15 25; No. 1 do, $14 50@14 75; No. 2 do, $13 00@14 00; No. 1 mixed, $11 00@11 50; No. 1 clover, $11 00@11 50; prairie, $10 50@11 00; packing, $8 00@10 00; loose from wagon, $14 50@17 00.

Wheat—No. 2 red, winter, 86@87c f. o. b. car within radius of 50 miles of Pittsburgh.

Corn—No. 2 yellow, shelled, 66@67c; high mixed, 65@66c; No. 2 mixed, 64@65c; No. 2 yellow ear, 66@67c; high mixed, 64½@65½c; No. 2 mixed, 63@64c.

Millfeed—Middlings, No. 1 white, $22 00@22 50 per ton; No. 2, $20 75@21 25; brown, $19 75@20 25; bran, $18 50@19 00.

Groceries.

Very strong flour and sugar markets are now ruling, with advances expected in both lines. Wheat is maintaining a firm position and conditions indicate the possibility of its going higher. This, of course, would mean higher flour, and jobbers think that is imminent if the heavy demand for wheat continues. Coffee is very strong in primary markets and that it will move forward in price here seems to be accepted as a certainty, wholesalers holding themselves in readiness for news of an advance at any time. Sugar is quiet locally; the Arbuckles refinery made a cut of 10 points in the price of refined yesterday, but the American has not followed, and card rates in Pittsburgh have not been affected. No other quotable changes have occurred.

Flour—Jobbers' price: Fancy spring patents, $4 10@4 20; fancy winter patents, $3 70@3 80; straight winter, $3 50@3 60; bakers' spring, $3 00@3 60; rye, $3 20@3 25; graham, $4 25@4 50; cornmeal, bbl, $3 50@3 75; 10-lb cotton bags, 19 cents.

Sugars—Standard granulated, 5.00c; fine granulated, bbl, 100-lb and 25-lb jute bags, 5.00c; 60 2-lb cartons and 20 5-lb cotton bags, 5.15c; powdered, 5.10c; powdered xxxx, 5.15c; cubes, 5¼c; cut loaf, 5.60c; confectioners' A, 4.80c; No. 2 spot white, 4.65c; No. 4 do, 4.55c; No. 7 yellow, 4.30c; No. 8 do, 4.20c; No. 9 do, 4.15c. (Quotations are f. o. b. cars New York, which gives cost at your nearest railroad station. The price for Pittsburgh is 15 cents per 100 lbs above these quotations.)

Cereals—Rolled oats, bbls, $5 00; kegs, $2 65; packages, $2 35@3 25. Oatmeal, bbls, $5 50; kegs, $2 90.

Molasses—Fancy refined, 30@32c; choice do, 26@28c; prime do, 22@25c; new open kettle, 40@41c; fancy sugar syrups, 27@29c; sugar and cane, 22@24c; syrup in 2½-lb tin cans, $1 00 per doz.

Salt—No. 1, $1 00 per bbl; No. 1 extra, $1 10; dairy, $1 30; granulated rock, 95c sack.

Coffee—Roasted, bulk Rio, 10½@12c; Santos, 22½@23½c; Maricaibo, 17@17½c; Peaberry, 17@18½c; Caracas, 18½@20c; Golden Rio, 13@15½c; Java, 26@28c; Mocha, 25½c; standard brands, 1-lb pkgs, 11.80c (with rebate of ¾c allowed to retailers); high grades, 1-lb pkgs, 15.30@17.30c.

Beans—Prime marrowfat, bu, $2 75@2 85; pea or navy, $1 90@2 10; do red kidney, bu, $2 50@2 85; lima beans, 5½@6c.

Rice—Fancy head, 7¼@8c; choice head, 6½@7c; Carolina, 6@6¼c; fancy Japan, 5¾@6c.

Peas—Dried peas, $1 40@1 45; Scotch, per bu, $1 50@1 55; split peas, bbl, $5 85; less, 3c per lb.

Oil—Carbon, 110 degs, 9¼c; headlight, 10c; water white, 10½c; Elaine, 14c; Ohio W. W. test, 10c; miners' Lewis, 52@53c; special brands, 26@43c; prime refined, 28c; linseed, 58c.

Canned Goods.

Next to the interest shown in tomatoes the greatest amount of excitement is in canned pumpkin, which is very scarce and high. Quotations now rule at about 90 cents, as compared with a range of from 55 to 60 cents in former years, when average crop conditions have prevailed. The demand is very strong, supplies proving wholly inadequate. Corn is steady but quiet, while peas are firm and in good demand. Gallon apples are in strong demand.

Standard pie peaches, 80@85c gallon; pie peaches, $2 50@3 00; California L. C. peaches, $1 90@2 35; Maryland peaches, $1 20@1 75; California Y. F., $1 80@2 00; corn, fancy brands, 90c@$1 00; corn, 82½@85c; California cherries, white, $2 00@2 25; lima beans, $1 20@1 40; soaked lima beans, 75@90c; string do, 65c@$1 25; marrowfat peas, 90c@$1 10; early June peas, $1 00@1 80; soaked peas, 55@65c; New York apples, gal. cans, $3 25 doz; pineapples, $1 70@2 20; damson plums, $1 00; California plums, $1 35@1 60; raspberries, 85@90c; gooseberries, 85c@$1 00; standard tomatoes, $1 15@1 20; fancy, $1 35@1 50; salmon, doz, 1-lb cans, $1 20@2 30; succotash, 1-lb cans, 65c@$1 40; chipped beef, 1-lb cans, $2 25@2 75; and 2-lb corned and roast beef, cans, $1 75@2 40; mackerel, 2 and 3-lb cans, broiled, $1 75@2 90; sardines, domestic, ¼s, $3 25@3 35; mustards, ¾s, $2 70; French, $7 00@14 25; oysters, 1-lb full weight, $1 00@1 35; 2-lb full weight, $1 80; 1-lb lunch, flat cans, $1 10.

Dried Fruits.

There is a tolerable degree of activity in dried and evaporated fruits and some buying for the holiday trade has commenced, although the real rush for Thanksgiving has not yet gotten under way. The feature in primal markets is the stronger tone of currants, while raisins are showing more strength. The demand for prunes is active in a small way.

Evaporated apricots, in bags, 10½@11c; 25-lb boxes, 11½@12c; apples, in bulk, 8¼c; 1-lb cartons, 10@11c; peaches, 8@12c; raisins, 1-lb pkgs, 9@9½c; raisins, Muscatels, 2 and 4 crown, 50-lb boxes, 7½@7¾c per lb; seeded, 1-lb packages, 8@8½c; Ondarie Valencia, 7½c; raspberries, 26@27c; currants, cleaned, 25 and 50-lb packages, 8½@8¾c; California prunes, 4½@7½c.

Fruits and Produce.

Activity continues in the potato market, especially in sales from track in yards, where prices are steadily advancing. Store trade has not yet shown a proportionate increase, but is carried on upon a steadier basis as general conditions improve. Receipts yesterday were 20 cars, which was more than on the day before, but increased demand has brought down the previously accumulated stock to such an extent that the growing receipts are readily handled. There is no change in sweets, but the market is steady and prices are firmly held, with demand good. Cabbage is arriving in liberal quantities, receipts being very heavy, but kraut manufacturers are now buying largely, and the situation is firm in tone. Celery is better value, stronger demand having caused quotations to steady up and advance slightly. String beans have not been coming in very freely and prices are much higher.

Apples—Common, $2 00@2 50 per bbl; fancy, $3 50@4 50; California, per box, $1 90@2 00.

Honey—White comb, 15@17c; New York white clover, 17@18c; buckwheat, 11@12c.

Quinces—Per bu, $1 50@2 50; per bbl, $5 00@6 00.

Tropical Fruits and Nuts.

While no price changes occurred there is a notable improvement in the movement of lemons, which were very slow, but have commenced to receive more attention and are going out much more freely. Orange trade is steady, although probably a little slower than at the close of last week. Figs are strong and active; there was an estimated crop in Smyrna of 45,000,000 pounds, and the quality of the fruit is said to be good. Nuts are slow but steady, no price changes having occurred so far this week.

Limes—Box, $1 00.

Lemons—California, $3 00@3 50.

Pineapples—Florida, crate, $3 50@3 75.

California pears—Nellis, per box, $2 00@2 25; Clairgeau, $2 50; [illegible], $2 25@2 50.

Coconuts—Per bag, $4 00.

Oranges—Jamaica, per box, $2 75@3 00; per bbl, $5 00; Florida, $3 00@3 50.

Almeria grapes—Per keg, $4 50@6 00.

Dates—Per lb, 4c; figs, new, 9@12c.

Pomegranates—Per box, $2 75.

Almonds—14c; filberts, 11c; English walnuts, 11c; Brazil nuts, 12c; pecans, 11c; mixed nuts, 11c; peanuts, jumbos, 5½c; fancy handpicked, 5c per lb; chestnuts, 9@10c; shellbarks, $1 50@2 00 per bu; walnuts, per bu, 50@60c; St. John's bread, per lb, 4c; California papershell almonds, 16c; Italian chestnuts, 6c.

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

The butter market gives further evidence of firmness in high grade creamery, with under grades less responsive to strong conditions surrounding the situation. The advance of Monday was fully warranted by circumstances, and is being easily maintained. Fresh eggs are very scarce and quotations are still moving upward, 24 cents being now the lowest point, and much of the selling done at 25 cents. The cheese situation shows no real improvement; local demand is regular and quotations are unchanged, but the market is easy on account of continued depression in New York.

Butter—Elgin creamery, prints, 26@26½c; do tubs, 25@25½c; Ohio and Pennsylvania creamery, 23@23½c; dairy butter, 18@19c; fresh country roll, 16@17c; cooking butter, 14@16c.

Cheese—New York full cream, 11@11½c; Ohio, 11@11½c; ¾ cream, Ohio, 9½@9¾c; Ohio Swiss, tubs, 13@14c; Wisconsin Swiss, tubs, 13@13½c; 20-lb block cheese, Swiss, new, 14½@15c; 5-lb brick cheese, 13@13½c; limburger, new, 12½@13c.

Eggs—Fresh, candled, doz, 24@25c; storage, 18@18½c.

Poultry.

Receipts of spring chickens are abundant this week, but the market is steady, influenced by a good demand, which is constantly improving. Turkeys are less plentiful than chickens, but indications are that enough will arrive before the close of the week to insure protection for all orders that may be placed by retailers in anticipation of the trade on Saturday. Quotations are all held at same figures as ruled at the beginning of the week.

Chickens—Live hens, per lb, 8½@9c; springers, 9½@10½c; roosters, 5@6c; turkeys, old, 9@10c; do spring, 10@11c; old turkeys, dressed, 14@15c; spring turkeys, dressed, 15@16c; hens, dressed, 13@14c; fresh spring broilers, dressed, 13@14c; geese, live, 75c@1 00 per pair; ducks, 10@11c; do dressed, 13@15c.

Provisions.

Smoked meats—Hams, 18 lbs and up, 10½c; medium hams, 14 to 18 lbs, 10¾c; small hams under 14 lbs, 11c; skinned hams, 10¾c; boneless boiled hams, 17c; California hams, 7¾c; shoulders (New York cut), 8½c; shoulders, skinned, 9c.

Breakfast bacon—Rib, 8 to 10 lbs, 12½c; ribs, 10 to 12 lbs, 12¼c; do back strips, 11½c; do clear, 8 to 10 lbs, 12¾c; do 10 to 12 lbs, 11½c; do back strips, 11½c.

Dry salt meats—Sides (extra short clears), 9c; bellies (heavy), 20 to 25 lbs, 9½c; bellies, under 20 lbs, 9½c.

Dry salt smoked meats—Sides (extra short clears), 9¾c; bellies (heavy), 20 to 25 lbs, 10c; bellies, under 20 lbs, 10½c.

Lard—Pure lard (tierces), 9½c. The advance for smaller packages over tierces is as follows: Barrels (about 250 lbs), ⅛c; ½-bbls (about 100 lbs), ¼c; fancy tubs net 60 lbs, ⅛c; wooden buckets, net 20 lbs, ⅜c; 50-lb tin pails (1 to 2 in a case), ¼c; 10-lb tin pails (6 in a case), ⅝c; 5-lb tin pails (12 in a case), ⅝c; 3-lb tin pails (20 in a case), 1c.

Horse Market.

Retail selling continues to be slow, the market showing the usual fall inactivity. Before railroad sidings were in such general use in the iron and steel mills of this section, more hauling was necessary and fall and winter horse trade was as good, if not better than that of the spring and summer. Now, however, there is an inclination on the part of buyers to do their purchasing in the spring to avoid having to keep stock and pay for feed during the inactive winter months.

At the weekly auction sale of the Pittsburgh horse exchange yesterday there was considerable improvement apparent as compared with the sale of last Tuesday. More bidders were present and about 100 horses were disposed of at figures ruling higher than those of a week ago. Draught horses brought from $100 to $175, driving horses from $100 to $150 and common stock from $25 to $55. All offerings were sold.

Great Improvements in Hazelwood

EIGHT HOUSES BRING $58,000

Some Good Sales Just Closed in Gertrude and Winston Streets.

HOUSES COSTING $1,000,000 IN TWO WARDS

More Houses for Bellevue—Architects Greatly Pleased Over Polytechnic School—Office Room Going Fast.

The Union Realty Company has closed another deal for Hazelwood property at figures that show the confidence of shrewd investors in that part of the city. They sold for Sadler, Martin & Evans to a local investor eight modern brick houses in Gertrude street, Twenty-third ward, for $58,000. The lots have a frontage of 30 feet and a depth of 150 feet. The houses are all brick with nine rooms each, and are provided with every modern convenience. Two other similar houses in Winston street, same ward, were sold yesterday to a McKeesport man for $10,000.

William Jenkinson, president of the Bellevue National bank, is building two more $10,000 residences in the south side of Lincoln avenue, near Grant avenue, Bellevue. The lots are 45x130 feet each, and adjoin the property on which two similar houses were lately built by Mr. Jenkinson. The houses will be of buff brick and will have 11 rooms each.

Leahy Brothers, East End, sold for J. H. O'Donnell to G. W. Wurzell an improved lot, 22x107 feet, in Lloyd street for $5,500. J. J. Leahy is preparing to build three houses in Lloyd street, near Reynolds street, Twenty-second ward. The houses will have nine rooms and cost $7,500 each. Elizabeth Wessel is building two houses and George B. Hess one of the same kind in Lloyd street.

The Union Realty Company sold to Adolph Beller a lot having a frontage of 50 feet in Sprague avenue by a depth of 156 feet, being lot No. 253 Sunnyside plan. The consideration was $700.

James E. Glass sold the following lots at Amherst Terrace: Lot No. 539 to Thomas S. Crago for $135; lot No. 40 to Maggie M. Glass for $90; lot No. 71 to D. R. Brown, for $135; lot No. 709 to C. A. Brown, for $540; lot No. 585 to A. B. Beese, for $90.

W. L. Scott & Company, Allegheny, sold for Robert Carson, Jr., to the Hon. Morrison Foster lot No. 8 in Neville Island City, having erected thereon a new frame house of seven rooms and all improvements, for $2,500.

A. C. McComb & Company have closed an exchange deal by which M. W. Lennox, Parker, Pa., trades a farm in Nottoway county, Va., containing 229 acres to Mrs. Jennie Ray, Utica, Pa., a 50-acre farm in Venango county. The consideration was $4,000. The same firm have passed the final papers by which R. L. Hickman transfers a lot in Fifth avenue, McKeesport, and two lots in Senate street, Driving Park plan, Versailles township, for $4,000. They have also sold a farm containing 115 acres near Salina, Westmoreland county, for D. S. Atkinson and the J. M. Peoples estate of Greensburg, William J. Detman being the purchaser. The consideration was $2,250. Also a 95-acre farm in Hopewell township, Beaver county, for T. J. Marshall, to B. F. Smith of Ohio for $4,000.

William Kossler sold to Emma Dorow a lot, 25x150 feet, in the west side of Wabash street, near Warden street, Thirty-sixth ward, for $1,350.

Andrew W. Mellon sold to Joseph McClure five lots having a frontage of 100 feet in Berg avenue and a depth of 140 feet to Patterson street, Twenty-seventh ward, for $1,250.

Kirk Q. Bigham sold to William Krapp an improved lot, 25x100 feet, in the east side of Edith street, Thirty-fifth ward, for $900.

Constantin Waldvogel sold to Henry Bricker a lot, 20x47 feet, in the east side of Howley street, Sixteenth ward, for $1,400. Also to Henry Bricker, Sr., a lot 20x47 feet, in Cabinet street, Sixteenth ward, for $2,000. Both lots are improved.

The Union Realty Company sold for H. N. Sauler to Elizabeth Kramer a lot, 50x100 feet, in Terrace avenue, Fourteenth ward, for $3,100.

W. A. Herron & Sons sold for Joseph Horner a lot, 50x135 feet, in the west side of Pacific avenue near Harriet street, Twentieth ward, for $5,000.

George Boyd sold to Charles W. Motts a lot, 20x100 feet, in the south side of Clarissa street, Thirteenth ward, for $2,200.

The deed was registered yesterday in the sale by Frank F. Nicola, to S. Jarvis Adams of the property in the northwest side of Wood street, near Fifth avenue, 19x80 feet front, for $76,000. The lot is improved with a four-story brick block.

John J. Hughes sold to Patrick Hughes a lot, 25x81 feet, in the south side of Mohawk street, Fourteenth ward, for $175.

Marshall Bros. sold for Robert R. Marshall to Gaston Lecollier a lot, 20x60 feet, in the south side of Monticello street near Murtland avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $2,300. The lot is improved.

William K. McElroy sold to the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company a lot, 51x113 feet, in the southwest side of Thirty-ninth street near South street, Fifteenth ward, for $2,350. Same party sold to the Manor Real Estate and Trust Company a lot, 25x113 feet, in Thirty-ninth street, same ward, for $1,500.

John C. Lewis sold to the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railway Company a lot, 60x120 feet, at the northwest corner of Josephine and South Twenty-first streets, Twenty-fifth ward, for $13,100. The lot adjoins the Macbeth-Evans Glass Company's property.

William M. Bell sold to Sarah Jane Cain a lot, 64x159 feet, in the south side of Irwin avenue near Wightman street, Twenty-second ward, for $7,700.

Two sections of residence property including 252 houses that cost over $1,000,000 are being filled with desirable tenants. The United Real Estate and Construction Company has been building in Oakland for a year or more and has practically completed 150 houses in Craft avenue, Fourteenth ward. The houses are all of brick with six and eight rooms each. They are finished in hardwood and have all modern conveniences. The cost is from $4,500 to $6,000 each, or a total of at least $750,000. The houses are situated in Kennett square, and Morgan, Ophelia and Carolina streets. The same company also has four flats nearly completed in Craft avenue, near Forbes street.

Negotiations are on for the purchase by a local contractor of six lots, 50x120 feet each, in Sewickley. The lots are part of a plan of four acres which was purchased by Margaret M. Miller from John Montgomery, for $12,500, the brokers being Joseph T. Rankin & Co. They front in Hopkins and Young streets and Blackburn avenue and will be improved with houses to cost $2,500 each.

The other block of new houses containing 102 buildings is in Hazelwood. The houses, most of which are now ready for occupancy, are situated in Blair, Elizabeth, Courtland, and Lafayette streets, Twenty-third ward. They were built by the Twin City Improvement Company, at a cost of from $1,500 to $3,500 each, making a total outlay of about $225,000. These houses are only 15 minutes' walk from Braddock and Homestead. They are brick and frame and have from four to six rooms each. All the houses in Craft avenue and in Hazelwood are rented, many of them having been "forfeited" weeks before they are finished. Both the companies which built up these sections of the city were financed by Delavan & Co. The Real Estate Trust Company has charge of the Craft avenue property and Samuel W. Black & Co. manage the Hazelwood residences.

Applications for office room in the Frick building are coming in to the agent, John E. Shaw, so rapidly that the space will all be engaged before the allotments are made. This will probably be about December 1. Several floors of 13,000 square feet each have already been engaged by manufacturing concerns, and the partitions and arrangements are being made to suit their wants. On other floors the applications are for from 500 to 5,000 feet space. After these allotments are made the offices will be arranged to suit the tenants. Many of the leases are for periods of three and five years, and the rents run from $1.50 to $2 a square foot.

J. W. Turner has closed an exchange deal by which Edwin C. Haslett trades to P. F. Poorbaugh, two lots in the south side of Homer avenue, Wilkins place, and two lots in the west side of Risher avenue, near Marion street, for an eight-room house at the northwest corner of Risher and Marion streets. The lots are valued at $1,500 and the houses at $3,500, Mr. Haslett paying the balance in cash. Mr. Poorbaugh will build two houses on the lots at once.

W. A. Herron & Sons sold for Joseph Horner a lot, 50x130 feet, in Pacific avenue, near Harriett street, for $5,000. The purchaser will improve at once with a $10,000 residence.

Joseph H. Fester has let the contract for the erection of 10 brick houses in Watson boulevard and adjacent streets, Allegheny. The houses will cost from $4,000 to $6,000 each, and will have 10 rooms.

Building permits were issued yesterday to Joseph C. Eicher for nine two-story brick veneered dwellings in Brushton avenue, Thirty-seventh ward, to cost $18,000; William Crumson a two-story brick dwelling in Kedron avenue, Twenty-first ward, to cost $3,200; S. S. Brown, two two-story frame dwellings in Second avenue, Twenty-third ward, to cost $4,700; Terrence Shields, two two-story frame dwellings in Lawndale street, Thirty-seventh ward, to cost $3,500; L. Schuckert, two-story frame dwelling in Walter street, Thirty-first ward, to cost $2,400; R. H. Wick, three two-story frame dwellings in Catherine street, Thirty-second ward, to cost $3,000; the Rev. A. D. Zahniser, two-story frame dwelling in the same street, to cost $800; J. M. Bailey, two-story frame dwelling in the same street, to cost $1,000; Frank Denkle, one-story brick storage house in Harkins alley, Twenty-fifth ward, to cost $700; P., C., C., & St. L. railway, one-story frame freight shed in Liberty avenue, Ninth ward, to cost $600; Mrs. E. D. Faust, one-story frame shop in Liberty avenue, Twentieth ward, to cost $200.

BORDER STATE FIGHTS ENDED

Roosevelt Settles Republican Quarrels in Kentucky and Virginia.

SENATOR DEBOE GRACEFULLY YIELDS

A Great Grandson of Henry Clay Selected for United States Judge of the Western District of the Old Dominion—A Popular Choice.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—The announcement of the settlement of the contest for the Kentucky internal revenue collectorship was made today at the conclusion of a conference at the White House participated in by the president, Senator Deboe, Representative Boreing and Commissioner of Internal Revenue Yerkes. The formal appointment was announced late this afternoon.

The contest for the vacancy created by the resignation last Saturday of Collector C. E. Sapp of the Fifth (Louisville) district was brief but spirited. The president's inclination from the first was to appoint Mr. Craft, but some strong opposition developed against him and the matter was considered very carefully. Senator Deboe, who is a friend of former Collector Sapp, had vigorously opposed the appointment of Mr. Craft, but at today's conference withdrew his opposition and gave Craft his indorsement. The announcement of Mr. Craft's appointment followed. Representative Boreing from the first had supported Mr. Craft, who had the substantial indorsement of the Republican organization of Kentucky. Ex-Gov. Bradley, who was not present at today's conference, also supported Mr. Craft.

L. N. Comingore, whom Mr. Lieberth will succeed as collector of the Sixth (Covington) district of Kentucky, was a candidate for reappointment.

At the conclusion of the cabinet meeting today it was announced that Henry Clay McDowell of Big Stone Gap, Va., had been selected for appointment as United States district judge of the Western district of Virginia. It is not known when the appointment will be made formally, but it is expected in a day or two.

Judge McDowell's selection was made after the claims of several candidates had been considered carefully and the president had been supplied with full information concerning them by their respective friends. An hour before the cabinet meeting ex-Representative Bowden and Chairman Park Agnew of the Republican state committee of Virginia saw the president about the judgeship. They did not present a candidate, but urged the president, in making the appointment, to select a resident of the eastern district. They were inclined to the belief, after their interview with the president, that he would appoint Judge Lewis, although they thought that Judge McDowell, who is a resident of the western district, had a good chance for the appointment.

Judge McDowell is a Republican and one of his warm supporters for the appointment was Commissioner of Internal Revenue Yerkes. Judge McDowell is a great-grandson of Henry Clay and is connected with some of the oldest families of Virginia and Kentucky. He is a lawyer of fine attainments.

EASTERN FARMERS' PLAINT.

Can't Meet Competition from the West Aided by Cheap Freights.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—The industrial commission today made public its review of evidence taken before the committee on the subjects of agricultural labor. Among other subjects discussed is that of agricultural depression, of which the commission thus speaks:

The cause most often assigned for the depression of agriculture in the eastern states is the increased production due to the opening of western lands in advance of the natural demand, especially through the agency of liberal land laws and grants of land in aid of railroad construction. The competition of the west has been rendered especially severe by the policy of the railroads in making freight rates relatively low for long distances. The old staple products having thus become unprofitable in the east, it has been necessary for farmers to change their methods and vary the character of their crops, taking up especially the culture of products which are not easily transported long distances. Thus, truck farming has largely superseded cereal growing along the Atlantic coast, but farmers in the North Atlantic states now complain of the severe competition of states farther south in this industry, and much the same may be said of fruit-growing. Even so perishable a commodity as milk is transported much longer distances than formerly, since the introduction of refrigerator cars.

FARES TO THE CHARLESTON EXPOSITION TO BE FIXED.

Central Passenger Association Will Have to Take Into Consideration the Rate War on Tickets East from St. Louis and Kansas City Instituted by the Wabash—Compromise Not Lived Up to.

Local members of the Central Passenger association left last evening for Chicago to attend the regular monthly meeting of that organization to be held today. Several matters of much importance will be considered. The one interesting the greatest number of persons is the fixing of rates for the coming South Carolina, Interstate and West Indian exposition at Charleston.

Another question to be brought up is the reconsideration of the action taken at the last meeting in discontinuing the issuance of trip permits to clergymen, allowing only annual permits. Many protests have been made against this ruling, it is said, and organized opposition to the scheme is expected.

It is likely also that the old question of the Wabash fast service to the east from Kansas City and St. Louis by way of Hannibal will again be brought before the meeting. This dispute last summer cut rates to about half the regular fares, when, with D. B. Martin as arbitrator, a compromise was effected. This compromise General Passenger Agent C. A. Crane of the Wabash says has not been put into effect by the competing lines as was intended. On a recent visit to this city President Ramsey of the same road said that the close of the Pan-American exposition would see the resumption of the contention of the Wabash. As long as the exposition was in progress all lines had all the business they could handle.

Railway Club to Meet Friday.

At 2 o'clock Friday afternoon the second meeting of the new Railway Club of Pittsburg will be held at the Hotel Lincoln. The club was formed a month ago and is composed of railroad men connected with the mechanical and operating departments of roads and of those brought into contact with the railroad men through the manufacture and sale of railroad supplies. About 50 members were enrolled at the start. Since the meeting many letters have been received by Secretary John D. Conway and other officers of the club so that, when the charter list closes after Friday's meeting, it is thought that over 200 members will be included. The club will publish a monthly magazine of proceedings and discussions.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The Central Passenger association sold in October 23,131 mileage books, which is the record for any month in the four years of the association's history.

Considerable local interest has followed the efforts of General Manager J. B. Herbert to overcome the strike of switchmen on the Rio Grande. Mr. Herbert is a former Pittsburgher.

The Western Passenger association has finally decided to increase the mileage credentials on the interchangeable mileage book from 2,000 to 3,000 miles.

Trunk line presidents are expected at a meeting next week to select a successor to the late J. F. Goddard as commissioner of the Trunk Line association.

DEBATE MARKS MEETING'S END

General Committee of Freedmen's Aid Society Closes Its Session.

TILT OVER ELECTION OF SECRETARIES

Motion to Add Two Field Agents to the List Was Voted Down After Brilliant Arguments Had Been Made by Members.

The general committee of the Freedman's Aid and Southern Educational society completed its work late yesterday afternoon and adjourned. This morning the general missionary committee will meet in Christ church, East End. This is the most important gathering in the church, with the one exception of the general conference.

Yesterday the chief topic of interest before the Freedman's Aid society was the question of the election of additional field secretaries or agents to canvass the conferences in behalf of the cause.

A motion that two field agents be elected for one year and to have a salary not exceeding $2,500 was finally lost. Most of the bishops favored the motion. The secretaries of the society opposed it. Bishop J. M. Walden was also an opponent. Dr. John Pearson of Philadelphia in an able speech called the committee's attention to the heavy administrative expenses of the society. He declared that over 10 per cent of the total receipts from all sources is consumed in running the affairs of the society. He advocated the freer use of literature and the press to call attention to the financial needs of the cause. The Rev. Dr. Hickman objected to the election of the agents because the people of the churches might get the impression that the society was needlessly creating fat jobs for somebody.

Bishop McCabe's Position.

Bishop McCabe, who arrived in the morning, then took the floor. He said that instead of sitting at his desk and issuing circulars a missionary should go around and personally present the cause to the conferences and churches, and leave the correspondence to his clerks. He argued for the election of secretaries, saying that he knew of a case where a secretary had raised during one trip enough money to equal the salary paid him for five years. He concluded: "I am in favor of the election of two secretaries. I want to see old New England stirred up to do something more than talk. In Boston you can always get the preachers to talk in behalf of the black man, and the people to pass resolutions to help him, but when it comes to passing around the collection basket, I would rather trust a staid Pennsylvanian or a pro-Marylander to put his money in."

The Rev. Dr. H. G. Jackson, alluding to Dr. Pearson's attack on the running expenses of the institution, declared that the society is operated with the greatest economy. Said he: "We are the most economical church in the world." He also stated that, in proportion to the great work done, the number of officials is very small.

Dr. M. C. B. Mason, the colored secretary who has attracted much attention at the convention and always says something worth listening to, said that he thought the time was inopportune for the election of additional secretaries.

Comparison Resented.

Bishop Andrews humorously resented the invidious comparison made between the benevolence of the west and the east. He told of the way the people of the east had supported the cause, and declared that they of the east did not need "that thoughtful and tender care that some seem to think."

Bishop Mallalieu, who is a Bostonian, also put in a word for the east. Concerning Bishop McCabe's remarks, he said: "His freedom of speech concerning New England was due to the fact that he does not know much about us. The fact is, the only state in this glorious union that can shoulder up to Massachusetts is the glorious old state of Pennsylvania."

The Rev. Dr. Levi Gilbert, editor of the Western Christian Advocate, made a plea for increasing the staff of secretaries and declared his belief in the importance of the work. He said: "I regard the negro problem as the most tremendous not only before the church, but before the nation."

Bishop Fitzgerald, who is regarded as the keenest parliamentarian on the Episcopal board, blocked the flow of eloquence by moving the previous question. Dr. Pearson tried to stop proceedings entirely by moving that the consideration be indefinitely postponed. His motion was quickly lost. An amendment moving the election of one agent was lost by a vote of 22 to 19. Bishop Joyce then put the original motion, calling for the election of two secretaries. It was lost by 22 to 18.

Bishops Andrews tried to bring up the question in another form, but a motion by Bishop Foss to table the entire matter indefinitely prevailed.

Bishop Walden moved that an additional appropriation of $500 be made for Meharry Medical college, conditional upon the same amount being raised from outside sources.

It was decided to send an appeal to the presiding elders, and through them to the pastors and their congregations, presenting the claims of the work among the freedmen. The appeal will be signed by the bishop of the district to which it is to be sent. After the reading of the minutes, Bishop Joyce declared the meeting adjourned.

The appropriations from the general fund for the maintenance of schools is as follows: Schools among colored people, $75,425; schools among white people, $20,200; legal services, $900; insurance and taxes, $2,000; printing reports and the Christian Educator, $1,800; postage on circulating matter and correspondence, $800; general committee expenses, $1,000; board of managers, $350; interest bonds and loans, $700; contingent fund, unexpected outlays, repairs, etc., $1,700; salaries of corresponding secretaries, $8,000; traveling expenses of secretaries and agents, $1,800; incidentals, $450; special traveling expense ordered by the board, $250.

Here's a Pointer.

Take a postal card, address it to the Cranitonic Hair Food Co., 526 West Broadway, New York City, and write on the reverse side something like this: "Please send me a copy of the 48 page illustrated book entitled Hair Care and a sample of the Cranitonic Hair Food Products, which the Commercial Gazette says you are sending free and postpaid to people who ask for them." Sign your name, give your address, street and number and mail the card. Then wait a few days and you will receive by mail a sample of the most exquisite French toilet preparation ever offered to the public.

If you will write a letter, enclosing a small lock of hair or a sample of the daily combings, and state if you have failing hair, dandruff or itching scalp, the physicians of the Cranitonic Institute will make a microscopical examination of the hair, send you a report upon its condition and prescribe curative treatment free of charge. 111h

FLINN MEN ARE GUESSING

MORE DISMISSALS FROM OFFICE ARE SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

It Is Charged That Men Affiliated With the Old City Organization Professed Loyalty to the Republican Party, but Quietly Advised Their Friends to Vote the Democratic Ticket.

The Flinn movement to force Recorder Brown out of office will probably be brought to a crisis today, as the recorder is expected to remove at least one, and possibly more, officeholders who are suspected of being disloyal to the city administration. One official slated for removal is Police Magistrate Samuel F. Kerr of the Fifteenth ward. The recorder has decided to dismiss Magistrate Kerr, and yesterday intimated that he would do so today.

Mr. Kerr accuses Common Councilman J. W. Jack of circulating stories for the purpose of prejudicing the recorder against him and securing his removal, but Select Councilman John Upperman of the Fifteenth ward has stated that he is counting upon the support of Magistrate Kerr in his campaign for re-election. It is said that while Mr. Upperman professed loyalty to the state Republican ticket he told certain parties to vote the Democratic ticket. This charge is made, not by Councilman Jack, as Mr. Upperman alleges, but by those who have no personal interest in local politics.

The same policy is said to have been pursued by other Flinn leaders throughout the county. Administration men claim that the county and city committees would not permit any person to speak at their meetings unless he would agree to be "for" the old organization and against the city administration. They say also that an analysis of the vote at the last state election shows that Justice Potter and Mr. Harris were cut in the districts where the local machine leaders reside to put Coroner McGeary ahead of the state ticket.

Organization men admit that their fight upon Director Bigelow is to get some reason that can be used in asking for the removal of Recorder Brown. Neither Recorder Brown nor Director Bigelow were worried yesterday by the efforts of the Flinn leaders in this direction.

"When the governor gets through with those fellows they will be a sadder but a wiser lot," said Director Bigelow. Mr. Bigelow said he would continue work on the plans for the filtration plant with all possible haste as he had done, but would not make an estimate when he could have them completed. He said that Senator Flinn wanted to bid for the work through another party, notwithstanding that Senator Flinn has said that he will not be a bidder.

Director Bigelow also denied a canard published yesterday in an evening paper to the effect that he intended to change the plans and to provide for a mechanical filter instead of sand filtration. Mr. Bigelow said the charge was as false as the statements in the report of the filtration committee of councils.

Allen Hazen, consulting filtration engineer, arrived yesterday from New York to discuss the filtration plans with Director Bigelow. Mr. Hazen disputed the charges made in the council committee's report and corroborated the statement of Director Bigelow that the work on the plans had been stopped on April 5, when George W. Wilson was director of public works. Mr. Hazen said that the work had been stopped at the order of Director Wilson. He said nothing was done after that on the plans until Mr. Bigelow went into office.

Additional evidence that the Flinn leaders do not expect to succeed in their efforts to bring about the removal of Recorder Brown is shown in the resolution on the filtration report adopted by councils. The resolution orders Director Bigelow to complete the filtration plans and send them to councils for inspection by December 2. If the Flinnites really believed that the recorder were to be removed they would hardly expect Director Bigelow to remain at the head of the department of public works until December 2.

Director Andrew Fulton was suffering with a severe cold yesterday and did not go to his office. Consequently, the scheduled meeting of the police pension board was postponed. Sol Coulson, superintendent of detectives, is expected to resign at the next meeting of the board and to be retired from the police service at half pay.

CONSTITUTION RATIFIED.

Its Opponents, However, Assert That It Was Accomplished by Fraud.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Nov. 12.—The new constitution has been ratified by a large majority. It will probably reach 30,000, and will not fall below 25,000.

The anti-ratificationists charge fraud in a number of counties, notably Jefferson, Dallas and Pickens. This county gave 2,500 majority for the new constitution. General Shelly, chairman of the anti-ratificationists, claims that he has won the fight but rather indicates that he does not expect to have it so recorded. He states, however, that he will push the fight to the bitter end.

More Union Station Troubles.

Encouraged by its success in the trouble over the Eleventh street span of the Ft. Wayne approaches to the Union station, the structural steel workers' union has decided not to allow the work on the big train-shed of the station to be built by non-union men. The contract for both pieces of work was given to Andrew Brann aand was started on a non-union basis. Considerable trouble was caused by the union men and finally Recorder Brown was asked for a special detail of police to protect the workmen. This was refused. Shortly afterwards the job was turned over to the American Bridge Company to be finished by union men. The same conditions apply to the trainshed work.

EASY TO FIND

When you find a medicine that makes your regular food taste good, when you find a medicine that strengthens a weak stomach—then you know you're going to put some flesh on.

Scott's Emulsion does these things. We recommend it whenever the system needs more flesh. If you are thin and able to eat begin regular doses. That's your part. Scott's Emulsion will do the rest. Not flabby—but solid flesh.
